2018 Theme: Abolitionist Approaches to Social Problems

"Be faithful, be vigilant, be untiring in your efforts to break every yoke, and let the oppressed go free."
–William Lloyd Garrison

"If there is no struggle, there is no progress." –Frederick Douglass

"Fight for the right to live, love, and work wherever you please." –The Repeal Coalition of Arizona (an immigrant rights group)

Luis A. Fernandez
Northern Arizona University
SSSP President (2017-2018)

In the 18th and 19th centuries, abolitionists developed strong movements demanding the end of slavery. In the United States, individuals like Gerrit Smith, Harriet Tubman, Frederick Douglass, the Grimke sisters, and John Brown called for the immediate end to the enslavement of their fellow humans, and were unrelenting in their actions to reach their goals. These were zealots, individuals who were unapologetic about their demands. For instance, in 1855, abolitionists issued a call for an inaugural convention of Radical Abolitionists. It stated,

"We want [people] at this crisis who cannot be frightened from the advocacy of our 'radical' doctrines, because of their unpopularity . . . Let us not, then, grow weary, but believing that 'whatever is RIGHT, IS PRACTICAL,' go forth with renewed determination to conquer, though we die in the conflict." (In The Black Hearts of Men, John Stauffer, p. 12)

As we face modern social problems, we can find inspiration in the Abolitionist Movement. As we see Latino, Black, and Indigenous youth killed and imprisoned at disproportionate rates, we need strategies to stop racial subjugation. As we witness the call for larger walls at our borders, we need new thoughts of liberation. As we confront patriarchy and economic inequality, we require stronger practices. To that end, the theme for the 2018 SSSP Annual Meeting is Abolitionist Approaches to Social Problems.

The SSSP has a long history of experimentation, inviting critique of ideas and concepts as it pushes towards a continual reimagining of social justice. In the current incarnation, we invite participants to help us develop ways to abolish social problems entirely, to think through what is required to eliminate systems of subjugation, and to document the current struggles that are already leading the way in these efforts. This will require not just a rethinking of how to confront social problems, but also a rediscovering of buried histories, of hidden struggles, and of ideas that are submerged below the surface. It is time, once again, to remember that what is right is practical and to be unafraid of principles that are unpopular.

To this end, the program committee will be inviting speakers, organizing thematic sessions, and assembling panels of scholars-activist who are confronting capitalism, colonialism, patriarchy, and other forms of subjugation. We also invite you to submit proposals that match the theme.

It is our hope that this year's theme provides us with an opportunity to have an earnest discussion on the possibilities of developing and implementing strategies that eradicate subjugation. We invite you to engage in our efforts. We hope to see you in Philadelphia, a city steeped in an abolitionist tradition.

Welcome to Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love!

Welcome to Philly!

Philadelphia is known as many things, including the Cradle of Liberty, a critical part of the Abolitionist movement, and more recently as the nation's 1st World Heritage City. Philadelphia is situated on land that was originally settled by the Lenape almost 10,000 years ago, and we would like to acknowledge this, and express our sincere appreciation and respect for the history and culture of the Lenape people.

Rich in history, resistance and movement building, there are many inspirational people from Philadelphia, including cultural anthropologist Margaret Mead and Marian Anderson, one of the most celebrated singers of the 20th Century. Carolyn Davenport Moore, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X6ZYtRwNHjI>, a local civil rights leader from the 1940s through the 1960s, was also from Philadelphia, as was movie star (and Princess of Monaco) Grace Kelly. Philly was also home to Betsy Ross, and you can visit her house, which has been turned into a local museum (<http://historicphiladelphia.org/what-to-see/>).

As the nation's birthplace, Philadelphia is rich in history – both historically and contemporarily – and has been called home by many activists challenging social inequities and demanding freedom. For instance, Richard Allen, Absalom Jones, William Still and Robert Purvis set free roots deep in the city and helped countless people escape bondage. Philadelphia is also the birthplace of MOVE (founded in 1972) and is famous for the bombing of the MOVE compound on Osage Avenue (May 1985) killing 11 people – 5 of whom were children – and destroying over 61 homes. More recently we have seen organized social resistance created by students criticizing the defunding of public education, battles against gentrification <http://phillyaffordablecommunities.org>, the building of the Temple Stadium in North Philadelphia <https://www.facebook.com/StadiumStompersPhilly/> and <http://www.philly.com/philly/news/temple-football-stadium-neighbors-englert-20180202.html>, and the Black Lives Matter Movement <https://www.facebook.com/blacklivesmatterphilly/> protesting continued police brutality and violence. Protest sparks many things, including music and art, so check out our vibrant arts scene including our magnificent murals <https://www.muralarts.org> and the Painted Bride <https://paintedbride.org>, and remember that it is from this city that the legendary Roots crew hails – so I encourage you to check out their music for a glimpse into Philly's soul.

