

2022 STUDENT PAPER COMPETITIONS AND OUTSTANDING SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

sponsored by the Society for the Study of Social Problems

NEW PAPER SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Submission deadline for the Call for Papers and the Student Paper Competitions has been extended to 11:59 p.m. (Eastern Time) on January 31, 2022.

The Divisions are pleased to announce the 2022 Student Paper Competitions and Outstanding Scholarship Awards. In order to be considered for any of the Student Paper Competitions, applicants are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers, https://www.sssp1.org/2022 Call for Papers, prior to the extended January 31, 2022 submission deadline. This will ensure that winning papers are both designated and included in the program.

Please note that students may only submit to one division and that each division has its own deadline and submission process. Papers are not eligible for presentation or division competitions or awards/scholarships/fellowships if they have been published or accepted for publication before being submitted for consideration. Papers are not eligible if they have been presented previously at SSSP or presented or accepted for presentation at other professional meetings, unless they have been revised substantially with new data, findings, or theoretical contributions.

COMMUNITY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Community Research and Development Division announces its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Paper topics can focus on various aspects of communities, including their capacity, development, renewal, and relationship with other social issues or problems. Qualitative and quantitative empirical analyses, applied research, and theoretical papers are welcome. To be eligible for submission, a paper must not be published nor accepted for publication. Papers must be student-authored; they may be authored by a single student or co-authored by more than one student, but may not be co-authored by a faculty member or other non-student. Papers must not exceed 25 double-spaced pages (including all notes, references, and tables), and should include a brief abstract. To be eligible for the award, the author(s) must make a commitment to present the paper at a session during the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. To be considered, submit (a) a copy of the manuscript, (b) a cover letter specifying that the paper is to be considered in the Community Research and Development Division Graduate Student Paper Competition, and (c) a short letter from each author's advisor certifying the person's status as a student and including some brief comments about the research. All materials must be submitted electronically to the annual meeting Call for Papers on the SSSP conference website by January 31, 2022 and also sent to the Committee Chair, Dr. Michael O. Johnston at johnstonmo@wmpenn.edu. Please note that students may only submit to one division. The winner will receive a $100 cash award, a one-year student membership to SSSP, conference registration fees, and a plaque of recognition at the conference awards ceremony.

COMMUNITY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT: COMMUNITY PARTNER PAPER AWARD

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Community Research and Development Division announces its 2022 Community Partner Paper Competition. Consistent with our division's mission, this paper award is intended to recognize rigorous academic work that has practical implications for members of marginalized communities and specifically, to celebrate community-engaged work. Paper topics can focus on various social issues and problems related to community, such as the causes and consequences of communities' exclusion or marginalization from processes and resources, the capacities and strengths of communities and community movements, and the development and changes within communities. Qualitative and quantitative empirical analyses, applied research, and theoretical papers are welcome. To be eligible for submission, a paper must not be published or accepted for publication. Papers must be coauthored with a community partner; they may be coauthored by more than one faculty member and/or student, but must include at least one community partner. Community partners are characterized by any community-based entity that is outside of the academy. Papers must not exceed 25 double-spaced pages (including all notes, references, and tables), and should include a brief abstract. To be eligible for the award, the author(s) must make a commitment to present the paper at a session during the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. To be considered, submit (a) a copy of the manuscript, (b) a cover letter specifying that the paper is to be considered in the Community Research and Development Division Community Partner Paper Competition, and (c) a brief letter from the community partner commenting on his or her role in the paper. All materials must be submitted electronically to the annual meeting Call for Papers on the SSSP conference website by January 31, 2022 and also sent to the Committee Chair, Dr. Thomas Piñeros Shields at Thomas_PinerosShields@uml.edu. The winner will receive a $100 cash award and a plaque of recognition at the Community Research and Development Division business meeting.

