BUILDING JUST, DIVERSE AND DEMOCRATIC COMMUNITIES

The United States has been called a “melting pot,” but the reality of life in this country, historically and contemporaneously, has been one of exclusion – exclusion of the poor, the non-White, the non-Christian, people with disabilities, women, gay men, lesbians, bisexual and transgendered people. The United States has been held up by some as the model democracy, and the current federal administration claims to be spreading democracy throughout the world. But the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan and the impact on the people there can hardly be called democratic. Moreover, the U.S. government chooses to ignore the plight of others, such as those in Darfur, if their suffering does not serve our nation’s political or economic purposes.

Of course, the disparity between rhetoric and social reality is nothing new. Sociologists, including the founders of SSSP, have been studying and writing about it – particularly in terms of its consequences on the quality of life of large segments of the population – for decades. But at a time when the radical Right is attempting to – and often succeeding in – dismantling social programs to promote “smaller government,” denying civil rights to individuals and groups it deems “immoral” or a “threat to national security,” bolstering the wealth of the already wealthiest individuals and corporations in the name of “global free enterprise,” it is critical for progressive sociologists – as researchers, teachers, and activists – to reclaim, interrogate, and re-vision the concepts of justice, diversity, democracy, and community.

At our 2006 meeting in Montréal, we will explore such questions as: How can we ensure justice and democratic processes in a political climate that fosters mistrust of difference and uses the threat of terrorism to legitimate rolling back rights and increasing military spending and intervention? What do community and democracy mean in the context of globalization? How might we overcome the prevailing attitude of “guilt fatigue” so that social welfare spending is not seen as “charity,” but rather as a communal effort, a partnership between citizens and their government to work toward a prosperous future shared by all? What must be done to reprioritize the U.S. national agenda so that strategies for achieving peace and justice are at the forefront, rather than dismissed as “liberal pie in the sky?” The Canadian location of the meeting offers an ideal vantage point for a comparative analysis of differences in laws, social and economic policies, and public opinion.

These and many other related and equally significant questions present enormous challenges, but it behooves SSSP to take a leadership role in answering them. Our mission, after all, is to develop and apply research that makes a difference. Our meeting in Montréal is an opportunity to energize, mobilize, and strategize across national borders, and I encourage our entire membership, and especially our Canadian members, to attend and participate. As artist and poet M. C. Richards wrote, “Freedom is presence, not absence. Centering is the act of bringing in, not leaving out. It is brought about not by force, but by coordination.”

WELCOME TO MONTRÉAL!

Welcome to Montréal, which will embrace you with its diversity of cultures, sights, sounds and culinary pleasures!

Things to do and see are endless in this beautiful city and its surroundings; and there is definitely a lot to do in downtown. For a spectacular bird's-eye view of Montréal take a very short taxi ride, or just hike up to Mount Royal Park. While at the park relax by the Beaver Lake, which is situated at the top of the "Mountain." To discover some of Montréal's history, go for a quick stroll from the hotel to the Old Port. There, you will find many historic sites and buildings including the City Hall (275 Notre Dame East), Château Ramezay (280 Notre-Dame East), and the Notre-Dame Basilica (110 Notre-Dame West). During summer the Old Port is always bustling along the St. Lawrence River. It is a great place to go for a walk, bike or just do some shopping. There are a multitude of little souvenir stores as well as stalls selling hand-made crafts and jewelry where you can find great buys to take home. Another historic site is the Saint-Joseph Oratory (3800 Chemin Queen Mary). Getting there requires a short cab ride from the hotel but it is definitely worth seeing.

If you prefer to visit some of the many museums of Montréal, McGill University's McCord Museum of Canadian History is a mere three blocks north from the hotel (690 Sherbrooke W.). They have an amazing First Nations collection as well as a photographic archive and an exhibition of Canadian costumes. Along the same street you will find Montréal Museum of Fine Arts (1380 Sherbrooke W., corner of Crescent). Their permanent collection is a rich mix of Canadian and European paintings. The Museum also has a permanent exhibition of antiquities, Islamic art, and art from China, Korea, Japan and India. For those of you who are interested in contemporary arts, Contemporary Art Museum (Métro Place des Arts) is the place to see. They always host interesting exhibitions and have permanent collections of printmaking, sculpture, photography and of course paintings.