Philadelphia also has a thriving gay community with a long history. In 1965, four years before the Stonewall Riots in New York ignited the worldwide modern gay rights movement, a group of protesters began an annual July 4th pride march in front of Independence Hall in Philadelphia <http://www.phillygaypride.org/annual-reminders-50th-anniversary/>. Since then, the LGBTQ community has come out in increasing numbers to claim their rightful place in Philadelphia.

One can walk through the Gayborhood, a section of Center City's Washington Square District, and see rainbow flags adorning the street signs. Philadelphia hosts many highly visible and important LGBTQ events, such as Equality Forum, Blue Ball, Black Pride, Pride Parade, and OutFest, the largest National Coming Out Day festival in the world. Please check out <http://PhillyGayCalendar.com> for events during your stay in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia is alive! We are bursting with art, activism, resistance, poetry, people, and our insistence that creating a more just and humanitarian society is not only necessary, but possible. I hope you enjoy your stay with us.

Best,

Adriana Leela Bohm, PhD.
Delaware County Community College
Chair, Local Arrangements Committee, 2017-2018

Welcome to Philadelphia—Graduate Student Version

Dear SSSP Graduate Students,

Welcome to Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love! Summer is the perfect time to visit Philadelphia; the city is alive with vibrant neighborhoods, arts and cultural events, and an abundance of ethnic foods. There are so many things to see, do, and eat in our fair city. Philadelphia is very accessible by public transportation, and many sites are walkable.

Here are a few things that shouldn't be missed during your time here:

- The Philadelphia Museum of Art is home to the Rocky Steps. It is home to a massive permanent collection, and expertly curated exhibitions. During August, the PMA is host to Design in Revolution, an exploration of the art, design, and architecture of the 1960s. Every Wednesday, from 5:00pm-8:45pm, admission is Pay What You Wish!
- Philadelphia is for art and history lovers. Old City is minutes away from Center City, and is full of tiny cobblestone streets, farmer's markets, sidewalk restaurants, and historic sites. We also enjoy a robust public art program. Many neighborhoods have murals that reflect the history and culture of local neighbors. Between sessions, take a long walk and visit the murals in Center City and beyond!
- Philadelphians love to enjoy a drink and a snack outside when the weather is nice. Gather up fellow conference participants for some games and relaxation at Spruce Street Harbor Park, enjoy expansive city views at Bok Bar, or stop and smell the flowers at Philadelphia Horticultural Society's Pop up Garden.
- If you're looking to get away from the congestion of Center City, Philadelphia's neighborhoods offer a wide diversity of food, parks, and ethnic communities. West Philadelphia (where I live) is home to a large immigrant population, and you can find a plethora of incredibly delicious cuisine from East and West Africa, Lebanon and the Mediterranean. South Philadelphia is an easy choice for Italian, but you're just as likely to get some delicious Mexican cuisine from the many restaurants just south of the Bella Vista neighborhood. If you're craving tamales, I highly recommend Los Amigos Food Market, for a no-fuss, portable snack while exploring the Italian Market.

Enjoy your stay,

SSSP Anti-Harassment Policy

As a social justice organization, the SSSP is committed to creating a safe and welcoming space at the annual meeting for the free exchange of ideas and professional development; an environment free from harassment based on, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender identity or gender expression, national origin, age, disability, health conditions, sexual orientation, religion, language, socioeconomic status, marital status, domestic status, or parental status. This includes the harassment of colleagues, students, guests, SSSP and hotel staff, vendors, exhibitors, and others present at the annual meeting. To that end, we ask you to help us make it very clear that anyone engaging in this kind of behavior is not welcomed at the annual meeting. (The Society also has a Sexual Harassment Workplace Policy, listing numerous examples of sexual harassment, in the Operations Manual, for members to consult if they wish.)

The following is an anti-discrimination and harassment statement from our Operations Manual.