CONFLICT, SOCIAL ACTION, AND CHANGE

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Conflict, Social Action, and Change Division is pleased to announce its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Students are encouraged to submit theoretical or empirical papers that address original research/thinking pertaining to conflict, social action, and change. Topics for submission might include, but are not limited to the following themes; Political Conflict and Violence, Social Movement Mobilization, Gender and Sexuality, Racism and Discrimination, Poverty, Criminal Justice Reform, the Environment and Environmental Racism, COVID-19, Labor Movements, and Transnationalism and Migration. The winner will receive a $200 cash award, a one-year student membership to SSSP, conference registration fees, and a plaque commemorating their superb achievement.

Guidelines for submission are as follows: A paper must not be published or accepted for publication. Papers must be authored by a current graduate student (either solely or co-authored by more than one graduate student) and may not be co-authored by a faculty member or other nonstudent. The student may not submit the same paper to more than one division. To be considered, submit (a) a copy of the manuscript, (b) a cover letter specifying that the paper is to be considered for the Conflict, Social Action, and Change Division Graduate Student Paper Competition, and (c) a letter from each author's advisor certifying the person's status as a student and some brief comments about the research. Papers must not exceed 40 doubled-spaced pages including all notes, references, and tables. Please upload your submission to both the annual meeting Call for Papers submission site AND send an electronic copy of all requested materials to the Division Chair, Dr. Dana Moss at dmoss2@nd.edu with the subject line: "SSSP-CSAC Student Paper Competition."

CRIME AND JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Crime and Juvenile Delinquency Division (CJDD) invites submissions for its annual graduate student paper competition. Papers submitted to the CJDD Student Paper Competition may be empirical or theoretical papers covering a broad range of topics in crime and juvenile delinquency.

Award:

The CJDD winner will receive (1) a $150 cash prize on behalf of the CJDD, (2) an award plaque provided by the SSSP, (3) compensation covering membership dues and conference registration provided by the SSSP, and (4) recognition at the CJDD divisional meeting and the SSSP awards ceremony. Please note, if the paper is co-authored, there is only one cash award, one membership award, and one conference registration award. A recognition plaque will be provided for each co-author.

Eligibility requirements:

1. All authors are a graduate student at the time of submission to the graduate student paper competition; therefore, the paper must be student authored or student co-authored. The paper may not be co-authored with a faculty member.
2. The paper is not published at the time of submission to the CJDD competition.
3. You have not submitted your paper to another SSSP division student paper competition. As per SSSP rules, you may only submit your paper to one division student paper competition.

Submission guidelines:

1. Recommended length is thirty pages or less, which includes tables, charts, figures, and bibliography; longer papers will be considered but length is one criterion of evaluation. Submissions should use 12-point font, one-inch margins, and double spacing.
2. All award-winning papers will be included in the SSSP annual meeting program; therefore, all submissions to the CJDD paper competition must also be submitted through SSSP's online annual meeting Call for Papers submission portal.

To submit:

Send the paper and a cover letter confirming eligibility to CJDD Graduate Student Paper Award Committee Chair Dr. Sarah Jane Brubaker, Virginia Commonwealth University (sbrubaker@vcu.edu). Please send Microsoft Word or PDF files only. The submission deadline is January 31, 2022, but early submissions are welcome and encouraged.

3. Recognition in a CJDD special edition newsletter
4. Recognition on the SSSP's website under award winners

DISABILITY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Disability Division is pleased to announce its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Papers may be empirical or theoretical, may concern any social aspect of disability, and should not exceed 30 double-spaced pages. Current graduate students and recent graduates (who received their degrees after May 2021) may submit a paper if it was written while still a student. Co-authored papers are acceptable as long as all the listed authors are current graduate students. Double submission to other SSSP award competitions will be disqualified. Applicants must submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers process as a condition for consideration for the award, and the award recipient will be required to present the winning paper at a Disability Division sponsored session at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. The recipient will receive a monetary prize of $150, a one-year student membership in SSSP, SSSP 2022 conference registration, a plaque, and recognition at the conference awards ceremony. Send an electronic copy of your paper (in Word format) and a cover letter identifying your graduate program to: Loren Wilbers (wilbersl@uww.edu).