For a relaxing time outdoors you must visit the Botanical Gardens (4101 Sherbrooke East, Métro Pie-IX). This fabulous place is the home of countless flowers, plants and trees. Among its many charms are a beautiful Japanese Garden, an Arboretum, a Butterfly House, and a First Nations Garden. Across the street from the Gardens you will find the Biodôme. This is a great place not only for kids but also for persons of all ages. Biodôme recreates some of the most beautiful ecosystems of the Americas including the Tropical Forest, the Arctic and the St. Lawrence Marine Ecosystem.

If you enjoy shopping, you're in the right city. Just walk two blocks north from the hotel to Ste. Catherine Street and you will see a wide variety of stores and underground shopping malls. Those of you who are tired of chain stores must head east to St. Laurent St., and especially to St. Denis St. Both streets are full of small stores selling household items, jewelry, clothing and much more. When you need a break from shopping, relax at one of the many cafés or bistros.

Feeling hungry? Montréal's restaurants are here for you to discover the culinary delights of countless cultures. If you feel like French cuisine and want to remain in walking-distance from the hotel, the Old Port is a good place to go. Going a little further east, a favorite with the local Montréalers is the French restaurant L'Express (3927 St. Denis). For meat lovers, Schwartz's (3895 St. Laurent) – Montréal's famous smoked-meat place – is the restaurant to go. St. Laurent North is also known for the best Portuguese restaurants in town. My favorite is Jano's (right next door from Schwartz's) where you will find reasonably priced and delicious Portuguese food. China Town (Métro Champ-de-Mars) is also there to offer you a wide selection of cheap and good food. Another great place to pick a restaurant is along Prince Arthur St. (corner St. Laurent). This street is closed to traffic and is a lively place to go for a walk, to have a look at the stalls situated all along Prince-Arthur and of course to eat. While enjoying the warm weather outside you can have your pick from Greek, Italian, Vietnamese or Afghan cuisine.

Montréal is a city of music, and especially of jazz music. It not only hosts a great Jazz Festival in July, but also has many exciting venues that offer great music all throughout the year. Among the many jazz clubs Biddle's (2060 Aylmer, Métro McGill) certainly stands out as a Montréal institution. They have a restaurant with delicious food, and great live music at night. The other famous club jazz-lovers may want to have a look at is Upstairs (1254 MacKay St., Métro Guy-Concordia). Upstairs is the favorite of many local jazz listeners where you can listen to some of the best local musicians.

The above is only a fraction of what Montréal has to offer, and certainly does not do justice to its richness. For more ideas and information on guided tours, ask your hotel concierge. Have a wonderful stay.

TRAVELING TO CANADA

The easiest way to avoid delays in immigration and customs when crossing national borders is to carry an official passport from your country of origin. Visas are not required for U.S. citizens entering Canada from the U.S.

You will need:

- Proof of your U.S. citizenship such as your U.S. passport or certified copy of your birth certificate with a raised seal issued by the city, county or state in the U.S. where you were born. If you are a naturalized U.S. citizen and do not have a passport, you should travel with your naturalization certificate. A driver's license, voter's registration card or Social Security card is NOT valid proof of citizenship.
- Photo identification, such as a current, valid driver's license.

All U.S. citizens entering Canada from a third country must have a valid passport. Alien permanent residents of the U.S. must present their Alien Registration Card, commonly called a "Green Card."

If you are not a U.S. citizen or a permanent resident in the U.S., you may need to obtain a visitor's visa. Please go to the Canadian Immigration and Citizenship website (www.cic.gc.ca) for more information.

The U.S. Department of State website (www.travel.state.gov) also provides information on traveling to and from Canada.

For anyone who needs additional documentation of the meeting for border-crossing purposes, SSSP can provide a copy of a letter recognizing the Annual Meeting as a registered meeting by the Canadian government or if you need a letter of invitation to the Annual Meeting, contact Michele Koontz, mkoontz3@utk.edu.

ACCESSIBILITY COMMITTEE

Plan to attend an informational meeting chaired by Julie Cowgill for those interested in or with concerns about the inclusion of people with disabilities in the SSSP on Thursday, August 10 from 8:30am - 10:10am.

OPEN DISCUSSION OF RESOLUTIONS BEING PROPOSED TO THE SSSP BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Plan to attend the public forum of discussion where resolutions can be formally presented for discussion by their sponsor or a designated representative on Thursday, August 10 from 12:30pm - 2:10pm. All Division Chairs should plan to participate in this session or designate a proxy from their division if unable to attend. It is essential that somebody be present who can speak to the substance of the resolution being placed up for discussion. This discussion session will serve in place of the meeting of the Resolutions Committee.