The Society for the Study of Social Problems is committed to the eradication of discrimination (both intentional and unintentional), harassment, and violence directed at individuals and groups based on, but not limited to, race and ethnicity, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, age, class, nationality and immigrant status, ability, and religion. Offensive conduct may include, but is not limited to, offensive jokes, slurs, epithets, name calling, physical assaults and threats, unwanted touching and persistent unwanted attention and invasion of personal space, intimidation, ridicule or mockery, and insults and put-downs. Whenever and wherever possible, the Society will affirm this commitment to anti-racist, anti-sexist, anti-homophobic, anti-xenophobic, and anti-Islamophobic agenda, publicly and explicitly. As an organization dedicated to social justice, the Society will take very seriously, reports, formal or informal, of harassment or discrimination in the organization and at annual and other Society meetings. To the greatest degree possible, the Society will do what it can to respond appropriately to those who violate our policies and to protect victims and potential victims, from being subjected to this type of unwanted and offensive behavior. We will make every effort to ensure that this commitment is manifest in the policies, programs, and practices of the organization, including in the public positions the SSSP takes on issues, both national and international.

If you witness an incident and can help without placing yourself or anyone else in danger, we encourage you to do so. If you or someone is in imminent physical danger, we urge you to alert hotel security and/or law enforcement. Otherwise, attendees are encouraged to report possible instances of harassment to the Executive Officer, Héctor L. Delgado, in person or at hector.delgado49@gmail.com. Furthermore, at the end of this program, immediately following the index of participants, is a list of local agencies and professionals that may be of assistance to you. Please note, however, that we have not vetted and, therefore, cannot recommend them. We are simply providing a list of options in the area for you to contact if the need arises, and for you to vet.

Hotel Services

The Sheraton Philadelphia Downtown Hotel is ideally situated in Center City and located within walking distance of most of Philadelphia's top attractions including the Franklin Institute and the Pennsylvania Convention Center.

Please note, SSSP hotel guests receive discounted valet parking for $25 + tax per night per car with unlimited in/out privileges.

Accessibility and Social Justice

Special services arranged in advance can be verified with Michele Koontz, Administrative Officer & Meeting Manager, upon arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you require. Please see Michele if you encounter any problems or need further assistance.

The SSSP has established an Accessibility Services Fund in order for members to be able to contribute directly to making the Annual Meeting accessibility services more affordable for attendees with disabilities. Based on the generosity of those who donated when they registered, we received $440 in donations.

Air Quality – Smoking – Service Animals. Please refrain from wearing any scented products to respect attendees who may be sensitive and/or allergic to these types of chemicals. Smoking is not allowed in the meeting space or restaurants. Unless you yourself use a service or therapy dog or other credentialed assistance animal, we ask that you not bring companion animals to the book exhibit or areas where members are presenting.

The Comfort Zone provides a quiet environment for you to relax, reflect, and re-energize. This space is available to ALL conference attendees, no matter where you are staying. Please feel free to bring your morning coffee or afternoon snack and relax, unwind, or get organized for the rest of your day. The Comfort Zone is located in the Franklin Room on the Mezzanine Level and available during the following hours:

Friday	8:00am-6:00pm
Saturday	8:00am-6:00pm
Sunday	8:00am-5:00pm

All-Gender Restroom. An all-gender restroom is located near Salon 10 on the Mezzanine Level. This facility is available because it's important that all members feel safe and included.

For many transgender people and people who don't conform to societal gender norms, using a public restroom is a daily struggle. Trans and gender expansive people are often harassed, physically assaulted, or questioned by authorities in both men's and women's restrooms if they are assumed to be in the wrong restroom.

An all-gender restroom provides access to a safe restroom and changing area for people of any gender identity and presentation. They also provide a safe space for those who need the assistance of a personal care attendant or those with small children.

Lactation Room. A lactation room is located in Parlor D on the second floor.

Sessions. SSSP strives to make its annual meeting as accessible as possible. Each presentation or session should be designed and conducted with the full participation of all in mind.

Accessibility Information. If a need arises on-site, we encourage you to stop by the SSSP registration desk for assistance. SSSP is committed to making the annual meeting accessible to all. For more information on Accessibility Guidelines for program participants, presenters, and session organizers, scan the QR code with your device's QR Code Reader/Scanner.

The book exhibit will consist of products from a wide variety of publishers, including: Basic Books, Bloomsbury Publishing, Cornell University Press, Harvard University Press, ISD Book Co., Knopf Doubleday Academic Services, MIT Press, Penguin Group, USA, Peter Lang Publishing AG, Princeton University Press, Random House, Inc., Stanford University Press, Syracuse University Press, University of California Press, University of Chicago Press, University of Chicago Press Journals, University of Minnesota Press, University of North Carolina Press, University of Pennsylvania Press Journals, University of Toronto Press, University Press of Mississippi, and others.

