2019 Theme: Illuminating the SOCIAL in Social Problems

In his book, The Forest and the Trees: Sociology as Life, Practice, and Promise, the late Allan G. Johnson wrote that the most important thing sociology teaches us is that we are always participating in social systems that are larger than ourselves. Because we are constantly shaping and being shaped by social systems, individualistic models do not work for understanding the social world or for solving social problems. Indeed, Johnson tells us that if we want to solve social problems, we need to understand, explain, and address what is “social” about those problems.

The theme for the 2019 SSSP meetings is a call for social justice theorists, empiricists, practitioners, activists, policy makers, and analysts, to draw deeply and widely on sociological teachings to illuminate the social in all aspects of social problems. If our founding scholars were correct, then our ability to illuminate the social in social problems will help solve some of the major social problems of our time.

The move away from individualistic models is critical in such an illumination. Individualist models focus on the characteristics of individuals without looking at the relationships that connect individuals to each other, to groups, or to larger society. Johnson reminds us that people do not exist outside of systems, and systems cannot function without people. And yet, “people are not systems, and systems are not people,” but the relationship between the two is critical to understanding the social world and the problems caused by unequal power relationships institutionalized throughout history. In other words, a forest is not just a bunch of individual trees, but rather “a collection of trees that exist in a particular relation to one another.” Similarly, society is not simply a collection of unrelated individuals, but rather a collection of people that exist in a particular relation to one another; and those relationships create the very essence of what is “social” in our lives. So when we illuminate the social in social problems, we are illuminating the patterned, structural, and institutionalized relationships that exist among us and connect us together to create our larger social world.

Because of an increasing focus on individualistic models, public discourse lacks a social structural analysis regarding race, class, gender, sexuality, nationality, religion, mass incarceration, and immigration, to name a few. For the 2019 SSSP meetings, I call on our membership to reclaim and refocus that public discourse. Let us carefully consider the connective spaces between the trees that creates the larger forests; the spaces in which social problems are embedded and perpetuated by unequal power relationships. Let us push forward our disciplinary roots to explain what is social about social problems, so that what we understand to be obvious becomes obvious to everyone around us and becomes part of popular thought and parlance.
As a community of social science and social justice researchers, activists, and practitioners, I invite the SSSP membership to join together during the 2019 meetings in New York City to use our collective sociological imaginations to explore each corner of the social world. Our exploration should have the explicit and strategic intention of illuminating the social in social problems and applying what we study and practice in pursuit of becoming a more just global society.

While in New York City, explore this great urban forest as well. Go north on the Manhattan island to Harlem and see the birthplace of some of the greatest American culture. Travel to the southern part of the island and discover how Wall Street got its name. While there, find out where over 10,000 people of African descent were buried in the 1700s, or visit the areas where immigrants lived in tenement homes and started small businesses. Take a ferry to Ellis Island or Liberty Island. Stroll or bike through Central Park, walk the High Line, or visit any number of the green spaces in the City. Take a subway to Brooklyn to see Judy Chicago’s “The Dinner Party.” Travel to Greenwich Village and check out where a significant part of the modern LGBTQ movement began. And of course, take in the many shows and good eats that NYC has to offer. As you wander around, think about how the spaces of the City connect the seemingly separate neighborhoods and histories to create one large and complex city.

Just as the possibilities of exploring and connecting the many spaces in NYC are endless, so are the possibilities of exploring and connecting the endless spaces of the social world. And as NYC becomes a more illuminated city to you as you explore, let us use our expertise in August 2019 to help illuminate the social in social problems with an intention of informing the rest of the world.

Welcome to New York!

New York is a global megalopolis and a city of distinctive character that sets it apart as one and only in the world. New York City is known for its diversity, fearlessness, ingenuity, and energy. As one of the largest and most important cities in the U.S., New York City bears the glory and pain of modern U.S. history: immigration, poverty and urban crowding, the Great Depression, labor movements, urban renewal and suburbanization, real estate and financial booms, crumbling infrastructure and rising costs, the tragedy of 9/11, and the economic crash of 2008. New York City presents a complexity unlike any other.

As we welcome our SSSP members, we honor the first peoples of our city, who had nurtured this land for generations. New York City sits on the traditional lands of the Lenape, Rockaway, Canarsie, and Matinecock People (https://www.native-land.ca/). African slaves arrived in the 1620s and played critical roles in building the Dutch colony of New Amsterdam, as well as in the continuing construction and expansion after the English captured New Amsterdam and renamed the City "New York" in the late 1600s. It is important to remember these earliest residents whose labor was instrumental to the formation, development, and prosperity of the City.

New Yorkers are a truly diverse group. Immigrants from around the world have molded the shape and story of the City since its colonial time. That tradition continues today. Thirty-seven percent of New York City residents today are foreign-born (American Community Survey 2017). Nearly half of New York City’s households (48.9%) speak languages other than English at home. Over 800 languages are spoken in the City. These diverse groups of courageous New Yorkers have established a long tradition of social movements for labor rights, civil rights, racial justice, gender equality, LBGTQ rights, and religious freedom.

New York City has incredible energy as a result of the diversity and the many contradictions existing side by side; the ultra-rich (0.1% of New Yorkers are worth $30 million or more according to Forbes magazine) and the poor (19.6% were below the poverty line in 2017 according to the American FactFinder), capitalists and workers, people of all races and cultures around the globe, political liberals and conservatives, the traditionalist and the avant-garde, the old and the young rub elbows on the streets every day. Together, they create stories, tastes, and smells of this exciting city.

New York City is full of significant landmarks and museums telling these stories:

- New York’s most known landmarks, museums, and entertainment centers include:
  - The Statue of Liberty (http://www.nps.gov/stli/index.htm)
  - Ellis Island National Museum of Immigration (https://www.libertyellisfoundation.org/)
  - The 9/11 Memorial and Museum (https://www.911memorial.org/)
  - The Empire State Building (http://www.esbnyc.com/)
  - Times Square and Broadway (http://www.ppc.broadway.com/)
  - Historic Districts in Harlem (https://www1.nyc.gov/site/lpc/about/pr2018/052918b.page)
  - The Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture (https://www.nypl.org/locations/schomburg)
  - Rockefeller Center (http://www.rockefellercenter.com/)
  - The Central Park Conservancy (http://www.centralparknyc.org/)
  - The Metropolitan Museum of Art (http://www.metmuseum.org/)
  - The Museum of Modern Art (http://www.moma.org/)
  - The Guggenheim Museum (http://www.guggenheim.org/)
  - The American Museum of Natural History (http://www.amnh.org/).

- For some lesser-known treasures and events in the City, please check out the “Public Summer Events in New York City” link on the 2019 Annual Meeting webpage, https://www.sssp1.org/index.cfm/m/768/Public_Summer_Events_in_New_York_City/

Most of all, New York is a city of people. At different corners of this 21st-century global city, one can find layered marks of lived history in old restaurants, in tucked-away courtyards, on inconspicuous cultural medallions on unassuming buildings, and in back alleys that are easy to miss. One of the best ways to experience the City is simply to walk the streets of diverse neighborhoods and immerse yourself in the movements and sounds of the City while exploring these layers. This is home to the thousands of groups whose visions, dreams, and hard work have shaped, and are still creating, the past and the future. Not a single day is boring in this city. SSSP members and their families will enjoy a weekend of invigorating dialogues, renewed energy, ever-surprising social and cultural scenes, and rich history.

Welcome to the Big Apple–The Student Edition!

New York is a vibrant city where you will encounter people from all walks of life. It is a city of history, of change, of immigration, of resettlement, and of contradictions. Everyone is able to carve out a space in this city. Graduate students, artists, scholars, immigrants, tech workers, and millionaires co-exist. Summer is the best time to visit New York. It will be hot for sure, but you will experience the most dynamic time in the City like no other.

First, you will never exhaust food options when you are in New York. Around Midtown where the conference takes place, you can find many food options from Italian cuisine, to Korean BBQ and to Mediterranean food. The food industry in New York is expanding (NYCEDC, 2016). My favorites in Midtown area are Han Bat, a Korean restaurant at 35th and Broadway, and Ravagh Persian Grill at 30th and Fifth Ave. Of course, you should venture further south to Chinatown and to Jackson Heights in Queens to enjoy dumplings and Indian masalas. If you are in a hurry, food trucks are some of the best options. The Halal Guys is New Yorkers’ favorite. You will have generous portions of chicken or lamb over rice for less than $10. Recently, many food halls have been opened in the City. They offer great opportunities for you to try many different types of food from Döner Kebab to Banh Mi in one location. Chelsea Market, Smorgasburg, or Turnstyle Underground Market will not disappoint you.

If you are into arts and art history, go to the Museum Mile, which is a stretch along 5th Avenue that is full of museums and art institutions such as the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum, Museum of the City of New York, and Cooper Hewitt National Museum of Design (https://www.ny.com/museums/mile.html). One of my favorite museums near the Museum Mile is the Frick Collection. It is a private collection of old-master paintings and fine furniture. Students get discount tickets, and on Wednesdays between 2-6 p.m. you can pay as you wish. If you are interested in modern art, the Whitney Museum of American Art is a must. It is housed in an impressive modern building in the Meatpacking District Lower Manhattan. Taking the entrance to the High Line, you can exit the museum and enjoy an afternoon walk on this famous public park built on a historic freight rail line on Manhattan’s West Side. I highly recommend you get an ice cream at La Newyorkina after a museum visit. Nothing would complement your museum experience better than having a delicious coconut passion fruit ice cream on a hot summer day.

If Broadway and off-Broadway shows are your ideal entertainment after a long day of conference, you will have many options. Getting a ticket at one of the Theatre Development Fund’s discount ticket booths might save you up to 50% of the cost (https://www.tdf.org/). New York is also home to some of the world’s best comedians. I highly recommend comedy clubs here. You can book a show in advance at Gotham Comedy Club (https://www.gothamcomedyclub.com/), Comedy Cellar (https://www.comedycellar.com/), or Upright Citizens Brigade (https://www.ucbcomedy.com/). If you are interested in attending shows such as The Daily Show, The Late Night Show, or Full Frontal, you can simply enter the lottery on their websites to win a free ticket to these shows.

Each neighborhood in New York has a distinct character and walking in a neighborhood is the best way to experience it. I highly recommend the Garment District Walking Tour led by Mike Kaback (http://www.mikesnyctours.com/). Mike is a native New Yorker and a former garment worker. He was actively involved in the labor movement in the garment industry in the 1980s. Now he shows visitors some part of the vanishing New York that he knows and loves. Recently, the tech industry is increasingly exerting its influence in the City. When you stroll around the Silicon Alley area, which is centered around the Flatiron district in Midtown, you will recognize various signs that the tech industry is changing the landscape of New York.

If you need some quiet time to work or re-wind after a long day of conferencing, Central Park, and its various meadows are ideal. Otherwise, New York Public Library’s 92 branches are a perfect quiet place to work for a few hours with free WiFi. My go-to place in Midtown is the Schwarzman Building, located only three blocks from the SSSP meeting, where one can marvel at its beautiful structure (https://www.nypl.org/locations/schwarzman). Or if you simply need some caffeine, Café Grumpy at 42nd and Lexington will provide you with a perfect cup of coffee and maybe some quiet place to work.