DRINKING AND DRUGS

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Drinking and Drugs Division invites graduate students to apply for the 2022 Bruce D. Johnson Student Paper Award. The First Place Winner will receive a $100 stipend, a plaque of recognition, student membership, conference registration, and be recognized at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. Papers under consideration must present original research (empirical and/or theoretical) related to drinking and/or drugs. To be eligible, entrants must be currently enrolled in a graduate degree program and have not yet received a Ph.D., J.D., or M.D. degree at the time of submission. Applicants must have had sole / primary responsibility for preparation of the paper. Please note, if the paper is co-authored, there is only one cash award, one membership award, and one conference registration award. Self-nominations are permitted. Recommended length is thirty pages or less, which includes tables, charts, figures, and bibliography. Submissions should use 12-point font, one-inch margins, and double spacing. The division reserves the right to identify additional prizes or to not award a first-place winner at its discretion. Applicants should send an electronic copy of the paper (that does not indicate their name) and a cover letter identifying the title of the paper, the author's contact information, and the matriculated graduate program where the applicant is a student by 1/31/22 to Dr. Aukje Lamonica (lamonicaa1@southernct.edu). Please note that in order to be considered for an award, applicants are also required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers. This will ensure that winning papers are included in the program. Please be aware that per SSSP rules a paper submission may only be made to one division student paper competition.

EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Educational Problems Division announces its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Papers must address a contemporary educational problem and may be empirical or theoretical in nature. Authors must be current graduate students. In addition to single-authored papers, co-authored papers will be considered for this award if co-authors are graduate students but not co-authored with a faculty member or colleague who is not a student. Papers are not eligible for this award if they have been published or accepted for publication before being submitted for consideration. Papers are not eligible if they have been presented previously at SSSP or presented or accepted for presentation at other professional meetings, unless they have been revised substantially with new data, findings, or theoretical contributions. Papers must not exceed 30 double-spaced pages (excluding notes, references, tables, and figures). All papers must include a 150-200 word abstract and be prepared for anonymous review with the author's name and institutional affiliation appearing only on the title page. The winner will receive a modest cash stipend, student membership in the SSSP, conference registration to the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting, and a plaque of recognition at the conference awards ceremony. Authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers process as a condition for consideration for the award. Students may only submit to one division.

All papers must also be submitted electronically (as an attachment) to the Division Chair, Dr. Myron T. Strong at mstrong2@ccbcmd.edu with subject line: SSSP-Edu. Probs. Div. Student Paper Competition. Please include your name, institutional affiliation, and contact information in the body of your e-mail. GLOBAL OUTSTANDING BOOK AWARD

Deadline: 3/1/22

The Global Division is pleased to announce its 2022 Outstanding Book Award. The award is intended to recognize published work of exceptional quality in the areas of global studies and social problems and to encourage further critical scholarship in these areas. Accordingly, books on a variety of topics and themes will be considered for the award, including but not limited to the following: alternative models of globalization; global dynamics and forms of resistance to neoliberalism; transnational social movements; human rights struggles and global activism (around gender, indigeneity, migration, peace, social justice, etc.); transnational communities and cultural politics; global cities; global environmental justice. We are particularly interested in books that makes critical contributions to our understanding of global politic/social/economic/cultural/environmental dynamics.

To be eligible for consideration, books must have been published within 3 years of the meeting (2019-2022 for this year's award) and not have been nominated for this award previously. Single or multiple-authored books will be accepted, however edited collections will not be considered. At least one of the authors must be a member of the SSSP in order to qualify for the award, although they will not be required to present a paper at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. Nominations can be made by members of the Global Division as well as by publishers; self-nominations are also welcomed. The winner will be recognized at the 2022 Global Division business meeting.

