

April 22, 2017
Washington, D.C.
11 a.m.

Join us in marching for evidence-based drug policy, treatment and harm reduction services as part of the national

March for Science

We will be providing transportation from NYC to Washington, D.C.

For more information, contact Alex Hatcher at [ahatcher@
drugpolicy.org](mailto:ahatcher@drugpolicy.org)

Why are we marching?

For decades, our drug policies have been driven by ideology, stigma, racism, and politics with too little reliance on research about what is effective. With the election of Donald Trump and his Administration's disavowal of science and facts, we are concerned that the divide between evidence and policy will only grow deeper. Our drug policy needs to be driven by evidence about what works.

Drug Policy

Needs

Science

Look for updates at <http://bit.ly/DrugScienceMarch>