Finally, transportation is very important. A 7-day metro pass will help to reach virtually everywhere in New York City. Or if you want to cycle in New York, I highly recommend Citi Bike. In the summer, you can also take the ferry from 34th street to go to Queens or Brooklyn. Do take advantage of the subway, and go to Little Italy in the Bronx, or Coney Island in Brooklyn. Again, New York City welcomes you.

SSSP Anti-Harassment Policy

As a social justice organization, the SSSP is committed to creating a safe and welcoming space at the annual meeting for the free exchange of ideas and professional development; an environment free from harassment based on, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender identity or gender expression, national origin, age, disability, health conditions, sexual orientation, religion, language, socioeconomic status, marital status, domestic status, or parental status. This includes the harassment of colleagues, students, guests, SSSP and hotel staff, vendors, exhibitors, and others present at the annual meeting. To that end, we ask you to help us to make it very clear that anyone engaging in this kind of behavior is not welcomed at the annual meeting. (The Society also has a Sexual Harassment Workplace Policy, listing numerous examples of sexual harassment, in the Operations Manual, for members to consult if they wish.)
The Society for the Study of Social Problems is committed to the eradication of discrimination (both intentional and unintentional), harassment, intimidation, and violence directed at individuals and groups based on, but not limited to, race and ethnicity, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, age, class, nationality and immigrant status, ability, and religion. Offensive and prohibited conduct may include, but is not limited to, offensive jokes, slurs, epithets, name calling, physical assaults and threats, unwanted touching and persistent unwanted attention and invasion of personal space, intimidation, ridicule or mockery, and insults and put-downs. Whenever and wherever possible, the Society will affirm this commitment to anti-racist, anti-sexist, anti-homophobic, anti-xenophobic, and anti-Islamophobic agenda, publicly and explicitly. As an organization dedicated to social justice, the Society will take very seriously, reports, formal or informal, of harassment or discrimination in the organization and at annual and other Society meetings. To the greatest degree possible, the Society will do what it can to respond appropriately to those who violate our policies and to protect victims and potential victims, from being subjected to this type of unwanted and offensive behavior. We will make every effort to ensure that this commitment is manifest in the policies, programs, and practices of the organization, including in the public positions the SSSP takes on issues, both national and international. SSSP expressly prohibits retaliation against individuals who report harassment and will take action against those who retaliate.

If you witness an incident and can help without placing yourself or anyone else in danger, we encourage you to do so. If you or someone is in imminent physical danger, we urge you to alert hotel security and/or law enforcement. Otherwise, attendees are encouraged to report possible instances of harassment to the Executive Officer, Héctor L. Delgado, or Anti-Harassment Committee Chair, Sarah Jane Brubaker, in person, by phone (Héctor: 626-710-0959, Sarah Jane: 804-497-0189), or at hector.delgado49@gmail.com, sbrubaker@vcu.edu.

For your convenience, the Society’s policy is available on pages 79-81 and a list of local agencies and professionals in the area for you to contact should the need arise are included after the index of participants on pages 91-92. Please note, however, that we have not vetted them. Finally, we trust that you will enjoy and feel safe at the meeting, but if you can think of other ways that we can enhance your and other participants’ enjoyment and safety, please let us know.

Hotel Services

The 69th SSSP Annual Meeting is located at the Roosevelt Hotel. The hotel is ideally situated in the business district and located within walking distance of the Rockefeller Center and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It is the perfect location for seeing all that the City has to offer.

Hotel Dining Options

The Roosevelt Hotel offers a vibrant dining and nightlife scene across multiple restaurants and bars. Whether you are looking for a quick breakfast, a decadent dinner, or a couple of hand-crafted cocktails, the Roosevelt has got you covered.

Roosevelt Grill: Start your day with Starbucks coffee, a bountiful buffet and all your morning favorites like breakfast sandwiches, freshly-baked pastries, and cold cereals. Open daily for breakfast only.

Madison Club Lounge: The Madison Club Lounge offers mouthwatering lunch and dinner fare in a relaxed, comfortable setting. Treat yourself to steak frites, pan-roasted wild salmon, or the legendary Roosevelt burger, or simply cap off the night with a drink and a game of eight ball in the Billiards Room.

Vander Bar: The Roosevelt Hotel’s street level bar is perfect for happy-hour gatherings, speedy business lunches and afternoon libations. Open Monday – Friday from 12:00pm – 9:00pm.

Mad46: The rooftop lounge is currently closed for construction and will re-open in Spring 2020.

Nearby Dining Options

From iconic to innovative, slow to fast, fine dining to budget eats, you will find something exciting for every taste and wallet in the Big Apple. Nearby the conference hotel, a wide range of restaurants around Bryant Park, Times Square, and the Grand Central Terminal can satisfy your dietary needs and your yearning for tastes from all around the world. A few more blocks away, you will find yourself in well-known dining neighborhoods of Koreatown and Hell’s Kitchen. You can easily take public transportation to get to legendary eateries in Harlem, the East and West Village, and Chinatown. Venture out of Manhattan and head to Brooklyn for trendy restaurants in Brooklyn Heights and Park Slope, and steakhouses in Williamsburg. A bit further out and you can immerse yourself in the cultures and tastes of different immigrant communities-West Indian food in Flatbush and Crown Heights in Brooklyn, Chinese and Korean food in Flushing, Greek food in Astoria, and various Latin American and Caribbean food in Corona, Queens. The foodie possibilities are endless!

Filicori Zecchini: Located at 2541 Broadway, Filicori Zecchini offers phenomenal coffee, juices, and light breakfast.

Uncle Paul’s Pizza: Located at 70 Vanderbilt Avenue, Uncle Paul’s Pizza offers a large variety of pizzas by the slice or order whole... pizzas. They also serve pastas and other items along with a large variety of drinks and desserts.

For those who intend to remain near the conference hotel, there are many offerings within a few blocks.

Where can I get a drink?
- Cock & Bull: 23 West 45th Street
- BH Kitchen and Bar: 20 East 49th Street A
- Tavern 51: 455 Madison Avenue at 50th Street
- Snafu: 127 East 47th Street

A nice meal near the conference hotel
Options abound if you want to get out of the hotel and find something quick (or not so quick) to eat. A few suggestions within a few blocks of the hotel:
- The Dining Concourse, Grand Central Terminal (contains 20 dining options): 89 East 42nd Street
- Carmine’s Italian Restaurant: 200 West 44th Street
- The Breslin: 16 West 29th Street

Shopping
The Roosevelt Hotel features a collection of shops and boutiques selling apparel, shoes, jewelry, gifts, souvenirs, body care and travel essentials. Located on the street level inside the hotel, the shops are easily accessible via the elevator to the Arcade Level. And in the event you forget to pack everyday basics, the Gift Shop on the Lobby Level features newspapers, toiletries, snacks, and variety of retail items.

New York Area Attractions

Summertime in the City, particularly in early August, can be very hot, so make sure to bring comfortable clothing and drink plenty of water as you explore. However, even with the hot temperatures, New York City in the summertime provides many opportunities for entertainment and sightseeing! Here are some attractions you may want to consider:
- Rockefeller Center: (.4 miles from hotel), is a National Historic Landmark that offers amazing views of the City from the Top of the Rock, tours of Radio City Music Hall, and the iconic ice-skating rink.
- Radio City Music Hall: (.6 miles from hotel), is the largest indoor theater in the world and home to the famous Rockettes. The venue has hosted hundreds of legendary performers, from Ella Fitzgerald and Liberace to the biggest artists of today.
- Times Square: (1 mile from hotel), Take a stroll along the most famous intersection in the world. Enjoy exciting Broadway shows, world-class shopping and dining, and entertaining street performers.
- Carnegie Hall: (1.3 miles from hotel), is one of New York City’s premier concert halls and has been graced by many legendary performers, including BB King, Benny Goodman and Billie Holiday.
- Central Park: (1.4 miles from hotel), Explore the world’s most famous park, located in the heart of New York City and featuring lush lawns, lakes, gardens, trails, historic bridges and attractions like the Central Park Zoo.
- Bryant Park, Fifth Avenue, Grand Central Terminal, Broadway, Museum of Modern Art, and Madison Square Garden are all less than 2 miles from the conference hotel.

Attractions further from the hotel are readily accessible by public transportation. A few suggestions:
- 9/11 Memorial Museum, is a center that documents the significance of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in 2001. Museum artifacts include first-person accounts of what happened on that September morning in 2001, multi-media displays, and exhibits on history, which commemorate nearly 3,000 people who lost their lives in the attacks.
- Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island, enjoy a seamless visit to the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island in New York Harbor. This tour benefits from early reserve-line access for a round-trip ferry trip, as well as an optional early morning departure that puts you ahead of many sightseers. Your guide takes you through Lady Liberty’s pedestal and to its observation decks, as well as through the Great Hall exhibits at Ellis Island.
- Empire State Building, get an unparalleled 360-degree view of New York City from the top of the iconic Empire State Building. Visit popular landmarks such as Central Park, the Chrysler Building, the Statue of Liberty, and Times Square.

Childcare

The SSSP does not provide childcare services at the annual meeting, but the Administrative Office can provide members, upon request, with a list of other members in need of childcare, in the event that they want to coordinate childcare/outings/etc. with one another. If this does not satisfy their childcare needs, members can call 1-212-682-0227 to contact the Baby Sitter’s Guild, a childcare service in New York City recommended by the hotel. Please note that the Society has not vetted and therefore is not in the position to recommend this service. Consequently, members are advised to visit the service’s website http://www.babysittersguild.com/ and to conduct their own vetting.

Accessibility and Social Justice

Special services arranged in advance can be verified with Michele Koontz, Administrative Officer & Meeting Manager, upon arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you require. Please see Michele if you encounter any problems or need further assistance.

The SSSP has established an Accessibility Services Fund in order for members to be able to contribute directly to making the annual meeting accessibility services more affordable for attendees with disabilities. Based on the generosity of those who donated when they registered, we received $305 in donations.

Air Quality – Smoking – Service Animals. Please refrain from wearing any scented products to respect attendees who may be sensitive and/or allergic to these types of chemicals. Smoking is not allowed in the meeting space or restaurants. Unless you use a service or therapy dog or other credentialed assistance animal, we ask that you not bring companion animals to the book exhibit or areas where members are presenting. The closest grassy area near the hotel for service or therapy dogs is Bryant Park (located on West 42nd Street between 5th and 6th Avenue).

An Area of Rescue Assistance will be clearly marked with signage on the Mezzanine Level and on the 2nd Floor Conference Level. In the event of a hotel evacuation during meeting hours, hotel staff will check these areas for attendees who require assistance.

The Comfort Zone provides a quiet environment for you to relax, reflect, and re-energize. This space is available to all conference attendees, no matter where you are staying. Please feel free to bring your morning coffee or afternoon snack and relax, unwind, or get organized for the rest of your day. This space should not be used for committee meetings.

The Comfort Zone is located in the Columbus Suite on the 2nd Floor Conference Level and available during the following hours:

- Friday: 8:00am-6:00pm
- Saturday: 8:00am-6:00pm
- Sunday: 8:00am-5:00pm

All-Gender Restroom. An all-gender restroom is located near registration on the Mezzanine Level. This facility is available because it is important that all members feel safe and included.

