FINAL PROGRAM

The Society for the Study of Social Problems
55th Annual Meeting
August 12-14, 2005
Crowne Plaza Hotel, 1800 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA

BLOWBACK: THE UNINTENDED CONSEQUENCES OF SOCIAL PROBLEMS SOLUTIONS

Our world is crowded with activists – progressives, conservatives, libertarians, socialists, pragmatists, wise women, and fools – who present favored nostrums for how the world can become a better place and how intractable problems can be ameliorated. By necessity, when facing these challenges, we make assessments about what the future will be like under a set of conditions. We create a sociology of the future – sometimes incisive, sometimes wrong, and always incomplete. People extrapolate, theorize, and draw on their experiences. We link understandings of the past and present with beliefs about how situations change. Again and again we are surprised by the outcomes that our policies take. It is our responsibility to consider the unexpected and latent effects of our decisions – whether about war, economic policy, health care, or moral matters.

Here, meeting in Philadelphia, the site of one of the greatest social experiments – the creation of the American polity – we recognize that this noble experiment produced outcomes that could have been little imagined in Independence Hall. However, surprising consequences appear in large and small packages. Today we discover many and complex reverberations of decisions leading to War in Iraq, Gay Marriage, Affirmative Action, Stem-cell Research, Punitive Drug Policies, Liberalized Divorces, and Anti-Terrorism policy. As scholars and as activists, we are obliged to analyze these effects, just as we have an obligation to point to the problems for which solutions were proposed. Social problems are chained in webs of consequences.

In 1936 our great sociologist Robert Merton recognized that purposive action had unanticipated consequences. It is my challenge to the Society to stand on the shoulders of this giant to extend his vision and to proclaim his clarion call. Sometimes progressive solutions produce regressive effects, and on occasion regressive solutions may produce beneficial outcomes. The dynamics of social problems do not end when a law is passed, a ruling is made, or a proclamation announced.

In choosing this topic, I am consciously returning to the creative insight of our great founder C. Wright Mills, who saw in the sociological imagination the obligation to explore the taken-for-granted truisms that are often passed off as eternal verities. Mills knew that our position as sociologists required that we strip away certainties – seeing the complexity of relations between individuals and social forces, and between present and future. The world is too wondrously complex for simple answers and facile solutions.

Let us gather together in Philadelphia and describe the ways in which the social world has surprised, fooled, disturbed, and inspired us. The reality that the future is often a dark glass, must not mean that we should not peer through its partly opaque surface as diligently as we can.

WELCOME TO THE 55th ANNUAL MEETING

Thank you for joining the Society for the Study of Social Problems for our 55th Annual Meeting. Please join in – listen, discuss, contribute and participate – in the paper sessions, plenary events, division business meetings and social activities. The Executive Office hopes that your meeting experience is rewarding and enjoyable.

WELCOME TO PHILADELPHIA, THE “CITY THAT LOVES YOU BACK”

That saying implies that you will fall in love with Philadelphia – and you will. This is a city of tremendous diversity and deep historical roots, a city with something for everyone. Most of the historical sites are within walking distance of the Crowne Plaza Hotel as are the major museums and shopping venues. Head south to Independence Hall, where on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was signed. This year Philadelphia is celebrating the 300th birthday of Benjamin Franklin, so check with the hotel concierge for dates and times of special events – and don’t be surprised if you see a guy that looks a lot like Franklin, dressed in period garb, wandering around the historic district talking with visitors. Just across from Independence Hall is the Liberty Bell pavilion, where you can see the Liberty Bell and its famous crack. This historic area is a great place for a walk; there are streets that look much the way they did 200 years ago, lovely parks, and blocks of historic houses and buildings.

Adjacent to the historic area is Old City with its multitude of ethnic restaurants and art galleries. But Philadelphia is a city of wonderful museums: the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the Rodin Museum are next door to one another on the Ben Franklin Parkway. From the historic district or near the hotel, you can hop on one of Philly Phlash buses or a trolley for a lift to the Parkway museums. And a short walk from both of these museums are two fantastic science museums: the Franklin Institute and the Academy of Natural Sciences – favorites of kids (and kids-at-heart). Other museums you’ll want to visit are the Balch Museum for Ethnic Studies on S. 7th St., the African American Cultural Museum at 7th and Arch Sts., and the National Museum of Jewish History on N. 5th St. One of my personal favorites, however, is the Eastern State Penitentiary at 22nd St. and Fairmont Ave. I have taken the tour of this historic site numerous times and each time I have learned something new. You shouldn’t miss it.