Policy Press is an award-winning imprint of the newly formed Bristol University Press. For the past 22 years, Policy Press has published cutting-edge, impactful books and journals. Its mission is to publish with a purpose. They are therefore delighted to publish the Global Agenda for Social Justice in association with the Society for the Study of Social Problems which will be distributed to members of the Society. Their Head of Commissioning, Victoria Pittman, will be at the conference and is happy to meet with people who are interested in hearing more about our publishing. You can contact her at victoria.pittman@bristol.ac.uk or @TPPvictoria.

PM Press is pleased to join the 68th Annual Meeting of the Society for the Study of Social Problems this year! PM was founded at the end of 2007 by a small collection of folks with decades of publishing, media, and organizing experience. PM Press co-conspirators have published and distributed hundreds of books, pamphlets, CDs, and DVDs. Members of PM have founded enduring book fairs, spearheaded victorious tenant organizing campaigns, and worked closely with bookstores, academic conferences, and even rock bands to deliver political and challenging ideas to all walks of life. They're old enough to know what they're doing and young enough to know what's at stake. They create radical and stimulating fiction and nonfiction books, pamphlets, t-shirts, visual and audio materials to educate, entertain, and inspire. They aim to distribute these through every available channel with every available technology. Learn more: www.pmpress.org.

Childcare

The SSSP does not provide childcare services at the annual meeting, but the Administrative Office can provide members, upon request, with a list of other members in need of childcare, in the event that they want to coordinate childcare/outings/etc. with one another. If this does not satisfy their childcare needs, members can call 215-253-4017 to contact Nanny Poppinz, a childcare service in Philadelphia. Please note that the Society has not vetted and therefore is not in the position to recommend this service. Consequently, members are advised to visit the service's website (<http://www.nannypoppinz.com/agency/nanny-childcare-philadelphia-pennsylvania.html>) and to conduct their own vetting.

- Philadelphia is a very walkable city and has great public transportation, however, one can also get to any destination via Lyft or Uber.
- Google Maps provides great maps and other transportation information.
- The Reading Terminal Market is a WONDERFUL place to eat any of your meals, and, as you can see, it is quite close to the Convention Center and the Marriott.

PART II. Annual Meeting Events

Free Film Screenings/Panel

The Pushouts: A Film on the Crisis in Education for Marginalized Students of Color

Plan to attend the free film screening of The Pushouts: A Film on the Crisis in Education for Marginalized Students of Color on Friday, August 10 from 4:30pm-6:10pm (Philadelphia Ballroom South, Mezzanine Level).

The Pushouts interrogates crucial questions of race, class and power in the education system. It is a film about the work long-time SSSP member Victor Rios conducted with a group of youths from Watts (Los Angeles). These young people had been pushed out of school. His research team developed and tested an intervention to help them finish school, while pushing the school system to provide more emotional support and resources for these students. The film attempts to create a conversation about racial inequality in education by exposing the day-to-day experiences of marginalized students. Reform in education must address punitive school policies that impact the day-to-day lives of young people and allow these young people's voices to provide key insight on how we might change this system.

Voices of Baltimore: Life Under Segregation

Plan to attend the free film screening of Voices of Baltimore: Life Under Segregation with a discussion afterwards with five of the film participants on Saturday, August 11 from 2:30pm-4:10pm (Philadelphia Ballroom South, Mezzanine Level).

Voices of Baltimore: Life Under Segregation captures and preserves the rich oral histories of an aging and diminishing population of African Americans who grew up in the Mason/Dixon border area of Baltimore and lived through the Jim Crow era of legal segregation. The narratives document the lives of individuals who attended segregated schools and experienced both segregation and desegregation before and following the 1954 Supreme Court Brown v. Board of Education ruling.

Important Meetings

Abolishing Barriers to Access at SSSP and Accessibility Committee Informational Meeting Open to SSSP Registrants

Abolishing Barriers to Access at SSSP is a panel session designed to reflect on the work SSSP has done and continues to do to ensure all persons can participate fully at the SSSP and discuss actions SSSP can/will take in the future to address any barriers that do or may exist that prevent persons with disability from fully participating in the conference. Session 61 meets on Saturday, August 11 from 8:30am-10:10 (Salon 10, Mezzanine Level). Immediately following the panel session from 10:30am-12:10pm in the same room is the joint business meeting of the Disability Division and the Accessibility Committee. Our hope is that the panel session will allow us to discuss the larger structural issues involved in accessibility at a conference and that we can guide this discussion toward practical goals for increasing accessibility that can be addressed in the follow-up business meeting.