For many transgender people and people who do not conform to societal gender norms, using a public restroom is a daily struggle. Trans and gender expansive people are often harassed, physically assaulted, or questioned by authorities in both men’s and women’s restrooms if they are assumed to be in the wrong restroom.

An all-gender restroom provides access to a safe restroom and changing area for people of any gender identity and presentation. They also provide a safe space for those who need the assistance of a personal care attendant or those with small children.

Lactation Room. A lactation room is located in the Lafayette Suite, 2nd Floor Conference Level and available during the following hours:

- Friday: 8:00am-6:00pm
- Saturday: 8:00am-6:00pm
- Sunday: 8:00am-5:00pm

Hotel. The Roosevelt Hotel participates in the ORCA program. ORCA designs, manufactures, and installs the leading technology in the food waste recycling industry. ORCA uses mostly air, along with water and microbiology to turn food waste into an environmentally safe liquid that goes down the drain and is disposed of using the existing sanitary sewer infrastructure. ORCA is a hyperlocal, distributed alternative to the traditional truck and bin collection system that delivers significant savings because they eliminate trucking from the process while significantly reducing the harmful emissions that come with truck traffic.

Sessions. SSSP strives to make its annual meeting as accessible as possible. Each presentation or session should be designed and conducted with the full participation of all in mind.

Wheelchair Access to Plaza Suite. Attendees must enter thru Grand Ballroom by going down Grand Ballroom Hallway.

Accessibility Information. If a need arises on-site, we encourage you to stop by the SSSP registration desk for assistance. SSSP is committed to making the annual meeting accessible to all. For more information on Accessibility Guidelines for program participants, presenters, and session organizers, scan the QR code with your device’s QR Code Reader/Scanner.

Transportation Options

Subway Station. The Roosevelt Hotel is located two blocks from Grand Central Terminal, where you can take airport shuttle buses to John F. Kennedy International and LaGuardia. For more information on NYC airport shuttle buses, visit https://www.nycairporter.com/. Shuttle buses to Newark Liberty International Airport also stop at Grand Central Terminal. Book Exhibit

The Scholar’s Choice has a long and successful history of managing academic book exhibits, and we welcome them to our meeting. The book exhibit contains a comprehensive collection of the latest and most significant titles on social problems. Included are many books authored by SSSP members, as well as titles selected by the SSSP membership. The book exhibit will be open throughout the conference. Please stop by and see the results of your suggestions and recommendations and to support the book exhibit.

Bristol University Press, and its imprint Policy Press, publisher of the Agenda for Social Justice: Solutions for 2016 and the Global Agenda for Social Justice are committed to publishing the highest quality scholarship in the social sciences and aligned disciplines. Their work aims to make a positive contribution from the advancement of ideas through to practical implementation and provide an internationally respected platform for the global scholarly community to disseminate work that matters.

Policy Press has its roots in social policy and social justice, and is committed to progressive social change. Over more than twenty years, it has built a reputation for publishing scholarship that focuses on improving individual lives and reaches beyond academia to government, professionals and the wider public to inform policy and practice.

If you would like to hear more about their books and journals publishing by meeting with one of their editors at the conference, please contact Shannon Kneis (Shannon.Kneis@bristol.ac.uk) or follow them on twitter: @BrisUniPress / @policypress.
Meeting Mentor Program

The Meeting Mentor Program is designed to facilitate interaction between new members or graduate students and meeting veterans at the annual meeting. The Administrative Office would like to thank Louis Edgar Esparza, Lee Student Support Fund Committee Chair, for coordinating the program. Eighty-nine mentees were assigned a meeting mentor.

Running Group Opportunity in New York City

Come and get your morning run in (Friday, Saturday, and Sunday). We will meet in the hotel lobby (near the floral arrangement) at 5:50am and promptly depart at 6:00am. This is a light run, a fun way to enjoy the City. The running route will be determined at the time of the run by Giovanna Follo, our running leader. She will be using MapMyRun to get a 40 minute run, approximately. If you have experience running in the City and have a favourite route let her know, giovanna.follo@wright.edu. Her hope is to get one Central Park Run. If rain is expected, look for a cancellation via an alert in the mobile app the night before.

Voices of the Lumbee

Mark your schedule to attend the free film screening of Voices of the Lumbee with a discussion afterwards on Friday, August 9 from 4:30pm-6:10pm (East End Suite, 2nd Floor Conference Level).

Voices of the Lumbee is a 70-minute feature-length documentary film that tells the story of Robeson County, North Carolina—one of the most economically depressed regions in the country and home of the Lumbee Tribe, the largest non-federally recognized American Indian tribe in the U.S. Raising awareness about the ongoing struggles of the Lumbee, the film examines historical factors that led to the present, portraying a unique story about Southern working-class life and cultural preservation.

Michele Fazio will lead a Q&A after the film’s screening. To view the trailer, go to https://voicesofthelumbee.wordpress.com/.

Important Meetings

Graduate Student Meeting/Workshop/Happy Hour with the Student Board Representatives

Student Board Representatives Apoorva Ghosh and Maria D. Duenas would like to meet with all graduate students on Friday, August 9 from 2:30pm-4:10pm (Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level). This will be an excellent opportunity for students to mingle and discuss any issues.

During the meeting, there will be a Graduate Student Workshop entitled, “Navigating Power Relations, Hierarchies, and Anxieties as Graduate Students.” The workshop leaders are: Luis A. Fernandez, Northern Arizona University; Claire M. Renzetti, University of Kentucky; and David A. Smith, University of California, Irvine.

Workshop Description:

We often hear stories of professional harassment of graduate students, making the rounds in hushed tones, some of which occasionally erupt into public, creating scandalous headlines and bringing disrepute to the academic power elites that are the alleged oppressors or harassers. Graduate students deserve a work environment that is just, equitable, respectful, and ethical—a place where they can work and complete their Ph.D. with dignity and respect. But sometimes graduate students find themselves in very different situations, so it is imperative to discuss how graduate students might navigate challenges that primarily arise due to hierarchies, power relations, and unfair and unjust situations in their department or school. For example, how should graduate students react to circumstances that they perceive to be unethical, dishonest or disrespectful treatment by people in positions of power in their departments? How can students navigate such challenges, which may be compounded by the lack of support from people whom they... trust or depend on, such as their advisors and graduate directors? And how might students deal with the “shell” of collegiality coothing professors who unsurprisingly prefer to support faculty colleagues rather than students, if they are compelled to make such choices? This workshop offers strategies to navigate anxieties, hierarchies, and power relations that graduate students often encounter in their departments. The panelists will provide a faculty perspective on these issues and share insights on tactfully responding to hostility embedded in power hierarchies. They will also discuss how to avoid replicating systems of oppression in relationships with their own students, or in later careers as faculty members or in other positions of authority.

The Graduate Student Happy Hour is scheduled later in the evening from 7:45pm-8:45pm (Location: The Beer Bar, 200 Park Avenue-MetLife Building, Indoor area, Ground Level). Complimentary beer, wine, and non-alcoholic beverages will be available.

Open Discussion of Proposed Resolutions Being Proposed to the SSSP Board of Directors

Plan to attend the open forum of discussion where resolutions will be presented among concerned members on Friday, August 9 from 2:30pm-4:10pm (Plaza Suite, Mezzanine Level). Each proposed resolution will be presented by the person who created the resolution (or designated representative) and the sponsoring Division’s Chairperson. Adequate time for discussion will be properly allotted. All Division Chairs should plan to participate in this session or designate a proxy from their division if unable to attend.

At the Annual Business Meeting, the proposed resolutions will be presented (including any modifications or revisions) by Vice-President William D. Cabin as a package for approval for action by the attending membership. The membership will vote on proposed resolutions that were discussed and revised on the first day of the meeting. If objections from the floor are raised to any specific resolution at the SSSP Business Meeting, that resolution can, by majority vote of those present, be separated from the package, and voted on separately. Those present can either vote to support the resolution as proposed or decide to table the resolution for further discussion at the subsequent year’s annual meeting. The proposed resolutions are available on pages 94-103.

SSSP Business Meeting Open to SSSP Members

Plan to attend the SSSP Business Meeting on Saturday, August 10 from 4:15pm-5:25pm (Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level) for an update on the status and future of SSSP. Summary reports on the Society and its key activities this year will be given. The meeting concludes with the traditional transfer of the gavel, marking the transition of duties from President Nancy J. Mezey to incoming President Heather M. Dalmage. An open discussion period will follow the meeting. All members are invited to this meeting. The agenda is available on page 93. The Business Meeting is immediately followed by the Presidential Address and everyone is invited to remain for that.

Important Events

Presidential Address Open to SSSP Registrants

Plan to attend the Presidential Address featuring the formal address of President Nancy J. Mezey on Saturday, August 10 from 5:30pm-6:30pm (Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level). All registrants are invited to this session.

Awards Ceremony Open to SSSP Registrants

Plan to attend the Awards Ceremony, conferring the 2019 major SSSP awards, on Saturday, August 10 from 6:45pm-7:45pm (Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level). All registrants are invited to this event.

AWARDS TO BE PRESENTED

SSSP Division Awards: Winners of the student paper competitions will be announced.

Arlene Kaplan Daniels Paper Award: For an author of the best paper on Women and Social Justice.

Beth B. Hess Memorial Scholarship: This $18,000 scholarship will be awarded to a new or continuing graduate student who began her or his study in a community college or technical school.

C. Wright Mills Award: For a distinguished book that exemplifies outstanding social science research and an understanding of the individual and society in the tradition of C. Wright Mills.

Doris Wilkinson Faculty Leadership Award: For an outstanding faculty member who has exercised an extensive leadership role within the SSSP and other professional societies and within the larger community.

Joseph B. Gittler Award: For significant scholarly achievement that a SSSP member has made in contributing to the ethical resolution of social problems.

Kathleen S. Lowney Mentoring Award: For an outstanding faculty member or community activist who recognizes the value of quality mentoring relationships between mentor and mentee and/or mentoring programs especially those for undergraduate or graduate students and/or for social activists, particularly for younger scholars and activists.

Lee Founders Award: For recognition of significant achievements that have demonstrated continuing devotion to the ideals of the founders of the Society and especially to the humanistic tradition of the Lees.
Racial/Ethnic Minority Graduate Fellowship: Two $15,000 fellowships will be awarded annually for support of graduate study and commitment to a career of scholar-activism.

Thomas C. Hood Social Action Award: This $5,000 award will be presented to a not-for-profit organization in the New York City area in recognition of challenging social inequalities, promoting social change, and/or working toward the empowerment of marginalized peoples.

Thomas C. Hood Social Action Award Fundraiser–Raffle
Buy a $5 raffle ticket for a two-night hotel stay at the Roosevelt Hotel, the 2019 SSSP conference hotel. The certificate is valid until August 30, 2020, and cannot be applied to the winner’s stay during the annual meeting. The winner will be announced at the awards ceremony. You do not have to be present to win. All proceeds will benefit, Nobody Leaves Mid-Hudson, winner of the 2019 Thomas C. Hood Social Action Award.

Receptions and Special Events

Arrival Meet & Greet Reception  Open to SSSP Registrants
All meeting registrants are invited to the Arrival Meet & Greet Reception on Thursday, August 8, to celebrate the opening of the 69th Annual Meeting. This social hour kicks off at 6:30pm (Grand Ballroom Foyer, Mezzanine Level) and provides opportunities to renew past acquaintances, chat with old friends, and find a newcomer to befriend. New members and first-time meeting attendees are particularly encouraged to attend. A cash bar and light food will be available.