At the annual business meeting, the resolutions will be presented by Vice-President Kimberly J. Cook as a package for approval for action by the membership. If objections are raised to a resolution that resolution can, by majority vote, be singled out and tabled for further discussion at the subsequent annual meeting.

GRADUATE STUDENT MEETING WITH THE STUDENT BOARD REPRESENTATIVES

Student Board Representatives Luis Fernandez and Naomi Nichols would like to meet with all graduate students on Thursday, August 10 from 6:30pm - 9:00pm. This will be an excellent opportunity for you to mingle and discuss any issues. Complimentary appetizers and drinks will be provided.

MENTORING PROGRAM

Never been to a SSSP meeting before? Sign up for the mentoring program for new members and graduate students! Learning to navigate meetings is not difficult, but a meeting mentor can make the process less awkward and lonely. SSSP will match you with a person who will meet with you, and help orient you to the organization and meetings.

If you are a meeting veteran, would you be willing to help a graduate student or new faculty member out at the meetings as a mentor? Remember those awkward days when you were trying to meet people? Although the meetings are often too jampacked with work and catching up with old friends, being a mentor is absolutely worthwhile. Mentoring a new member gives you a fresh perspective on the meetings, and allows you to give something invaluable to them - a connection.

Whether you are an old hand or a newcomer, please email your contact information (name, affiliation, address, email, and researching/teaching interest areas) before June 15 to James Gruber, Chair, Lee Student Support Fund Committee, jgruber@umich.edu. Please indicate whether you're a newcomer or a returning SSSP member. The committee will pair people together and notify them no later than June 30.

6th ANNUAL AIDS FUNDRAISER and the GRADUATE STUDENT AND NEW MEMBER RECEPTION

Plan to attend this fun event on Thursday, August 10 from 9:00pm - 11:00pm. Graduate students and new members will receive a complimentary ticket with their registration materials, but everyone else is charged $15.

Music will be provided by Solstice, who promises to entertain us with music everyone will dance to. Complimentary hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be available. During the evening, there will be a silent and a live auction. You'll be able to place bids on lots of great stuff. PJ McGann will be the chief auctioneer.

Proceeds from the AIDS Fundraiser will go to Maison Plein Cœur. Their fundamental objectives are to contribute to HIV/AIDS prevention and to assist people living with HIV/AIDS. For more information, visit www.maisonpleincoeur.org.

BUSINESS MEETING

Plan to attend the Business Meeting on Friday, August 11 from 9:00am - 10:15am for an update on the status and future of the Society. There will be an open discussion period following the meeting. The meeting will conclude with the transition of duties from President Claire M. Renzetti to incoming President Valerie Jenness.

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

The Presidential Plenary featuring the formal address of SSSP President Claire M. Renzetti is scheduled for Friday, August 11 from 10:30am - 12:10pm. Session 28: Speed Mentoring
Room: Fontaine B

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer & Presider: Steven Barkan, University of Maine

Description:

This speed mentoring session will afford SSSP members, particularly those in graduate school or at the early stages of their careers (“mentees”), the opportunity to sit one-on-one with a stellar group of senior SSSP members (“mentors”) to get feedback on dissertations and/or research projects that are underway or still in the planning stages. These meetings will each last 20 minutes and there will be time for four such meetings within the session time block.

Because many individuals may benefit from being able to talk about their projects with people outside their home institutions or workplaces, the Program Committee welcomes their participation in this session and hopes they will find it very useful. The mentors and their areas of specialization are listed below.

Mentors and mentees were emailed the session schedule before the annual meeting began; the schedule will also be available at the conference registration table.  Institutional Ethnography Division

Organizer & Presider: Janet Rankin, Malaspina University-College

Discussant: Brenda Solomon, University of Vermont

Description:

The goal of this session is to generate in depth discussion related to forms of knowledge, health knowledge and health work (expert, administrative, technical, local and commonsense). Health, even in the Canadian context, is emerging as a contested terrain as it is becoming a site of economic productivity and investment and profit and a critical contributor to a healthy economy. This session is designed to contribute to “mapping” the many aspects and locations of “health work” – that produce problems, on the ground, for people. Using the analytical tools of IE, discussant Brenda Solomon will facilitate discussion about how the papers might contribute to the mapping project undertaken by institutional ethnographers.