Graduate Student Meeting with the Student Board Representatives

Student Board Representatives Maria D. Duenas and Sarah St. John would like to meet with all graduate students on Friday, August 10 from 2:30pm-4:10pm (Liberty Ballroom A, Ballroom Level). This will be an excellent opportunity for students to mingle and discuss any issues.

The Graduate Student Happy Hour is scheduled later in the evening from 7:30pm-8:30pm (Local Hotel Bar, Lobby Level). Complimentary beer, wine, and non-alcoholic beverages will be available.

Open Discussion of Proposed Resolutions Being Proposed to the SSSP Board of Directors

Plan to attend the open forum of discussion where resolutions will be presented among concerned members on Friday, August 10 from 2:30pm-4:10pm (Salon 10, Mezzanine Level). Each proposed resolution will be presented by the person who created the resolution (or designated representative) and the sponsoring Division's Chairperson. Adequate time for discussion will be properly allotted. All Division Chairs should plan to participate in this session or designate a proxy from their division if unable to attend.

At the Annual Business Meeting, the resolutions will be presented (including any modifications or revisions) by Vice-President David G. Embrick as a package for approval for action by the attending membership. The membership will vote on proposed resolutions that were discussed and revised on the first day of the meeting. If objections from the floor are raised to any specific resolution at the SSSP Business Meeting, that resolution can, by majority vote of those present, be separated from the package, and voted on separately. Those present can either vote to support the resolution as proposed or decide to table the resolution for further discussion at the subsequent year's annual meeting. The proposed resolutions are available on pages 85-88.

Plan to attend the SSSP Business Meeting on Saturday, August 11 from 4:15pm-5:25pm (Horizons Rooftop Ballroom, Rooftop Level) for an update on the status and future of SSSP. Organizers: Anthony A. Peguero, Virginia Tech
Victor Rios, University of California, Santa Barbara

Presider: Anthony A. Peguero, Virginia Tech

Discussants: Katie Galloway, Big Pictures
Victor Rios, University of California, Santa Barbara

Description:

The Pushouts interrogates crucial questions of race, class and power in the education system. It is a film about the work Sociologist Victor Rios conducted with a group of youths from Watts (Los Angeles). These young people had all been kicked out of school; his research team was trying to figure out a way to help them get back into school while pushing the school system to change the way they were disciplining kids. The film attempts to create a conversation about racial inequality in education by exposing the day-to-day experiences of marginalized young people. Racial inequality in education and reform in education cannot be understood without understanding how the punitive school policies impact the day-to-day lives of young people and how these young people's voices provide key insight on how we might change this system.

Synopsis: "I was in prison before I was even born." So, begins the incredible life story of Dr. Victor Rios who - by 15 - was a dropout, gang member and heroin dealer in Oakland with multiple felonies and a death wish. Decades later he is a tenured UC professor, author of several books on the criminalization of youth of color and national expert on one of the worst crises facing our nation today: the school-to-prison pipeline. With footage spanning 25 years documenting Rios's own transformation - catalyzed and nurtured in the mid 1990s by a Chicano mentor and a soft spoken but persistent public high school teacher - The Pushouts provides a powerfully intimate and urgent vantage point from which to grapple with the enormous potential of and obstacles facing America's "at risk" youth.

The Pushouts examines the nation's high school dropout crisis and how Latino and Black youth are three times as likely as their white peers to not graduate from high school. Of the 6.5 million vulnerable students who "drop out," one in ten will end up in the criminal justice system, which is a great loss of human potential, and at a cost to society of billions of dollars.

Room: Salon 10

Sponsor: Disability

Organizers: Scott Landes, Syracuse University
Jessica Penwell Barnett, Wright State University

President: Scott Landes, Syracuse University

Description:

In line with the theme of Abolitionist Approaches to Social Problems, this panel session will be a time to reflect on the work SSSP has done and continues to do to ensure all persons can participate fully at the SSSP, and discuss actions SSSP can/will take in the future to address any barriers that do or may exist that prevent persons with disability from fully participating in the conference. The planned format is for invited panelists, including individuals with disability and SSSP leaders, to detail their work for and experiences of accessibility at SSSP. This will be followed by a time for questions and discussion with those attending the session. This session will immediately be followed by the joint business meeting of the Disability Division and the Accessibility Committee. Our hope is that the panel session will allow us to discuss the larger structural issues involved in accessibility at a conference, and that we can guide this discussion toward practical goals for increasing accessibility that can be addressed in the follow-up business meeting.