Welcoming Reception  Open to SSSP Registrants
All meeting registrants are invited to the Welcoming Reception on Friday, August 9. This social hour kicks off at 6:30pm (Grand Ballroom Foyer, Mezzanine Level) and provides opportunities to renew past acquaintances, chat with old friends, and find a newcomer to befriend. New members and first-time meeting attendees are particularly encouraged to attend. A cash bar and light food will be available.

Transnational Initiatives Committee Reception  Open to SSSP Registrants
The Transnational Initiatives Committee (TIC) will host a reception for all of the Thematic Session Panelists (Transforming Structures of Violence: Human Rights and the Work of Social Justice in Transnational Perspective), members (current and incoming) of the TIC, and anyone interested in the work of the TIC, or finding out more about it. The reception will be held at Dutch Fred’s (307 W. 47th Street) on Friday, August 9 from 7:30pm-9:00pm. Drinks and hors d’oeuvres will be available. We hope this event will help us welcome our Thematic Session panelists and recruit them as continuing members, strengthen ties among those serving on the Committee and to prepare it for its transition to new leadership, and draw new interest in the TIC among existing members across the Society.

New Member Breakfast
On Saturday, August 10 from 7:15am-8:15am (Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level) established SSSP members will host a breakfast, greeting, welcoming, and networking with new members. Enter the room with a “New Member” or “Host” ribbon on your SSSP name badge.

Division-Sponsored Reception  Open to SSSP Registrants
Following the Awards Ceremony on Saturday, August 10, the following divisions will host the joint reception from 7:45pm-8:45pm (Grand Ballroom Foyer, Mezzanine Level): Community Research and Development; Conflict, Social Action, and Change; Crime and Juvenile Delinquency; Disability; Educational Problems; Environment and Technology; Family; Global; Health, Health Policy, and Health Services; Institutional Ethnography; Labor Studies; Law and Society; Poverty, Class, and Inequality; Racial and Ethnic Minorities; Sexual Behavior, Politics, and Communities; Social Problems Theory; Society and Mental Health; Sociology and Social Welfare; Sport, Leisure, and the Body; Teaching Social Problems; and Youth, Aging, and the Life Course. Complimentary beer, wine, and non-alcoholic beverages and heavy hors d’oeuvres will be available.

Drinking and Drugs Division Reception
The Drinking and Drugs Division will once again be holding its annual joint reception with the Alcohol, Drugs, and Tobacco Section of the American Sociological Association. The reception will be held at Tanner Smith’s (204 West 55th Street) on Saturday, August 10 from 8:00pm-9:30pm. Drinks and light food will be available.

One-Day Workshops
SSSP is offering two one-day workshops. Tickets will be sold in the registration area. Those who registered in advance will receive their ticket(s) with their name badge.

Community-Based Participatory Action Research  Monday, August 12, 9:00am-4:30pm
Location: Roosevelt Hotel
Room: Vanderbilt Suite, 2nd floor Conference Level
Registration Fee: $50 for employed registrants or $25 for unemployed/activist/student registrants

The Community Research and Development Division is hosting an interactive workshop for researchers who use or are interested in community-based participatory action research. The workshop will (1) offer a foundational orientation to the purpose and process of CBPAR; and (2) provide a context within which CBPAR scholars, both new and old, can learn from each other and build a stronger network. This one-day workshop will be divided into two sections. In the morning, Section I will cover the following topics: (1) What is CBPAR and Why Do It?; (2) Capacity Building and Community Partnerships; and (3) CBPAR Methodology – Balancing Methodological Rigor with Community Need. In the afternoon, Section II will cover the following topics: (1) Data Dissemination: To Whom, How, and Where; (2)
Publishing and Funding: Challenges and Opportunities; and (3) Maintaining Partnerships and Building Steam. The workshop will be collaboratively delivered by Drs. Charlotte Ryan, Felicia Sullivan, and Jessica Lucero. The workshop will be interactive in nature and provide opportunities for attendees to discuss their CBPAR research ideas and receive feedback. For researchers with prior training and/or experience, there will be a breakout session provided to discuss their work and concerns.

Morning Session, 9:00am–12:00pm
1. Introduction: What is CBPAR and Why Do It?
2. Capacity Building and Community Partnerships
3. CBPAR Methodology – Balancing Methodological Rigor with Community Need

Lunch: 12:00pm–1:30pm (not provided)

Afternoon Session, 1:30pm–4:30pm
1. Data Dissemination: To Whom, How, and Where
2. Publishing and Funding: Challenges and Opportunities
3. Maintaining Partnerships and Building Steam

Institutional Ethnography
Monday, August 12, 9:30am–3:30pm
Location: Roosevelt Hotel
Room: Hudson Suite, Mezzanine Level
Registration Fee: $75 for employed registrants or $50 for unemployed/activist/student registrants

The Institutional Ethnography Division is hosting an interactive workshop for all people who use or are interested in deepening their engagement with the alternative sociology, institutional ethnography (IE). This year, as a commitment to IE’s roots in feminist and community organizing, the workshop offers structured opportunities to engage applications of IE by activists and community organizers, as well as academics. Praxis International, founded by the late Dr. Ellen Pence, will open this year’s workshop to discuss the vision and impact of Institutional Analysis (IA). The IA is a practical process of analyzing institutions that develops an agenda for change to guide the reform of institutional processes that don’t work well for the people they’re intended to serve. Applied initially, and extensively, to the criminal case processing of domestic violence, IA is increasingly sought by activists for systems change in the areas of child protection and welfare, criminal case processing of sexual assault, reduction of disparity of impact and outcomes for marginalized populations, and more. This opening plenary will provide an opportunity to learn about IA’s roots in IE, its evolution as a tool for activists and practitioners to come together to identify and change problematic institutional practices, and successes and challenges in several recent IA projects seeking to make change in local communities.

The tentative schedule for the day will be as follows:

9:30am-10:45am Minute Talk and Q&A with Praxis International on Using Institutional Analysis to Organize for Systems Change

10:45am Break

11:00am-12:30pm Interactive Work with Participants following a world cafe format and focusing on practical and methodological issues people experience. Conversations will be facilitated by activist, community organizing and academic experts

12:30pm-1:30pm Lunch (not provided)

1:30pm-3:30pm Fishbowl Presentation/Conversation with people who do/use IE in diverse ways (i.e., community organizers, activists and academics who are using this sociological approach in diverse settings, with diverse participants and to do a range of different things).

Walking Tours

SSSP is offering two walking tours. Tickets for the Grand Central Terminal tour will be sold in the registration area. Those who registered in advance will receive their ticket(s) with their name badge.

African Burial Ground National Monument Walking Tour – SOLD OUT
Saturday, August 10, 10:00am–2:00pm

In 1991, construction work for a federal office building on 290 Broadway uncovered a massive 6-acre burial ground with over 15,000 remains of enslaved and free Africans. Dating back to a time between mid-1630s and 1795, the Burial Ground is the nation’s earliest and largest African burial site. The tour will illuminate the lives of enslaved and free African laborers who built the fort, mills, farms, and the town of New Amsterdam during the earliest colonial history of New York. The outside monument combines the history and symbolism of the African diaspora to commemorate the sacred ground of ancestral interment. The tour group will meet in the hotel lobby (near the floral arrangement) and promptly depart at 10:00am and walk to the bus stop on 42nd street to take the bus downtown to the monument.

Grand Central Terminal: Transportation, Architecture, and Preservation Walking Tour – TICKETS REMAINING
Sunday, August 11, 10:00am–12:00pm
Ticket Fee: $20

Grand Central Terminal is one of New York City’s most treasured architectural wonders and a symbol of the City’s transportation history and urbanization. Its vast underground structures hide far greater areas than are revealed on the street level. This tour will showcase the marvelous architecture and tell the stories of the railroad systems, the innovative engineering that accommodated the expansion of the City, and the preservation movement that saved the landmark in the 1970s. The tour group will meet in the hotel lobby (near the floral arrangement) and promptly depart at 10:00am.

Session 001: PAPERS IN THE ROUND: Youth, Aging, and the Life Course Research
Room: Grand Ballroom

Sponsor: Youth, Aging, and the Life Course
Organizers: Robyn L. Young, Dartmouth College
Perri S. Leviss, University of Massachusetts Boston

Description:

This session includes two roundtables from the YALC Division. One focuses on research broadly across the life course from the political identity of iGens to the aging of women, women + work, and the representation of adult immigrants in research. The other roundtable presents research about adolescents to emerging adulthood including issues of identity development, substance use, religiosity, and the informal work economy.

Roundtable #1 Title: Research Across the Life Course

Presider: Perri S. Leviss, University of Massachusetts Boston

Discussant: Lea T. Marzo, Georgia State University

Papers:

“A Theoretical Examination of Diverging Sibling Trajectories,” Melissa R. Maxey, University of Oklahoma

“Girls Work, Too: Structures of Work for Women and Girls in Financially Unstable White Families,” Annaliese Grant, University of Wisconsin-Madison

“Talking about Our Generation: Politics, Identity, and Conflicting Perceptions of MILLENIGENS of Color in Southern California,” Mary Yu Danico, Faye Wachs, Anthony Ocampo, Amairani Ramos and Yvonne Rivera, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

THEMATIC

Session 014:  Illuminating the Inter-Relationship Between Sociology, Social Work, and Social Problems Practice
Room: Hudson Suite

Sponsor: Sociology and Social Welfare
Organizer & Presider: Hector Luis Diaz, Western Michigan University

Description:
The purpose of this session is to illustrate how sociology and social work scholars identify and document the existence of social problems. Policy makers, in turn, attempt to respond to such social problems by formulating social policies, legislation, and by proposing and implementing pertinent interventions. The ultimate goal of this symposium is to show how sociologists, social workers and other social welfare scholars can complement each others’ efforts.

Papers:
“Collective Survival Strategies and Anti-colonial Practice in Ecosocial Work,” Finn McLafferty Bell, University of Michigan, Mary Kate Dennis, University of Manitoba and Amy Krings, Loyola University Chicago

“Epidemiological Causes and Consequences of Territorial Stigmatization,” Matthew H. McLeskey, University at Buffalo, SUNY

Session 020: The Racial Politics of Cultural Capital
Room: Fifth Avenue Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer: Bedelia Richards, University of Richmond

Facilitator & Discussant: Susan A. Dumais, Lehman College

Description:

This panel will interrogate the idea that cultural capital is exclusively a class-based phenomena, and challenge the taken for granted whiteness embedded in how the concept is defined and applied. The session is structured as a conversation among panelists who respond to a set of pre-distributed questions; drawing on their specific research expertise. The panel will open with a brief overview of the issues at stake from the facilitator as to why the conversation is an important one to have, as well as a brief introduction of each panelist. From there, the facilitator asks questions to which each panelist responds. The moderator will invite panelists to discuss the ways in which race and racism “show up” in cultural capital research, current gaps in our knowledge about the relationship between cultural capital and whiteness, and what it would require for scholars to decenter whiteness in cultural capital research.

Description:

Plan to attend the open forum of discussion where resolutions will be presented among concerned members. Each proposed resolution will be presented by the person who created the resolution (or designated representative) and the sponsoring Division’s Chairperson. Adequate time for discussion will be properly allotted. All Division Chairs should plan to participate in this session or designate a proxy from their division if unable to attend.