If you prefer not to go into a museum, but still want to check out some art, just walk around downtown because Philadelphia boasts the most extensive display of public art of any U.S. city. Another sure bet is the Philadelphia Zoo, 42 acres at Girard Ave. and 34th St., the first zoo in the United States.

Philadelphia is also a city of markets. One of the best is the Reading Terminal Market, a short walk from the hotel, where you can get Termini Brothers’ canoli as well as fresh produce and baked goods from Amish and Mennonite farmers from Lancaster County while also picking up funky jewelry, plants, clothes, and household items. And don’t miss the Italian Market in South Philadelphia (9th St. from Wharton to Christian Sts.), the largest outdoor food market in the U.S. You can feast on a variety of cheese, pasta, and pastries. If you are feeling adventurous – and you don’t care about your cholesterol level – stop by Geno’s and/or Pat’s Steaks for a genuine Philly cheesesteak. Be sure to order your cheesesteak “wid” – i.e., with fried onions.

For haute cuisine, sample the internationally renowned restaurants along Walnut St. including Le Bec-Fin, Susanna Foo, and Striped Bass. For a less expensive, but no less delicious meal, walk over to Chinatown (from 9th-12th Sts., on Race, Cherry, and Arch Sts.) and choose from a wide selection of Chinese, Vietnamese, Thai, and other Asian ethnic restaurants, while admiring the huge and ornate Friendship Gate at 10th and Arch Sts.

The array of sights, sounds, and tastes that await you in this city is too vast for a short essay such as this. For more ideas, talk with the concierge at the Crowne Plaza, who can provide maps, arrange tours, and assist you in other ways. Fall in love with Philadelphia this summer – and let the city love you back!

WALKING DIRECTIONS FROM THE CROWNE PLAZA HOTEL TO THE ASA MEETING HOTELS

This is really easy since two of ASA's hotels are on the same street as the SSSP hotel, Market Street. The walk is about 10 - 15 minutes depending on one's pace. It's about 8 blocks - 2 extra blocks because of having to walk around City Hall.

To get from the Crowne Plaza to the ASA hotels (Philadelphia Marriott and Loews Philadelphia), exit the Crowne Plaza onto Market Street and turn right, heading East on Market towards 17th Street. Both ASA hotels are on Market Street, about six blocks east of the Crowne Plaza, but when you get to City Hall, you have to walk around it to stay on Market Street, passing the Lord and Taylor Department Store on your right. The Loew's is on the same side of the street as the Crowne Plaza at 1200 Market Street; the Marriott is across the street at 1201 Market Street. To get to the Courtyard by Marriott at 15th Street turn left onto S. Penn Square and then turn left onto Juniper Street.

FILM EXHIBIT

The film exhibit is sponsored by AndersonGold Films, Bullfrog Films, California Newsreel, First Run/Icarus Films, Lost Heritage Productions, Media Education Foundation, New Day Films, TV2 Danmark and Women Make Movies. Information about film rentals and purchase will be available during the conference. The film exhibit will be held in the Germantown Room.

BUOYANT

Shown: Friday, August 12 from 5:30pm - 6:00pm
Sunday, August 14 from 10:40am - 11:10am

This documentary intertwines the story of the Padded Lilies, a troupe of fat synchronized swimmers, Archimedes, the Greek mathematician obsessed with floating bodies, and the inventor of the "Drystroke Swimulater" to investigate, proclaim and celebrate the fact that fat floats! Buoyant draws attention to its own surface and leaves us with the exuberant possibility of a fat body that literally and culturally rises, like cream, to the top. (Available from Women Make Movies, 28 minutes)

EVERY MOTHER'S SON

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 8:30am - 9:30am

In the late 1990s, three victims of police brutality made headlines around the country: Amadou Diallo, the young West African man whose killing sparked intense public protest; Anthony Baez, killed in an illegal chokehold, and Gary (Gidone) Bush, a Hasidic Jew shot and killed outside his Brooklyn home. Every Mother's Son profiles three New York mothers who unexpectedly find themselves united to seek justice and transform their grief into an opportunity for profound social change. (Available through AndersonGold Films, 60 minutes)