Session 062: Author Meets Critics: "Decolonizing Dialectics," by George Ciccariello-Maher

Room: Horizons Rooftop Ballroom

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer & President: A. Javier Treviño, Wheaton College

Description:

Anticolonial theorists and revolutionaries have long turned to dialectical thought as a central weapon in their fight against oppressive structures and conditions. This relationship was never easy, however, as anticolonial thinkers have resisted the historical determinism, teleology, Eurocentrism, and singular emphasis that some Marxisms place on class identity at the expense of race, nation, and popular identity. In recent decades, the conflict between dialectics and postcolonial theory has only deepened. In Decolonizing Dialectics George Ciccariello-Maher breaks this impasse by bringing the work of Georges Sorel, Frantz Fanon, and Enrique Dussel together with contemporary Venezuelan politics to formulate a dialectics suited to the struggle against the legacies of colonialism and slavery. This is a decolonized dialectics premised on constant struggle in which progress must be fought for and where the struggles of the wretched of the earth themselves provide the only guarantee of historical motion.

Room: Freedom E

Sponsor: Racial and Ethnic Minorities

Organizer & President: Leslie R. Hinkson, Georgetown University

Description:

Regardless of whether the numbers confirm it, cities imagined as "Chocolate Cities" in the United States, or those with a majority-Black population, conjure racialized, often contradictory notions of the lived reality of their inhabitants. Often paired simultaneously with social pathology and cultural wealth, narratives surrounding these urban spaces help to shape the allocation of public resources, patterns of private investment, and even the agendas of countless researchers across fields as diverse as biomedicine and linguistics seeking to uncover some 'truth' about those living within the boundaries of these spaces whose anomalous demographic profiles make them ripe for study. This proposed session examines the dynamics of cities and how their racial compositions serve to structure inequality while often simultaneously justifying the same.

Session 105: To Be Neither Seen Nor Heard: Abolishing Carceral Logic

Room: Independence C

Sponsor: Disability

Organizer &

Presider: Jessica Penwell Barnett, Wright State University

Description:

This panel will explore how carceral logic operates across various sites, including prisons, institutions of care for those with disabilities, schools, and city spaces, pointing to diverse forms of incarceration. In doing so, it takes an intersectional approach to understanding the relationship between disability and incarceration, pointing to connections with race, class, national origin, gender, etc. It will also suggest strategies for theoretical and rhetorical disruption of the application of carceral logic to the social problem of disability, as well as practical alternatives to incarceration as a mode of ‘problem-solving’.

Organizer: Cassandra Engeman, Stockholm University

Presider &

Discussant: Jenny L. Lendrum, Wayne State University

Description:

This session addresses the causes and consequences of statutory and employer-based family policies. Research on the effects of family-friendly provisions, such as state-subsidized or on-site childcare and maternity, parental, and family leave policies, show wide-ranging benefits for maternal and infant health, family economic well-being, and decreased workforce turnover. Yet, employers have been slow to voluntarily adopt such policies, and many governments have expanded family policies only recently. Notably, the U.S. remains an exception among affluent democracies for offering no paid leave for new parents under federal law. Session papers will explore questions, such as: What are the intended and unintended consequences of family-friendly workplace policies? How does family policy – or lack of policy – shape women's career choices and advancement? When do governments or employers adopt policies that help workers balance responsibilities at and outside work?

Session 145: Author Meets Critics: "Deep Inequality: Understanding the New Normal and How to Challenge It" by Earl Wysong and Robert Perrucci

Room: Salon 3 & 4

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer &

Presider: A. Javier Treviño, Wheaton College

Description:

Forbes reports that the richest 1 percent of the world's population owns nearly half the world's wealth, and the gap between the richest and poorest of the world only continues to increase. Deep Inequality looks behind these stark statistics to understand not only wealth inequality but also rising disparities in other elements of life—from education to the media. The authors argue that inequality has become so pervasive that it is the new normal. When we do recognize troubling inequality, we look at individual or small-scale problems without understanding the broader structural issues that shape the economy, the global political system, and more. Only by understanding the structural forces at play can we recognize the deep divisions in our society and work for meaningful change. Deep Inequality explains the changing landscape of inequality to help readers see society in a new way.