At the Annual Business Meeting, the proposed resolutions will be presented (including any modifications or revisions) by Vice-President William D. Cabin as a package for approval for action by the attending membership. The membership will vote on proposed resolutions that were discussed and revised on the first day of the meeting. If objections from the floor are raised to any specific resolution at the SSSP Business Meeting, that resolution can, by majority vote of those present, be separated from the package, and voted on separately. Those present can either vote to support the resolution as proposed, make changes to the resolution before voting, even without the approval of the originator(s), or decide to table the resolution for further discussion at the subsequent year’s annual meeting. The proposed resolutions are available on pages 94-103.

Session 042: FREE FILM SCREENING: America; I Too
Room: East End Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee
Organizer, Presider & Discussant: Anike L. Tourse, New Day Films

Description:

This session will feature a screening of the 20-minute short educational film “America; I Too” and will be followed by a Q&A discussion session with writer and director Anike Tourse. “America; I Too” is both a cultural and entertainment vehicle in addition to being an educational resource. The short film follows the stories of three arrested and detained undocumented immigrants who must navigate the Immigration Courts system to fight impending deportation. “America; I Too” stars Academy Award nominee Barkhad Abdi and features the music of Grammy winners Quetzal. Closed captioning is available in Spanish, Korean, simple Chinese, Haitian-Creole, Vietnamese, and Brazilian-Portuguese with audio description in Spanish and English. The bilingual short film uses embedded education legal information to inform undocumented audiences on how to prepare a plan of action in the event of arrest or incarceration and suggests ways to protect one’s human and civil rights. The film and its supplemental study guide also informs audiences interested in learning more about these overlooked groups on how to better serve those who have been traditionally marginalized. The film’s educational approach is a collaborative effort between artists, activists and community members. This approach allows underrepresented groups in front of and behind the camera to take control of their own narrative and tell their own stories through their languages in a more authentic way. There are many communication theories that speak to humans being natural storytellers but storytelling also has the impact to change people’s hearts and minds when it comes to important social issues. Adidas, Red Bull, and many other brands have done studies on this. One of which includes The Hollywood Reporter’s article in 2014 on how the television series “Will & Grace” impacted 27 percent of audience members to shift their opinions on gay marriage because of their better understanding of gay characters seen on the show.

“America; I Too” was created with these types of young liberal audiences in mind in addition to immigrants, families, students, community organizers, elected officials, attorneys, educators and librarians. The film’s purpose is to educate and create a better understanding in order to not only combat stereotypes but also redirect the immigration reform conversation in a way that makes a real impact on policy, our cultures and American society.

Session 046: Disability and Relationships Across the Life Course

Room: Riverside Suite

Sponsors: Disability

Family

Youth, Aging, and the Life Course

Organizer & Presider: J. Dalton Stevens, Syracuse University

Description:

Disability is simultaneously a relational experience, identity, complex life course process, minority status, and form of oppression. This session is comprised of papers that explore disability and social relationships across the life course including papers focused on but not limited to (1) family dynamics, (2) partnering, (3) sexuality, (4) gender, (5) friendships, (6) social networks, (7) employment, (8) disability theory, (9) identity, (10) stigma, (11) health care, (12) education, and (13) benefit program participation. This session intends to bring together a diverse array of papers focused on describing and explaining social relationships during different times in the life course experienced by people with disability. This area is historically underdeveloped, and this session addresses the gap in the disability and life course literature pertaining to barriers, facilitators, opportunities, and experiences of social relationships for those with disability.

- Sociology and Social Welfare
- Sport, Leisure, and the Body
- Teaching Social Problems
- Youth, Aging, and the Life Course

Organizers:
- John O’Connor, Central Connecticut State University
- Fiona Pearson, Central Connecticut State University

Moderator:
- Eric Blanc, New York University

Description:

Teachers across the nation have been standing up to governors, school boards, and union leaders, demanding higher wages and better working conditions. In the past year, these teacher/local struggles have focused on better learning conditions for students, including capping the expansion of charter schools within communities. We have invited teacher activists who participated in these strikes to join in a panel discussion regarding the lessons of these state-level attacks and the prospects for future mobilizations. The panel discussion will be moderated by Eric Blanc, a former public school teacher, journalist, and NYU graduate student in sociology, as well as the author of recently published Red State Revolt (Verso).

Panelists:

Session 094: Comparative and International Perspectives on the Black Middle Classes
Room: Riverside Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer & Presider: Derron Wallace, Brandeis University

Discussant: Karyn Lacy, University of Michigan

Description:

There is an urgent need for North American audiences to consider more expansive, global perspectives of the Black middle classes. This session convenes scholars researching the Black middle classes in the US, UK, South Africa, France and Nigeria in an effort to extend the literature on racialized middle class experiences. This panel offers complementary yet distinctive analyses by centering the voices of Black middle class young people, professionals in private industry, and parents in multiple class contexts—from inner-city schools, to elite public institutions, ethnic enclaves and immigrant neighborhoods, among others. Taken together, these papers push against the lingering homogenization of Blacks and showcase how the heterogeneous experiences Black ethnics vary by space and place.

Session 100: Sanctuary: Here (NYC) and Beyond
Room: Plaza Suite

Sponsor: Law and Society

Organizer, Presider & Discussant: Felicia Arriaga, Appalachian State University

Description:

The special project will allow for discussion between Donald Anthonyson, the Director of Families for Freedom (FFF) and division members, in order to better understand immigration enforcement, detention, deportation practices and policies. The hope is that division members will then be able to consider how they might take this back to their own communities. Division member(s) are also expected to bring their own experiences in this arena to have an informed discussion about various efforts throughout the country.

Mr. Anthonyson has been a member of Families for Freedom (FFF) since 2004. At FFF, Donald was previously a lead organizer, former Board member, and has led the efforts of the International Deportee Justice Campaign. He also produced for a monthly radio show, the War On Immigrants Report that aired on 99.5 FM WBAI. Donald migrated to the US in 1979 from Antigua and has been involved in various social issues ranging from police brutality (Eleanor Bumphus Justice Committee) and anti-racial responses (NYASA) to immigration.

Founded in September 2002, FFF is a New York-based multi-ethnic human rights organization by and for families facing and fighting deportation. They are immigrant prisoners (detainees), former immigrant prisoners, their loved ones, or individuals at risk of deportation. They come from dozens of countries, across continents. FFF seeks to repeal the laws that are tearing apart our homes and neighborhoods; and to build the power of immigrant communities as communities of color, to provide a guiding voice in the growing movement for immigrant rights as human rights.

FFF has evolved into an organizing center against deportation. They are a source of support, education, and campaigns for directly affected families and communities – locally and nationally.

Sponsors:
Disability
Institutional Ethnography
Labor Studies

Organizers:
Jennifer D. Brooks, Syracuse University
Doron Dorfman, Syracuse University
Alison Fisher, York University

Presider & Discussant: Jennifer D. Brooks, Syracuse University

Description:
The relationship between disability and labor is complex and multidimensional. Disability can be viewed as both a discursive category, and as a social relation that is actively organized and coordinated through relations of power, similar to race, class, and gender. Thus, disability, as a social category, shapes how individuals both produce and consume labor. Structural and individual-level barriers to the labor market participation of individuals with disabilities have led to their dramatic unemployment/underemployment rates. This lack of participation in the labor market has simultaneously resulted in and maintained the belief that individuals with disabilities are ‘unfit’ labor producers--furthering their occupational and social segregation. People with disabilities also rely on the labor produced by others (such as caregivers, personal assistants, family members, surrogate mothers, friends, partners, and others) to fully participate in social life. This type of labor is often unpaid and goes unrecognized. To examine the relationship between disability and labor, this session seeks papers that cover a wide range of topics including: the exploration of structural and individual-level barriers to labor market/economic participation, intersectionality, dilemmas related to consumption of labor, the unpaid/unrecognized nature of care work, workplace experiences (both of people with disabilities as employers and as employees), and how policies and texts* shape the experiences of people with disabilities as both labor producers and consumers. *We define text as both discourses (in the Foucauldian sense) and various other texts (collective agreements, codes of ethics, even mundane ‘texts’ such as bus schedules, computer interfaces, etc.)

Papers:

“Disabled and Poor in the Bay Area: How SSI and SSDI Beneficiaries Work around and within Current Labor Incentive Programs,” Katie Savin, University of California, Berkeley

SPECIAL Session 103: The Academic Job Market
Room: Broadway Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer & Presider: Héctor L. Delgado, University of La Verne

Description:
This session is designed to provide participants with ideas on how to improve their chances of finding an academic position. Panelists with experience (some of it very recent) looking and hiring for positions will kick off the discussion, but ample opportunity will be given to participants to share their own experiences and ask questions.

The sooner in their graduate careers that individuals begin thinking about going on the market, the better it is, since there are things that they can do in graduate school to improve their prospects. So, this session is for Society members currently looking for a position, but also for anyone who plans to be on the market in the next three-four years -- and for anyone who feels that s/he has useful information to share with others about her/his own experiences.

Panelists:

Adriana Leela Bohm, Delaware County Community College
Kristen M. Budd, Miami University
Héctor L. Delgado, University of La Verne
Elroi J. Windsor, University of West Georgia

SPECIAL Session 104: The World As It Should Be: Lessons from the 2019 Thomas C. Hood Social Action Award Winner
Room: East End Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer, Presider & Discussant: Johanna Foster, Monmouth University
Representatives from Nobody Leaves Mid-Hudson, the New York City area winner of the 2019 Thomas C. Hood Social Action Award, will discuss the organization’s mission and crucial work, as well as its strong roots in, and current ties to, the field of sociology. Nobody Leaves Mid-Hudson is a grassroots community organization that brings together people in the Hudson Valley region most directly impacted by injustice to fight around the issues that deeply affect their communities, and to challenge the systems of power that are at the root of these problems. Nobody Leaves Mid-Hudson is committed to building working class power in order to strengthen social movements, end oppression, and realize a world that puts people before profit. In recent years, the organization has led grassroots campaigns around the issues of foreclosures and evictions, energy insecurity, and immigrant rights.

Session 110: Networking Event: Interdisciplinary Collaboration for Publishing
Room: Vanderbilt Suite

Sponsor: Program Committee

Organizer & Presider: E. Brooke Kelly, University of North Carolina at Pembroke

Description:

The Networking Event: Interdisciplinary Collaboration for Publishing is designed to facilitate interaction between SSSP members from diverse disciplines at the Annual Meeting to foster interdisciplinary relationships that lead to publications. A panel of scholars with a track record of publishing and editing from a range of topic areas will discuss relevant journals for submissions, tips on actually getting articles published in those journals, and collaboration with multiple authors. After some brief general advice from the panel, graduate student members and experienced scholars will meet up and circulate among roundtables for networking opportunities. Attendees are encouraged to bring ideas for future papers and research projects, as well as active research projects and papers that could use additional support.