FEBRUARY ONE

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 3:05pm - 4:10pm

In one remarkable day, four college freshmen changed the course of American history. February One tells the inspiring story surrounding the 1960 Greensboro lunch counter sit-ins that revitalized the Civil Rights Movement and set an example of student militancy for the coming decade. This moving film shows how a small group of determined individuals can galvanize a mass movement and focus a nation's attention on injustice. (Available from California Newsreel, 61 minutes)

IN THE NAME OF LOVE

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 9:35am - 10:35am

What's motivating the thousands of Russian women who sign up with agencies to meet and marry American men? From the gray skies of St. Petersburg to sunny California ranches, we see the financial and emotional pros and cons of exporting one's heart. (Available from New Day Films, 58 minutes)

KEEP NOT SILENT

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 11:15am - 12:10pm

Keep Not Silent boldly documents the clandestine struggle of three women fighting for their right to love within their beloved Orthodox communities in Jerusalem. All three are pious, religiously committed women. All three are lesbians, and members of a secret support group called "Ortho-dykes." (Available from Women Make Movies, 52 minutes)

MAID IN AMERICA

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 2:00pm - 3:00pm

They clean other people's homes and raise other people's children - often leaving their own families behind. There are more than 70,000 domestic workers from Latin America working in Los Angeles today. Three years in the making, Maid in America follows the lives of three such women, each with distinct backgrounds, working situations, and aspirations. (Available from Women Make Movies, 57 minutes)

O HERÓI (THE HERO)

Shown: Friday, August 12 from 8:30am - 10:10am

O Herói (The Hero) is the story of Angola, a nation torn apart by forty years of uninterrupted war, and now trying imperfectly but courageously to piece itself back together. It is also the story of a city, Luanda, like so many in the Third World, trying to absorb the millions of people displaced by civil strife and global economic change. After a thirteen year national liberation struggle against the Portuguese colonialists ended with independence in 1975, Angola plunged immediately into a brutal civil war. The national MPLA government, backed initially by Cuba and the Soviet Union, and the UNITA rebels, supported by the U.S. and the South African apartheid regime, remained locked in conflict until 2003, long after the end of the Cold War itself. (Available from California Newsreel, 97 minutes)

ONE WEDDING AND A REVOLUTION

Shown: Sunday, August 14 from 12:15pm - 12:35pm

On February 12, 2004, the mayor of San Francisco ordered city officials to allow gay and lesbian couples to get married. Pioneering activists Del Martin and Phyllis Lyon, celebrating their 51st anniversary, had the privilege of being the first couple to tie the knot. One Wedding and a Revolution goes behind the scenes at the mayor's office during the frantic days leading up to February 12th, and into city hall, with exclusive footage of this momentous historical event. (Available from New Day Films, 19 minutes)

THE OVERSPENT AMERICAN: WHY WE WANT WHAT WE DON'T NEED

Shown: Friday, August 12 from 12:25pm - 1:00pm

Saturday, August 13 from 4:55pm - 5:30pm

In this powerful video, Juliet Schor scrutinizes what she calls "the new consumerism" - a national phenomenon of upscale spending that is shaped and reinforced by a commercially-driven media system. She argues that "keeping up with the Joneses" is no longer enough for middle and upper-middle class Americans, many of whom become burdened with debilitating debt as they seek to emulate materialistic TV lifestyles. (Available from Media Education Foundation, 32 minutes)

PEACE, PROPAGANDA, AND THE PROMISED LAND U.S. MEDIA & THE ISRAELI-PALESTINIAN CONFLICT

Shown: Saturday, August 13 from 3:30pm - 4:50pm

Peace, Propaganda and the Promised Land provides a striking comparison of U.S. and international media coverage of the crisis in the Middle East, zeroing in on how structural distortions in U.S. coverage have reinforced false perceptions of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. This pivotal documentary exposes how the foreign policy interests of American political elites - oil, and a need to have a secure military base in the region, among others - work in combination with Israeli public relations strategies to exercise a powerful influence over how news from the region is reported. (Available from Media Education Foundation, 80 minutes)