RESOLUTION 1: Just Transition to Renewable Energy with Justice for Workers and Frontline Communities

Submitted by Todd Vachon on behalf of the Labor Studies Division

WHEREAS, the SSSP has previously acknowledged the overwhelming scientific consensus that global climate change is due to human activities, primarily the burning of fossil fuels and deforestation that have caused a dramatic increase in the levels of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases in the atmosphere; and

WHEREAS, the SSSP has resolved to stand in solidarity with the policies, targets, and practices established by the Paris Climate Accord; and

WHEREAS, national and global income and wealth inequality continues to rise to levels never before seen;

WHEREAS, moving rapidly toward a renewable energy economy can—with the right policies in place—be the source of large numbers of new, well-paying jobs that will reinvigorate local economies; and

WHEREAS, climate justice and economic justice can only be achieved when working people and frontline communities are at the center of the transition to renewable energy; and

WHEREAS, a variety of policy tools are available to move rapidly toward renewable energy while providing well-paying stable jobs, income protection, and retraining for workers and communities adversely affected; including, but not limited to: 1) a progressive tax on carbon pollution with the revenue used to support the income, retraining, and provision of new jobs for workers and communities hurt by the transition and those that have historically borne the brunt of pollution from these facilities; and 2) policies referenced in the Clean Energy Worker Just Transition Act, and the “100 By 50” Act which seeks to move towards 100% renewable energy by 2050 while providing protection for workers and communities affected by the transition, and also lowering barriers that make it difficult to organize workers into unions in the new renewable energy jobs;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the SSSP reaffirms its support for the Paris Agreement as a contribution to driving a rapid and managed just transition from fossil fuels to renewable energy; and

BE IT RESOLVED, that the SSSP will support measures that provide strong protection for workers and communities that are adversely affected by the transition away from fossil fuels, such as those detailed in the Clean Energy Worker Just Transition Act and the “100 By 50” Act; and

BE IT RESOLVED, that the SSSP supports the demands of frontline communities for environmental justice, including access to newly created jobs in the renewable energy sector; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the SSSP will work to inform and mobilize members and their families alongside other social forces in support of a just transition to a renewable energy economy.

RESOLUTION 2: Resolution on Disarming Campus Police

Submitted by Amara Miller and B.B. Buchanan

WHEREAS, the history of policing is a history of racial terror; one which grows directly out of runaway slave patrols, the black codes<sup>1</sup>, and anti-immigrant border patrols,

WHEREAS, the history of policing is also a history of class oppression and violence against union organizing, including roots in capitalist systems which frame disabled populations as “demographic threats”,

WHEREAS, police have also historically targeted gender and sexual minorities in support of a heteropatriarchal legal system,

WHEREAS, campus police greatly increased their presence and power on university campuses in the 1960s and 70s to quell student protest<sup>2</sup>, especially those led by marginalized populations,

WHEREAS, many campuses have a long history of activist suppression,<sup>3</sup> including but not limited to the UC Davis pepper spray incident of 2011<sup>4</sup>; and,

WHEREAS, university campuses continue to exhibit incidents of racialized violence by police forces<sup>5</sup>, and in which their access to weapons increases their threat to the students and university workers,<sup>6</sup>

WHEREAS, police violence on university campuses continues to disproportionately impact and endanger those who are not only people of color, but also those who are disabled,<sup>7</sup> LGBTQ+,<sup>8</sup> and/or lower-income student and worker populations,<sup>9</sup>

WHEREAS, police forces have increasing access to military-grade weaponry and vehicles.<sup>10</sup> Although a temporary ban was placed on this by then President Obama, our new president has promised to reinstate the transfer of military grade weapons to police departments<sup>11</sup>.

WHEREAS, despite not needing deadly weapons in the course of their job, campus police continue to utilize a culture of fear around school shootings to justify their increasing armory of military grade hardware,<sup>12</sup>

WHEREAS, there is evidence that campus police rarely intervene in school shootings until after the events are resolved<sup>13</sup>, when they mostly serve to provide secondary support. Despite not demonstrating need, we still see a move towards increased militarization and armament,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) calls for higher education systems to disarm their campus police of all lethal and military-grade hardware.

BE IT RESOLVED, that SSSP calls on universities to provide guidelines for non-police, community-based responses to community wellness issues such as mental health crises or smoking in non-smoking areas, so that even the possibility of unnecessary stop and frisk, search, threat of violence or other escalation is removed from everyday life on campus for all members of the community.

BE IT RESOLVED, the Executive Officer of the SSSP will pen a letter to the editor of The New York Times, with duplicates sent to the Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Tribune, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Huffington Post, the National Public Radio (NPR), the Chronicle of Higher Education, and the University of California Office of the President (UCOP) on the dangers presented by an increasingly militarized and armed campus police force, and which outlines the dangers police have posed to the student body in the past, based in rigorous and empirical data drawn from historical and social research.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, the SSSP reasserts our commitment to fairness, equity, and equality by standing in solidarity with marginalized and hyper-policed students and communities, and calling for the development of student services which are not dependent on police intervention.