Panelists:

David G. Embrick, University of Connecticut
Ranita Ray, University of Nevada, Las Vegas
Barbara Katz Rothman, The Graduate Center, CUNY

Session 123: More than Market Forces: The Social Dimensions of Gentrification

Room: Riverside Suite

Sponsor: Conflict, Social Action, and Change

Organizer, Presider & Discussant: Amie Thurber, Portland State University

Description:

The social dimensions of urban redevelopment in general, and gentrification in particular, are often overlooked. Yet, spacial transformations are driven, in part, by dominant social beliefs and preferences related to what constitutes a desirable place to live. The consequences of gentrification are also deeply social, as neighborhood changes may affect where people live, work, study, socialize, shop, congregate, agitate, worship, and bury their dead. This session centers the social in exploring the causes and consequences of— and resistances to—gentrification.

Statement & Policy against Discrimination & Harassment

The following policy replaces SSSP’s anti-discrimination and harassment statement from the Operations Manual.

The Society for the Study of Social Problems is committed to the eradication of discrimination (both intentional and unintentional), harassment, intimidation, and violence directed at individuals and groups based on, but not limited to, race and ethnicity, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, age, class, nationality and immigrant status, ability, and religion. Offensive and prohibited conduct may include, but is not limited to, offensive jokes, slurs, epithets, name calling, physical assaults and threats, unwanted touching and persistent unwanted attention and invasion of personal space, intimidation, ridicule or mockery, and insults and put-downs. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that is engaged in without clear affirmative consent. Discriminatory and harassing actions are prohibited both when they are directed at specific individuals and groups and when they create a hostile environment.

Sexual harassment and sexual assault disproportionately target people subject to structural oppression: women; people of color; trans, and gender non-conforming individuals; and disabled people, although anyone can be a victim.

Whenever and wherever possible, the Society will affirm this commitment to anti-racist, anti-sexist, anti-homophobic, anti-xenophobic, and anti-Islamophobic agenda, publicly and explicitly. As an organization dedicated to social justice, the Society will take very seriously, reports, formal or informal, of harassment or discrimination in the organization and at annual and other Society meetings. To the greatest degree possible, the Society will do what it can to respond appropriately to those who violate our policies and to protect victims and potential victims, from being subjected to this type of unwanted and offensive behavior. We will make every effort to ensure that this commitment is manifest in the policies, programs, and practices of the organization, including in the public positions the SSSP takes on issues, both national and international. SSSP expressly prohibits retaliation against individuals who report harassment and will take action against those who retaliate.

This policy addresses harassment that involves SSSP members in general and includes specific guidelines for harassment that occurs at SSSP annual meetings and events. By joining SSSP and through registering for meetings, members of SSSP agree to comply with this policy.
Roles, Responsibility and Authority

Anti-Harassment Committee
Per the By-laws, the Anti-Harassment Committee shall consist of six members of the Society. Three members will be elected by the voting membership and three members will be appointed by the President, one of whom will be appointed to chair the committee. Each member will serve a three-year term with the terms staggered so that at least two members are elected each year. In addition to the elected and appointed members, the Executive Officer shall serve as an ex officio member.

The Committee reviews the policy and its enforcement on an annual basis and recommends revisions as appropriate. The Committee also selects and approves the External Consultant.

Anti-Harassment Committee Chair
Per the By-laws, the Chair should have expertise in the area of gender violence or related areas and preferably be a member of the Board of Directors.

The Chair receives and reviews reports of policy violations, meets with those considering making a report to discuss reporting options and processes and to provide support or referrals for resources, and receives the report from External Consultant once investigation is completed and shares it with the SSSP President and Executive Officer.

Ombudsperson
The Ombudsperson is external to SSSP and compensated for their time. This individual meets with those considering making a report to discuss reporting options and processes and to provide support or resources.

External Consultant
The External Consultant is not a member of SSSP, but is selected and approved by the Anti-Harassment Committee and is compensated for their time. They should have experience responding to and investigating harassment claims within organizations.

Executive Officer (EO)
The Executive Officer receives reports of policy violations, reaches out to those accused to address the violation without launching an investigation, approves recommended sanctions from the External Consultant, and serves on the Ad-hoc Appeals Committee.

SSSP President
The SSSP President responds to reports made during meetings (together with the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair and EO), approves recommended sanctions from the External Consultant, and serves on the Ad-hoc Appeals Committee.

Ad-hoc Appeals Committee
This committee is comprised of the SSSP President, Past-President, President-Elect and Executive Officer and reviews and responds to appeals made regarding the External Consultant’s report/findings/sanctions.

Advocate
The advocate is a volunteer member of SSSP who is available to support those making a report by providing information and resources.

*The Executive Officer, Anti-Harassment Committee Chair, SSSP Presidents, and others involved in reviewing and responding to reports are required to disclose any conflicts of interest.

I. General violations of the anti-harassment policy.

Reporting
Reports of policy violations, including retaliation, can be made via email at SSSPAHC@utk.edu or phone to the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair or EO.

Individuals who have experienced a violation of the anti-harassment policy have the following options:

1. Request a confidential consultation with the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair/Ombudsperson with a request for resources, information about reporting/resolution options, and other types of support.
2. Make a confidential report to the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair/Ombudsperson with a request for screening/review and recommendation for resolution [e.g. through a mediated meeting with parties, where the EO or committee chair reaches out to the accused party] with the option, but without obligation, to file a formal report.
3. Make a formal confidential report to an External Consultant with a request for an investigation/fact-finding with possible sanctioning of the accused party. This option will move the report to a formal investigation.

Support Services/Advocacy
Those requesting consultation or making a report will be provided with resources for trauma-informed support.

What to Include in a Formal Report
A complaint/report should include, to the extent possible, the following information:

1) the name and contact information of the complainant; 2) the name and contact information of the subject of the complaint; 3) a statement that other legal or institutional proceedings involving the alleged conduct have not been initiated or, if initiated, the status of such proceedings; 4) a full description of the conduct alleged to have violated the anti-harassment policy, including the sources of all information on which the allegations are based; 5) copies of any documents supporting the allegations; 6) names and contact information of potential witnesses/references.

Investigation/Fact-Finding
Reports that move to this stage will be investigated by an External Consultant with professional experience and expertise in handling harassment cases. The accused party will be notified of the charges and given an opportunity to respond. Each party’s statement will be shared with the other. Both parties may provide contact information for individuals to serve as witnesses/references.

Timeframe
Reports (other than those addressing violations occurring during the annual meeting) will be acknowledged within 48 hours and responded to within 60 days.

Resolution, Outcomes and Possible Sanctions
The consultant will keep a written record of the process and submit a written final report to the Executive Officer and SSSP President that will be shared with both parties.

Potential outcomes include the following:

1. Negative/Inconclusive Finding: In the event that the consultant's finding is inconclusive or negative, the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair will convey this to the Executive Officer and the SSSP President, who will inform both parties of the finding in writing.

2. Finding of Policy Violation: In the event that the consultant finds that harassment has occurred (and has determined the appropriate sanctions), the Anti-Harassment Committee Chair will convey the finding and the sanctions in writing in the form of a recommendation to be approved by the Executive Officer (or a staff member designated by the EO) and the SSSP President, who will inform both parties of the finding and sanctions in writing.

Based on a finding of policy violation, potential sanctions may include, but are not limited to, any of the following:

- immediate removal from a meeting or event without notice or refund
- prohibiting participation in society events
- revoking membership or removal from leadership positions
- rescinding awards
- barring from future events and/or leadership positions
- report to appropriate legal authority/home institution

Appeal
Either party may appeal the findings of the investigation within 30 days of receiving the report. Appeals will be made to an Ad-hoc Appeals Committee consisting of the SSSP President, Past President, President-Elect (chaired by the Past President), and Executive Officer. Grounds for appeal include a claim of procedural error, substantive or significant new evidence, evidence of the use of impermissible criteria, or evidence of bias in the treatment of the fact-finding and decision process.

Policy Updates and Approval
This policy and its enforcement will be reviewed by the Anti-Harassment Committee on an annual basis and updated/amended with the Board's approval as deemed necessary and appropriate.

II. Violations of the anti-harassment policy at annual meeting and other SSSP events.

As a social justice organization, the SSSP is committed to creating a safe and welcoming space at the annual meeting for the free exchange of ideas and professional development; an environment free from harassment based on, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender identity or gender expression, national origin, age, disability, health conditions, sexual orientation, religion, language, socioeconomic status, marital status, domestic status, or parental status. This includes the harassment of colleagues, students, guests, SSSP and hotel staff, vendors, exhibitors, and others present at the annual meeting. To that end, we ask you to help us make it very clear that anyone engaging in this kind of behavior is not welcomed at the annual meeting. (The Society also has a Sexual Harassment Workplace Policy, listing numerous examples of sexual harassment, in the Operations Manual, for members to consult if they wish.)

Sexual harassment and sexual assault disproportionately target people subject to structural oppression: women; people of color; sexual minorities, trans, and gender non-conforming individuals; and disabled people, although anyone can be a victim.

A particular form of sexual harassment is sexual assault, which includes actual or attempted physical attacks and any type of sexual contact or behavior that occurs without the explicit consent of the recipient.

Importantly, certain situations and circumstances escalate harassing behavior and/or language including power imbalances (e.g. graduate student/mentor, during an interview, etc.) and social events that may or may not involve alcohol consumption.

Reporting
If you witness an incident and can help without placing yourself or anyone else in danger, we encourage you to do so. If you or someone is in imminent physical danger, we urge you to alert hotel security and/or law enforcement. Otherwise, attendees are encouraged to report possible instances of harassment to the Executive Officer, Héctor L. Delgado, or Anti-Harassment Committee Chair, Sarah Jane Brubaker, in person, by phone (Héctor: 626-710-0959, Sarah Jane: 804-497-0189), or at hector.delgado49@gmail.com, sbrubaker@vcu.edu.

Those making a report regarding behavior at a meeting can request that the person violating the policy be contacted by the Executive Officer and asked to avoid contact with the individual reporting the violation, or to leave the meeting altogether. Reports received during annual meetings will be responded to within 2 hours.

Given the compressed timing of the meetings, an investigation of the report may be conducted by the Executive Office, SSSP President, and Anti-Harassment Committee Chair, so that immediate response and action are possible.

NYC Gay and Lesbian Anti-Violence Project: https://avp.org
AVP empowers lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and HIV-affected communities and allies to end all forms of violence through organizing and education, and supports survivors through counseling and advocacy. For more information call 1-212-714-1141.

Urban Resource Institute: https://urinyc.org/about-us/
Urban Resource Institute (URI) provides life-saving, empowering social services for New Yorkers who are suffering and recovering from domestic violence. For 38 years, URI has been innovating and developing new programs to improve the lives of vulnerable New Yorkers, with a particular focus on survivors of domestic violence. We help individuals and families escape abuse; safely heal; and gain the resources needed to live healthy, independent lives. We also are the only organization in New York City and one of the few nationally that extends these services to pets. Call the 24-hour National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233.

RESOLUTION 1: Expression of Gratitude

Our sincere appreciation is expressed to all of the officers, committee chairs, and members who have made this program possible and whose efforts maintain the vitality of the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP). First, we thank President Nancy J. Mezey for her outstanding leadership in developing the 69th Annual Meeting and its theme: Illuminating the SOCIAL in Social Problems. We also thank this year’s Program Committee members Yvonne M. Luna, Derron O. Wallace, and Stephani Williams, but especially the committee’s chair, E. Brooke Kelly, for putting together such an excellent program; and the Local Arrangements Committee Chair Keumjae Park and her committee Sophie Foster-Palmer, Melanie Lorek, and Nga Than. We thank the staff of the Roosevelt Hotel for our accommodations, and we particularly want to recognize the efforts made by Michelle Cromby, Convention Services Manager; Rana Tracy, Director of Convention Services; and Kevin Klein, Director of Association Sales.