RED ROADShown: Saturday, August 13 from 1:35pm - 2:25pm

Barry (Whitecap) Hambly was born in 1967 on Carry the Kettle First Nation in Saskatchewan. When he was four, his mother, Darlene Whitecap, ran from the reserve and an abusive relationship, taking Barry and his three siblings with her to Regina, 100 km to the west. A victim of alcohol abuse, the 24-year-old mother would soon lose her children when social agencies intervened. This era, known as the "Sixties Scoop," saw thousands of aboriginal children adopted into non-Native homes. Some children remained in Canada while others were sent to the U.S. and around the globe. While some have called it "assimilation," many claim the "scoop" era to have been a cultural genocide. Red Road shadows Barry Hambly's journey, returning to Saskatchewan to confront his past and meet his birth mother. SPIN THE BOTTLE: SEX, LIES & ALCOHOLShown: Friday, August 12 from 11:35am - 12:20pm*Sunday, August 14 from 4:15pm - 5:00pm

Spin the Bottle offers an indispensable critique of the role that contemporary popular culture plays in glamorizing excessive drinking and high-risk behaviors. Award-winning media critics Jackson Katz and Jean Kilbourne contrast these distorted representations with the often disturbing and dangerous ways that alcohol consumption affects the lives of real young men and women. Illustrating their analysis with numerous examples, Katz and Kilbourne decode the power and influence these seductive media images have in shaping gender identity, which is linked to the use of alcohol. Nowhere is this link more cause for concern than on America's college campuses. (Available from Media Education Foundation, 45 minutes)

STILL DOING IT: THE INTIMATE LIVES OF WOMEN OVER 65Shown: Friday, August 12 from 10:15am - 11:10am*Sunday, August 14 from 12:40pm - 1:35pm

Flying in the face of this culture's extreme ageism, Still Doing It explores the lives of older women. Partnered, single, straight, gay, black and white; nine extraordinary women, age 67-87, express with startling honesty and humor how they feel about themselves, sex, and love in later life and the poignant realities of aging. Outspoken for their generation, these women mark a sea change. Women over 65 are the fastest-growing segment of the population and in 2011, when the baby boomers begin to turn 65, their numbers will swell. Still Doing It looks at this society's complex relationship to women and aging with surprising and revelatory results. (Available from New Day Films, 54 minutes)

THE TAKEShown: Friday, August 12 from 1:40pm - 3:10pm

In suburban Buenos Aires, thirty unemployed auto-parts workers walk into their idle factory, roll out sleeping mats and refuse to leave. All they want is to re-start the silent machines. But this simple act - "the take" - threatens to turn the globalization debate on its head. In the wake of Argentina's spectacular economic collapse in 2001, Latin America's most prosperous middle class finds itself in a ghost town of abandoned factories and mass unemployment. The Forja San Martin auto plant had been dormant until its former employees took action. They're part of a daring new movement of workers who are occupying bankrupt businesses and creating jobs in the ruins of the failed system. (Available from First Run/Icarus Films, 87 minutes)

THIRSTShown: Friday, August 12 from 4:20pm - 5:25pm

Global corporations are rapidly buying up local water supplies, and communities face losing control of one of their most precious resources. Looking at tensions in Bolivia, India, and Stockton, CA, Thirst reveals how water is becoming a catalyst for explosive community resistance to globalization. Focusing on one of the 21st century's greatest issues, this film is a piercing look at the conflict between public stewardship and private profit, where activists claim that water is a human right and corporations declare it is a commodity. (Available from Bullfrog Films, 62 minutes)

TOMBOYS! FEISTY GIRLS AND SPIRITED WOMENShown: Friday, August 12 from 1:05pm - 1:35pm*Saturday, August 13 from 5:35pm - 6:05pm

Are tomboys "tamed" once they reach adolescence? This spirited and inspiring documentary celebrates four real-life tomboys of all ages: an African-American teenager Jay Gillespie; firefighter Tracy Driscoll; lesbian artist/boxer Nancy Brooks Brody; and the 94 year old political activist, "Granny D.," making the connection between the rebel girl and spirited woman gloriously clear. (Available from Women Make Movies, 28 minutes)

WAR FEELS LIKE WARShown: Friday, August 12 from 3:15pm - 4:15pm*Sunday, August 14 from 5:05pm - 6:05pm