Room: Fontaine A*Sponsor:* Standards and Freedom of Research, Publication, and Teaching Committee*Organizer, Presider & Discussant:* Debra S. Emmelman, Southern Connecticut State University*Description:*

Academics in general and sociologists in particular have long been advocates of those excluded in U.S. society, including the poor, the non-White, the non-Christian, people with disabilities, women, gay men, lesbians, bisexual and transgendered people. Recently, the radical Right has been actively seeking not only to dismantle social programs, abandon civil rights, and increase economic inequality but also to undermine the very freedoms that academics have shared to speak out against such injustices.

This panel explores how academic freedom, as the right to speak out against injustice and inhumanity in its various forms, might be ensured in today’s political climate. Melanie Bush from Adelphi University begins by providing an overview of where we stand today. Bart W. Miles and Stephen J. Sills from Wayne State University describe three strategies that faculty researchers have used to challenge the oppressive structures of Institutional Review Boards. G. Anthony Rosso, Academic Freedom Officer for the Southern Connecticut State University chapter of the AAUP, will discuss Association principles of academic freedom and collective bargaining strategies. Gerald Turkel, Chair of AAUP’s Committee on Government Relations, will discuss AAUP noncollective bargaining approaches to resisting political attacks on academic freedom. And last but certainly not least, Jameel Jaffer, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union who is currently litigating a case filed on behalf of the American Academy of Religion, the American Association of University Professors and PEN American Center, and that names as a plaintiff in the lawsuit Professor Tariq Ramadan, a Swiss intellectual who is widely regarded as a leading scholar of the Muslim world, will discuss the methods of the ACLU.

Consistent with SSSP President Claire M. Renzetti’s vision for the 2006 meeting, it is hoped that this panel, sponsored by the Standards and Freedom of Research, Publication, and Teaching Committee, will encourage scholars devoted to the eradication of social injustice to energize, mobilize and strategize in an effort to thwart current threats to our academic freedom.

Session 121: Author Meets Critics, James W. Loewen, Sundown Towns: A Hidden Dimension of Racism in America
Room: Pointe-aux-Trembles

Sponsor: Program Committee

Author: James W. Loewen, Catholic University

Organizer & Moderator: Jack Blocker, Huron University College, University of Western Ontario

Description:

Between 1890 and 1940, hundreds of towns across the United States, except in the traditional South, expelled their African Americans or passed ordinances or resolved informally not to allow any in. Thus were created “sundown towns,” so named because many marked their city limits with signs typically reading, “Nigger, Don’t let the Sun Go Down On You In _____.” “Sundown suburbs” developed a little later, mostly between 1900 and 1968. Some of these towns still maintain their policy, at least covertly. Others have changed in demography and in their thinking. Sundown towns were astonishingly widespread. In 1970, when they were probably at their zenith, Illinois, for example, had 621 towns larger than 1,000. Of these, more than two-thirds were sundown towns. Similar proportions probably obtained in Indiana, Missouri, Oregon, and other Northern states. Sundown suburbs were even more common; outside such cities as Chicago, Detroit, and Los Angeles, municipalities that admitted African Americans were so unusual as to draw wondering comments in the press.

Amazingly, until the October, 2005, publication of Sundown Towns (NY: New Press), there had never been a book about this phenomenon. In this session, the author will give a quick overview of the basic facts about sundown towns: Why they originated when they did, how many there were, how they stayed all-white, and their effects on our society. He will then respond to assessments of his work by several authors.

Session 126: SPECIAL PRIVATE FILM EVENT: CARNAVAL BLUES (2005 Brasil & US)
Room: Longueuil

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer: PJ McGann, University of Michigan

Description:

SSSP members are invited to a special private screening and discussion of the independent film Carnaval Blues (60 min., drama, Portuguese/English with English subtitles). SYNOPSIS: Guilherme is a Spanish American student traveling to Brazil for the first time to study its “culture of violence.” Mestre is a poor but respected community leader and master teacher of Capoeira, a Brazilian tradition of martial arts and dance. Namibia is Mestre’s whimsical twelve-year-old daughter. The lives of all three are changed forever as they cross paths amidst the paradoxical, spiritual, celebratory backdrop of Rio de Janeiro’s Carnaval. Inspired by the director’s experience as a documentary film maker in Bangladesh, Carnaval Blues questions the delicate relationship between the documentarian and his subject. Those interested in issues of representation, ethnography, race, culture, globalization, and community empowerment will be intrigued by this beautiful, award-winning film. (Note: issues raised by the film will also be explored in the session.)