The Society wishes to express its gratitude to Past President Luis A. Fernandez for his years of leadership; Vice-President William D. Cabin for managing the resolutions process; Glenn W. Muschert for his service as Secretary; and Susan M. Carlson for her service as Treasurer.

The Society also thanks Heather Dalmage, President-Elect; Daina Cheyenne Harvey, Vice-President-Elect; Board of Directors: Maralee Mayberry, Fernando I. Rivera, Yvonne A. Braun, Matthew W. Hughey, Debbie A. Potter, outgoing members Sarah Jane Brubaker, Claire M. Renzetti, student representatives of the Board Maria D. Duenas (outgoing) and Apoorva Ghosh, Kristen M. Budd, Chairperson of the Council of the Divisions; Annulla Linders and Earl Wright II, Co-Editors of Social Problems; Lauren Eastwood, outgoing Budget, Finance, and Audit Committee Chair and committee members Susan M. Carlson, Heather E. Dillaway, and Louis Edgar Esparza; Rogelio Saenz, outgoing Editorial and Publications Committee Chair and committee members Jackie Krasas, Heather MacIndoe, Loretta E. Bass, Valerie Leiter, A. Javier Treviño, Lauren Eastwood, Pamela Anne Quiroz, Annulla Linders, and Earl Wright II; and the University of Tennessee and the Department of Sociology for hosting the SSSP Administrative Office. A special thanks to our sponsors for their financial contributions to program activities: Vassar College, Department of Sociology; Michigan State University, Department of Sociology; and Monmouth University, Office of the Provost; and to the Journal of Occupational Science and Oxford University Press for their financial contributions to the conference bags.

The Society wishes to thank Administrative Officer & Meeting Manager Michele Smith Koontz, Assistant to the Administrative Officer Kelsey Arnold, Information Technology Specialist Rachel Cogburn, Graduate Research Associate & Webmaster Caitlin Mize (outgoing) and the leaders of the 22 Divisions for continuing to make the Society run and be successful in fulfilling its mission year in and year out.

Finally, the Society wishes to thank Executive Officer Héctor L. Delgado for his numerous contributions to SSSP’s success over the last decade. Words cannot express our gratitude for the countless ways in which he has given of his time, energy, and thoughtful guidance and leadership. SSSP is forever indebted to him.
RESOLUTION 2: Resolution Affirming the Principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Submitted by Louis E. Esparza

WHEREAS human rights affirm the universal dignity of each person;

WHEREAS knowledge of and support for universal human rights is essential for the maintenance of peace and the progress of social justice;

WHEREAS the Universal Declaration of Human Rights grants all human beings the right to adequate food, water, shelter, health care, education, life, liberty, nationality, marriage, social security, religion, assembly, work, property, leisure, unionization, expression, among other civil, political, and economic rights and without discrimination of any kind1;

WHEREAS the Universal Declaration of human rights was written after the violent death of well over 50,000,0002 people in World War II with the intention of averting the worst of human violence, brokered by Eleanor Roosevelt, and passed unopposed in the General Assembly of the United Nations;

WHEREAS governments, corporations, and individuals continue to violate universal human rights in the United States and abroad;

WHEREAS the violation of universal human rights leads to the degradation of the human condition;

WHEREAS the Purpose of the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) includes fostering “higher quality of life, social welfare, and positive social relations in society and the global community and to undertake any activity related thereto or necessary or desirable for the accomplishment of the foregoing purposes;

WHEREAS the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) is a member of the Human Rights Coalition of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which defends the right of all individuals to benefit from the advancements of science3;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) affirms the principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of 1948; and

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) will communicate support for the Universal Declaration of Human Rights to the leaders of both parties in the House of Representatives and the Senate and the President of the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the SSSP will stand with the nations and other public and private entities that remain steadfast to upholding the principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, posting this resolution on its website.

Attachment B: Text of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Preamble

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world,

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people,

WHEREAS it is essential, if man is not to be compelled to have recourse, as a last resort, to rebellion against tyranny and oppression, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law,

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between nations,

WHEREAS the peoples of the United Nations have in the Charter reaffirmed their faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women and have determined to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom,

WHEREAS Member States have pledged themselves to achieve, in co-operation with the United Nations, the promotion of universal respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms,

WHEREAS a common understanding of these rights and freedoms is of the greatest importance for the full realization of this pledge,

NOW, THEREFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims THIS UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS as a common standard of achievement for all peoples and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, keeping this Declaration constantly in mind, shall strive by teaching and education to promote respect for these rights and freedoms and by progressive measures, national and international, to secure their universal and effective recognition and observance, both among the peoples of Member States themselves and among the peoples of territories under their jurisdiction.

Article 1.
All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood.

Article 2.
Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status. Furthermore, no distinction shall be made on the basis of the political, jurisdictional or international status of the country or territory to which a person belongs, whether it be independent, trust, non-self-governing or under any other limitation of sovereignty.

Article 3.
Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

Article 4.
No one shall be held in slavery or servitude; slavery and the slave trade shall be prohibited in all their forms.

Article 5.
No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

Article 6.
Everyone has the right to recognition everywhere as a person before the law.

Article 7.
All are equal before the law and are entitled without any discrimination to equal protection of the law. All are entitled to equal protection against any discrimination in violation of this Declaration and against any incitement to such discrimination.

Article 8.
Everyone has the right to an effective remedy by the competent national tribunals for acts violating the fundamental rights granted him by the constitution or by law.

Article 9.
No one shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest, detention or exile.
Article 10.
Everyone is entitled in full equality to a fair and public hearing by an independent and impartial tribunal, in the determination of his rights and obligations and of any criminal charge against him.

Article 11.
(1) Everyone charged with a penal offence has the right to be presumed innocent until proved guilty according to law in a public trial at which he has had all the guarantees necessary for his defence.

(2) No one shall be held guilty of any penal offence on account of any act or omission which did not constitute a penal offence, under national or international law, at the time when it was committed. Nor shall a heavier penalty be imposed than the one that was applicable at the time the penal offence was committed.

Article 12.
No one shall be subjected to arbitrary interference with his privacy, family, home or correspondence, nor to attacks upon his honour and reputation. Everyone has the right to the protection of the law against such interference or attacks.

Article 13.
(1) Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and residence within the borders of each state.

(2) Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country.

Article 14.
(1) Everyone has the right to seek and to enjoy in other countries asylum from persecution.

(2) This right may not be invoked in the case of prosecutions genuinely arising from non-political crimes or from acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.

Article 15.
(1) Everyone has the right to a nationality.

(2) No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his nationality nor denied the right to change his nationality.

Article 16.
(1) Men and women of full age, without any limitation due to race, nationality or religion, have the right to marry and to found a family. They are entitled to equal rights as to marriage, during marriage and at its dissolution.

(2) Marriage shall be entered into only with the free and full consent of the intending spouses.

(3) The family is the natural and fundamental group unit of society and is entitled to protection by society and the State.

Article 17.
(1) Everyone has the right to own property alone as well as in association with others.

(2) No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his property.

Article 18.
Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and in public or private, to manifest his religion or belief in teaching, practice, worship and observance.
Article 19.
Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

Article 20.
(1) Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association.
(2) No one may be compelled to belong to an association.

Article 21.
(1) Everyone has the right to take part in the government of his country, directly or through freely chosen representatives.
(2) Everyone has the right of equal access to public service in his country.
(3) The will of the people shall be the basis of the authority of government; this will shall be expressed in periodic and genuine elections which shall be by universal and equal suffrage and shall be held by secret vote or by equivalent free voting procedures.

Article 22.
Everyone, as a member of society, has the right to social security and is entitled to realization, through national effort and international co-operation and in accordance with the organization and resources of each State, of the economic, social and cultural rights indispensable for his dignity and the free development of his personality.

Article 23.
(1) Everyone has the right to work, to free choice of employment, to just and favourable conditions of work and to protection against unemployment.
(2) Everyone, without any discrimination, has the right to equal pay for equal work.
(3) Everyone who works has the right to just and favourable remuneration ensuring for himself and his family an existence worthy of human dignity, and supplemented, if necessary, by other means of social protection.
(4) Everyone has the right to form and to join trade unions for the protection of his interests.

Article 24.
Everyone has the right to rest and leisure, including reasonable limitation of working hours and periodic holidays with pay.

Article 25.
(1) Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services, and the right to security in the event of unemployment, sickness, disability, widowhood, old age or other lack of livelihood in circumstances beyond his control.
(2) Motherhood and childhood are entitled to special care and assistance. All children, whether born in or out of wedlock, shall enjoy the same social protection.

Article 26.
(1) Everyone has the right to education. Education shall be free, at least in the elementary and fundamental stages. Elementary education shall be compulsory. Technical and professional education shall be made generally available and higher education shall be equally accessible to all on the basis of merit.
(2) Education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. It shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial or religious groups, and shall further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace.

(3) Parents have a prior right to choose the kind of education that shall be given to their children.

Article 27.

(1) Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.

(2) Everyone has the right to the protection of the moral and material interests resulting from any scientific, literary or artistic production of which he is the author.

Article 28.

Everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration can be fully realized.

Article 29.

(1) Everyone has duties to the community in which alone the free and full development of his personality is possible.

(2) In the exercise of his rights and freedoms, everyone shall be subject only to such limitations as are determined by law solely for the purpose of securing due recognition and respect for the rights and freedoms of others and of meeting the just requirements of morality, public order and the general welfare in a democratic society.

(3) These rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.

Article 30.

Nothing in this Declaration may be interpreted as implying for any State, group or person any right to engage in any activity or to perform any act aimed at the destruction of any of the rights and freedoms set forth herein.

RESOLUTION 3: Resolution in Support of the Green New Deal

Submitted by Todd E. Vachon

WHEREAS, climate change is an urgent crisis confronting people all over the world: extreme weather, rising sea levels, and pollution are wreaking havoc on human health, natural ecosystems, and all life on the planet; and

WHEREAS, the climate crisis exacerbates already-existing systemic injustices along racial, regional, social, and economic lines; and

WHEREAS, the climate crisis highlights growing income inequality and a decline in labor standards in the United States; and

---

WHEREAS, the climate crisis has had a disproportionate impact on “frontline communities” (including Indigenous communities, communities of color, migrant communities, deindustrialized communities, the poor, low-income workers, women, the elderly, the unhoused, people with disabilities, and youth); and

WHEREAS, the Society for the Study of Social Problems has previously resolved to support a “just transition to renewable energy with justice for workers and frontline communities”; and

WHEREAS, the Green New Deal Resolution, sponsored by Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and Senator Ed Markey, was introduced, February 6, 2019 in the U.S. Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Green New Deal Resolution is an extremely ambitious framework for a series of projects and policies to achieve the following goals, among others, by the year 2030: net-zero greenhouse gas emissions through a fair and just transition for frontline communities and workers; millions of good, high-wage jobs and ensure prosperity and economic security for all; investments in U.S. infrastructure, industry, and society to sustainably meet the challenges of the 21st century; clean air and water, climate resiliency, sustainable livelihoods, and access to nature for all for generations to come; and justice and equity for frontline communities by repairing current and historic harms; and

WHEREAS, the Green New Deal resolution calls for “transparent and inclusive consultation, collaboration, and partnership with frontline and vulnerable communities, labor unions, worker cooperatives, civil society groups, academia, and businesses,”

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Society for the Study of Social Problems wholeheartedly endorses the Green New Deal resolution and urges its swift adoption by the U.S. Congress; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Society for the Study of Social Problems reaffirms its commitment to a 100% clean and renewable energy economy, including: A massive investment in energy efficient infrastructure to ensure clean drinking water, affordable and efficient public transportation, energy efficient buildings and schools; Good jobs and union-friendly policies in the green energy economy; and Investment in good jobs in communities historically dependent on the fossil fuel industry so that no workers and no communities are left behind.