2019 Theme: Illuminating the Social in Social Problems

Nancy J. Mezey
Monmouth University
SSSP President (2018-2019)

In his book, The Forest and the Trees: Sociology as Life, Practice, and Promise, the late Allan G. Johnson wrote that the most important thing sociology teaches us is that we are always participating in social systems that are larger than ourselves. Because we are constantly shaping and being shaped by social systems, individualistic models do not work for understanding the social world or for solving social problems. Indeed, Johnson tells us that if we want to solve social problems, we need to understand, explain, and address what is “social” about those problems.

The theme for the 2019 SSSP meetings is a call for social justice theorists, empiricists, practitioners, activists, policy makers, and analysts, to draw deeply and widely on sociological teachings to illuminate the social in all aspects of social problems. If our founding scholars were correct, then our ability to illuminate the social in social problems will help solve some of the major social problems of our time.

The move away from individualistic models is critical in such an illumination. Individualist models focus on the characteristics of individuals without looking at the relationships that connect individuals to each other, to groups, or to larger society. Johnson reminds us that people do not exist outside of systems, and systems cannot function without people. And yet, “people are not systems, and systems are not people,” but the relationship between the two is critical to understanding the social world and the problems caused by unequal power relationships institutionalized throughout history. In other words, a forest is not just a bunch of individual trees, but rather “a collection of trees that exist in a particular relation to one another.” Similarly, society is not simply a collection of unrelated individuals, but rather a collection of people that exist in a particular relation to one another; and those relationships create the very essence of what is “social” in our lives. So when we illuminate the social in social problems, we are illuminating the patterned, structural, and institutionalized relationships that exist among us and connect us together to create our larger social world.

Because of an increasing focus on individualistic models, public discourse lacks a social structural analysis regarding race, class, gender, sexuality, nationality, religion, mass incarceration, and immigration, to name a few. For the 2019 SSSP meetings, I call on our membership to reclaim and refocus that public discourse. Let us carefully consider the connective spaces between the trees that creates the larger forests; the spaces in which social problems are embedded and perpetuated by unequal power relationships. Let us push forward our disciplinary roots to explain what is social about social problems, so that what we understand to be obvious becomes obvious to everyone around us and becomes part of popular thought and parlance.

As a community of social science and social justice researchers, activists, and practitioners, I invite the SSSP membership to join together during the 2019 meetings in New York City to use our collective sociological imaginations to explore each corner of the social world. Our exploration should have the explicit and strategic intention of illuminating the social in social problems and applying what we study and practice in pursuit of becoming a more just global society.

While in New York City, explore this great urban forest as well. Go north on the Manhattan island to Harlem and see the birthplace of some of the greatest American culture. Travel to the southern part of the island and discover how Wall Street got its name. While there, find out where over 10,000 people of African descent were buried in the 1700s, or visit the areas where immigrants lived in tenement homes and started small businesses. Take a ferry to Ellis Island or Liberty Island. Stroll or bike through Central Park, walk the High Line, or visit any number of the green spaces in the City. Take a subway to Brooklyn to see Judy Chicago's "The Dinner Party." Travel to Greenwich Village and check out where a significant part of the modern LGBTQ movement began. And of course, take in the many shows and good eats that NYC has to offer. As you wander around, think about how the spaces of the city connect the seemingly separate neighborhoods and histories to create one large and complex city.

Just as the possibilities of exploring and connecting the many spaces in NYC are endless, so are the possibilities of exploring and connecting the endless spaces of the social world. And as NYC becomes a more illuminated city to you as you explore, let us use our expertise in August 2019 to help illuminate the social in social problems with an intention of informing the rest of the world.

"In a world marked by systemic inequity, precarity, and deception, Global Agenda for Social Justice reckons with pressing social problems in a clear, concise, and scholarly-informed manner. Must reading for scholars, activists, and policy-makers alike!"

Stephen Pfohl, Boston College

Global Agenda for Social Justice provides accessible insights into some of the world's most pressing social problems and proposes international public policy responses to those problems. Written by a highly respected team of authors brought together by the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP), chapters examine topics such as criminal justice, media concerns, environmental problems, economic problems, and issues concerning sexualities and gender. They offer recommendations for action by governing officials, policy makers, and the public around key issues of social justice.