War Feels Like War is a compelling account of the brutalities of 21st Century war, told through the eyes of independent journalists. The film documents the lives of reporters and photographers who subverted military media control to get access to the real Iraq War. The film records their frustration, fear, shock and horror as they fight their way to Bagdad. They are the lucky ones. Ahead of them some journalists are killed in the conflict. Behind them others become part of a media circus trapped in Kuwait. The authorities try to placate them with organized daytrips which end in farce, frustration, and cynicism. (Available from TV2 Danmark, 59 minutes)

WET DREAMS AND FALSE IMAGESShown: Friday, August 12 from 11:15am - 11:30am*Sunday, August 14 from 1:40pm - 1:55pm

Dee-Dee, a Brooklyn barber and self-proclaimed "booty expert," covers his wall with magazine cut-outs of women. He wishes that real women could look more like the images on his "wall of beauty." However, when Dee-Dee is introduced to the art of photo-retouching, his perceptions of beauty are called into question. This documentary uses humor to raise serious concerns about the marketplace of commercial illusion and unrealizable standards of physical perfection. (Available from New Day Films, 11 minutes)

WHERE DO YOU STAND: STORIES FROM AN AMERICAN MILLShown: Saturday, August 13 from 12:30pm - 1:30pm*Saturday, August 13 from 2:30pm - 3:30pm

After a quarter century of struggle, mill workers in Kannapolis, North Carolina won the single largest industrial union victory in the history of the South. Where Do You Stand is a new documentary film about the rise and fall of an American town and the epic struggle of the people who live there. In the process, it tells the story of the dramatic changes in labor and demographics, in the nature of corporations, the rise of multinationals, and changes in the American South in the post-industrial age. (Available from California Newsreel, 60 minutes)

Organizer: Barbara Katz Rothman, City University of New York

Description:

Let us take as a given that adoption works: adoption is a successful way to form a family, and adoptive families are normal families. We will not enter into discussions of 'natural' or 'real' or 'biologic' or 'genetic' families as privileged in any way over adoptive families. Instead, this panel will address the social justice issues that underlay the formation of adoptive families: the local and global inequalities that make adoption possible, and the ways adoption may be used to further, or at least to avoid confronting, those inequalities.

BUILDING JUST, DIVERSE AND DEMOCRATIC COMMUNITIES

The United States has been called a “melting pot,” but the reality of life in this country, historically and contemporaneously, has been one of exclusion – exclusion of the poor, the non-White, the non-Christian, the disabled, women, gay men, lesbians, bi and transsexuals. The United States has been held up by some as the model democracy, and the current federal administration claims to be spreading democracy throughout the world. But the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan and the impact on the people there can hardly be called democratic. Moreover, the U.S. government chooses to ignore the plight of others, such as those in Darfur, if their suffering does not serve our nation’s political or economic purposes.

Of course, the disparity between rhetoric and social reality is nothing new. Sociologists, including the founders of SSSP, have been studying and writing about it – particularly in terms of its consequences on the quality of life of large segments of the population – for decades. But at a time when the radical Right is attempting to – and often succeeding in – dismantling social programs to promote “smaller government,” denying civil rights to individuals and groups it deems “immoral” or a “threat to national security,” bolstering the wealth of the already wealthiest individuals and corporations in the name of “global free enterprise,” it is critical for progressive sociologists – as researchers, teachers, and activists – to reclaim, interrogate, and re-vision the concepts of justice, diversity, democracy, and community.

At our 2006 meeting in San Francisco, we will explore such questions as: How can we ensure justice and democratic processes in a political climate that fosters mistrust of difference and uses the threat of terrorism to legitimate rolling back rights and increasing military spending and intervention? What do community and democracy mean in the context of globalization? How might we overcome the prevailing attitude of “guilt fatigue” so that social welfare spending is not seen as “charity,” but rather as a communal effort, a partnership between citizens and their government to work toward a prosperous future shared by all? What must be done to reprioritize the national agenda so that strategies for achieving peace and justice are at the forefront, rather than dismissed as “liberal pie in the sky”?

These and many other related and equally significant questions present enormous challenges, but it behooves SSSP to take a leadership role in answering them. Our mission, after all, is to develop and apply research that makes a difference. Our meeting in San Francisco is an opportunity to energize, mobilize, and strategize, and I encourage our entire membership to attend and participate. As artist and poet M. C. Richards wrote, “Freedom is presence, not absence. Centering is the act of bringing in, not leaving out. It is brought about not by force, but by coordination.”