FINALLY, BE IT RESOLVED that the Society for the Study of Social Problems will communicate support for the Green New Deal Resolution to leaders of both parties in the House of Representatives and the Senate, all members of the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works, the House Committee of Natural Resources, the Director of the Environmental Protection Agency, the President of the United States of America, and all candidates for the office of President of the United States of America.

RESOLUTION 4: Resolution on BDS

Submitted by Melissa Weiner and Johnny E. Williams

WHEREAS, the vast majority of Palestinian civil society organizations have called on international civil, academic, and cultural communities to end complicity in Israel’s decades-old violations of Palestinian rights and to engage in non-violent pressure on Israel until it complies with international law and universal principles of human rights\(^1\), by meeting three demands:

1.) Ending its occupation and colonization of all Arab lands [occupied in 1967] and dismantling the Wall,
2.) Recognizing the fundamental rights of the Arab-Palestinian citizens of Israel to full equality; and
3.) Respecting, protecting and promoting the rights of Palestinian refugees to return to their homes and properties as stipulated in UN resolution 194\(^2\),

And

WHEREAS, Palestinian academics face academic freedom violations in the form of inhibitions by the State of Israel from attending conferences, completing research, traveling outside of Palestine to earn degrees, and acquiring the most recent publications in the form of journals and books\(^3\),

And

WHEREAS, the State of Israel routinely violates the academic freedom of Palestinians students through harassment on their way to school at checkpoints and in public, attacks on schools using tear gas and rubber bullets, the bombing of higher educational institutions, raids of schools and arrests of faculty and students, invasion of campuses and killing of Palestinian students, arresting and detaining students, and defunding of schools created by the UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine (UNRWA\(^4\)),

And

WHEREAS, some Israeli universities exist, in part or in full, on stolen Palestinian land in the occupied West Bank, including East Jerusalem, in violation of international law\(^5\),

And

“Not a single Israeli academic institution has petitioned the Israeli government to protect Palestinian rights to education or to cease interference with and destruction of Palestinian schools and colleges... A boycott of academic institutions is the strongest message possible that Israel cannot claim normality and ask to be considered in the fold of democratic societies while maintaining an apartheid state and a brutal occupation\(^6\).”

And

WHEREAS, Palestinians living in Israel experience limits to their academic freedom through a racially segregated education system with overcrowded, underfunded, and fewer schools, fewer kindergartens, fewer Special Education programs for their children. And

WHEREAS, Israeli academic institutions are a key part of the ideological and institutional scaffolding of Israel’s regime of occupation, colonialism, and apartheid through the production of policies, programs, and technologies that enable and sustain these forms of oppression,

And

WHEREAS, Israeli military authorities have closed Palestinian universities and destroyed cultural and academic institutions,

And

WHEREAS, scholars, students, and student groups addressing human rights violations in Palestine and Israel are routinely harassed at US colleges and universities,

And

WHEREAS, it is increasingly difficult for international academics (including US citizens) to be admitted into the occupied Palestinian territory as entry is dependent on Israeli approval and are repeatedly denied by Israeli military authorities, thereby severely compromising Palestinian universities’ ability to employ international faculty,

And

WHEREAS, US tax dollars support the military repression and oppression of Palestinians in Israel, the occupied West Bank and Gaza,

And

WHEREAS, Palestinian civil society organization have called on academic and professional organizations to engage in a boycott of Israeli universities for their complicity in Palestinian oppression,

And

WHEREAS, the SSSP mission statement calls on us “to foster higher quality of life, social welfare, and positive social relations in society and the global community and to undertake any activity related thereto or necessary or desirable for the accomplishment of the foregoing purposes” alongside “strict adherence... to the protection of the right to engage in intellectual debates of all types without fear of censorship or retaliation14;”

And

WHEREAS, “SSSP is engaged in multiple avenues of social justice research and action” and “regularly participates in calls to action on various social justice issues15;”

And

WHEREAS, SSSP protects the rights of all scholars, students and faculty, to address the human rights violations in their scholarship and speak out against it without experiencing harassment, bullying, or consequences to their employment, scholarship, or rights to free speech,

And

WHEREAS, sociologists engaged in critical race and systemic white racism scholarship recognize the institutionalized power relations and structural violence16 inherent in the occupation as diametrically opposed to full equality in academia and academic freedom,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, be it resolved, that the Society for the Study of Social Problems endorses the call for a boycott of complicit Israeli academic institutions articulated by our Palestinian colleagues17 until they end all forms of complicity in Israel’s grave human rights violations and publicly distance themselves from these violations

And

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED, that SSSP send a letter to the PACBI organization regarding our support of their resolution with ours18,

And

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED, that SSSP publicize these BDS Resolutions on the SSSP webpage,

And

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED, “recognizing that different actions may be feasible and appropriate under the many different academic and political circumstances that pertain in US institutions, SSSP will urge its members to undertake as many of the following initiatives as possible:

1. Support Palestinian academic and cultural institutions directly without requiring them to partner with Israeli counterparts as an explicit or implicit condition for such support;
2. Encourage your university and college administrations to institute funding for scholarships and fellowships for Palestinian students;
3. Refrain from participation in any form of academic and cultural cooperation, collaboration or joint projects with complicit Israeli institutions;
4. Promote divestment and disinvestment from Israel by academic institutions, and place pressure on your own institution to suspend all ties with Israeli universities, including collaborative projects, study abroad, funding and exchanges19

“Hope is a decisive element in any attempt to bring about social change in the direction of greater aliveness, awareness, and reason.” Fromm, Erich. 1968.

The founding meeting of the SSSP was held at Roosevelt College in Chicago in September of 1951, with a goal to “rescue sociology from the dehumanizing influences of abstract theorizing and fancifully complex research methods” (McClung Lee 1988, 12). Turbulence abounded in the post WWII era: in the aftermath of the Holocaust, in 1951 Special Operations were being run to rescue Jews still in dangerous places; the first transnational television broadcast was aired and reached from San Francisco to Boston; Gay bars won protection from the Supreme Court; Ella Baker ran for the New York City Council; Jacobo Arbenz was elected president of Guatemala (something the U.S. capitalist controlled United Fruit Company could not tolerate); and of course, there was McCarthyism.

Sociologists concerned about changing the world saw the need for an organization, a vehicle to mobilize their sociological knowledge and skills. The founders wanted to address various forms of injustice, including sexism and racism. Looking back to the founding, Dr. Elizabeth Briant Lee wrote in 1991, “The Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) was an organization for which the time was ripe.” (“Lifetimes in Humanist Sociology,” Clinical Sociology Review accessed at: http://digitalcommons.wayne.edu/csr/vol9/iss1/5)

We are again living in ripe times. While history is not quite repeating, much of what’s happening, like a Hollywood movie, is quite predictable. The plot is alarmingly similar: Cages, camps, control, callousness, and the breakdown of the climate, community and caring. How did we get here? The year 2020 is a year that begs us to look backwards, assessing the lessons and, through a critical lens, thinking about the work we do and the future we are building through our work. What can history, the history of our organization, help us to understand? How can our history help us to develop dreams for the future grounded in scholar activism that will help us to build futures?

We cannot stop resisting, certainly not now. But resistance alone will not create a new world with new possibilities. Resistance will lessen the suffering, for some, but without visions for new worlds, transformation is unlikely. Mobilizing our sociological imaginations we can think again about the work of SSSP and how our collective work has created the SSSP that currently exists. Let’s explore how this current moment, ripe – so so ripe, demands that we dream transformation. What are the pathways we will build to move toward our dreams? How can we build and support solidarity, political engagement, social movements and pedagogies of liberation? What can we do to create structural changes that bend toward justice? Where does our scholar activism, as we live it through SSSP, fit into our dreams of transformation, toward building new worlds?
In 2020, you are invited to come together to mobilize our sociological imaginations toward Dreaming Transformation. Let’s come together in the spirit of Dr. Elizabeth Lee and her husband, Al McClung Lee, to explore why we are doing sociology in particular ways. The Lees did not stop with the founding of SSSP; they continued to dream transformation and build pathways throughout their lives. We have that opportunity, to come together and create change.

Please join us in San Francisco in 2020 and together we can call upon our sociological imaginations to dream transformation, while building pathways to justice and humanity. The hope, the wish for a better world, and the sociological imagination are linked in our work. As members of the SSSP, let’s talk about possibilities grounded in our dreams and work.

Social problems, from poverty to drug addiction, gang violence and human displacement create real life, occupational problems. Thinking broadly about occupations, children raised in poverty relinquish hope of participating in sports, completing higher education, or obtaining sustainable employment. Addicts organise their daily occupations around accessing and using drugs. Gang members engage in violent occupations to gain status and protect the gang's territory. Immigrants have to navigate challenges to integration in their host country in occupational arenas of work, childrearing, managing health and others. In the same times and places, they need to navigate continuation of occupations associated with their home country's socio-cultural ways of doing and being. Social agencies struggle to assist people to secure decent work, a home in which to conduct their daily occupations, and nutritious food to cook for their family. People establish community gardens and design urban spaces, where neighbours come to do occupations together.

Occupational science is an emerging discipline with research interests in social problems (economic, political, cultural and influences of race, gender and more) that affect and are produced through human occupation, broadly defined as all the things humans do, not limited to work. Occupations are defined and valued differently in diverse contexts. The discipline supports social justice for all, with concerns for deprivation and marginalization in daily occupations—i.e., occupational injustice and threats to occupational rights—impacting what people actually do in everyday life, and how daily life occupations are shaped by and shape social conditions.

Authors from any field are welcome to submit to the Journal of Occupational Science, expressing diverse perspectives. This interdisciplinary journal has provided a space for over 2 decades for research focused on human occupation, with an increasing emphasis on social problems and justice. Research findings, review articles, scholarly discussions, and philosophical and historical analysis are welcome.

MART OF ARTS IN SOCIOLOGY

The Department of Sociology M.A. program is designed to prepare students for advanced graduate studies in social sciences and for professional careers in a variety of settings including federal, state, and local government agencies, not-for-profit organizations, community service groups, market research firms, and social service organizations.

The program's curriculum incorporates classical and contemporary theoretical perspectives, analysis of cutting edge empirical research, and training in quantitative and qualitative research methodologies.

UWG Graduate Studies | MA Sociology Visit westga.edu/gradstudies to apply!

The Department of Sociology anticipates searching for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position during Fall 2019 with an August 2020 position start date. We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in race/ethnicity. Successful candidates need a strong commitment to teaching (in person and online), an active research agenda, and dedication to service to the university and community.
