Roots of Success:
Increasing the Capacity of Education and Workforce Development Programs to Create Enduring Pathways from Poverty to Economic Security and Empowerment

Raquel Pinderhughes, Ph.D.
Department of Urban Studies and Planning
San Francisco State University
Executive Director: Roots of Success
Roots of Success: An Innovative Programmatic Response to Poverty

Roots of Success is an empowering environmental literacy and work readiness curriculum and Certificate program that strengthens people’s academic and professional skills, increases their understanding of environmental problems and solutions, introduces them to 150+ employment opportunities and career pathways, prepares them for these careers, and to improve conditions in their communities.
Roots of Success implemented in:
Prisons, Jails, Juvenile Justice Facilities, Re-entry Programs, Job Training Programs, GED Prep Programs, High Schools, Alternative High Schools, CTE Schools, Continuation Schools, Youth Programs, Youth Build, Goodwill, Conservation Corps, Libraries, Community Colleges, CBOs, Government Agencies,
More information: www.rootsofsuccess.org