Nominees should first send a letter with full publication information and a paragraph outlining the reasons for their nomination to Dr. Nikhil Deb (ndeb@murraystate.edu). All nominating correspondence should include "SSSP Global Division Outstanding Book Award Nomination" in the e-mail subject heading. Once your nomination letter has been received, Dr. Nikhil Deb will confirm the mailing addresses to which copies of the book should be sent directly. Authors will be requested to facilitate with their publishers that both a physical and an electronic copy of the book (if available) be sent to each member of the award committee by the nomination deadline of March 1, 2022.

HEALTH, HEALTH POLICY, AND HEALTH SERVICES

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Health, Health Policy, and Health Services Division invites all graduate students to apply for this annual paper award competition. The paper should be related to the broad Division interest, including health and illness, health policy, and health services. Current graduate students and recent graduates (who received their degrees after January 2021) may submit a paper if it was written while a student. Papers based on theses or dissertations are acceptable. Co-authored papers are acceptable as long as all the listed authors were graduate students at the time the paper was written. Double submission to other SSSP award competitions will disqualify the submission. The award recipient will present a version of the winning paper at a session of the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. Thus, the paper also should be submitted to any Health Division meeting session organizer or the roundtable organizer by the January 31st deadline. The recipient will receive a monetary prize of $150, a plaque of recognition, student membership, and conference registration. The winner will be recognized at the Division Meeting as well as the SSSP Awards Ceremony. Send an electronic copy of the paper and a cover letter identifying your graduate program to: Jennifer Bulanda (bulandjr@miamioh.edu) and William Cabin (wcabin@umich.edu). The paper submission should not exceed 30 double-spaced pages (including references) and should be prepared for anonymous review (with the author specified only on the cover page). In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online submission portal for presentation at a conference session.

INSTITUTIONAL ETHNOGRAPHY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Institutional Ethnography Division solicits papers for its 2022 George W. Smith Graduate Student Paper Competition. To be considered, papers should advance institutional ethnography scholarship either methodologically or through a substantive contribution. For an overview of institutional ethnography and the purposes of the IE Division, see <https://www.sssp1.org/index.cfm/pageid/1236/m/464>. Authors must be currently enrolled graduate students or have graduated within the last 12 months. Submissions are to be 25 pages long or less, excluding notes, references and tables, and be submitted in Word-compatible and PDF formats, following the latest APA guidelines. An electronic letter from the student's supervisor attesting to the lead author's student status must accompany the submission. The recipient will receive a monetary prize of $100, a plaque of recognition, student membership, conference registration, and an opportunity to present the winning paper at the 2022 SSSP meetings. The winner of the 2022 paper will be invited to sit on the adjudicating panel for the 2023 paper submissions. Please note that any paper submitted for consideration for the George W. Smith Graduate Student Paper Award must also be submitted through the annual meeting Call for Papers to be presented at the 2022 meeting of the SSSP.

Send submission to the Review Committee Chair and IE Division Chair: Morena Tartari (Review Committee Chair) morena.tartari@uantwerpen.be and Colin Hastings (IE Division Chair) colin.hastings@mail.concordia.ca. Please be aware that a paper submission may only be submitted to one division.

INSTITUTIONAL ETHNOGRAPHY: DOROTHY E. SMITH AWARD FOR SCHOLAR-ACTIVISM

Deadline: 3/31/22

The Institutional Ethnography Division is pleased to solicit nominations for the 2022 Dorothy E. Smith Award for Scholar-Activism. This award recognizes the activities of an individual or group who has made substantial contributions to institutional ethnographic scholar activism in either a single project or some longer trajectory of work. The contributions may involve IE research conducted and used for activist ends, or it may involve activist efforts that have drawn upon or contributed to IE scholarship. The award committee invites members of the Division to send a one-page statement of the nominee to committee chairs, Suzanne Vaughan (suzanne.vaughan@asu.edu), Frank Ridzi (frankridzi@gmail.com), and Frank Wang (tywangster@gmail.com) by March 31, 2022.

LABOR STUDIES

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Labor Studies Division is soliciting graduate student papers that build on the legacy of the late Harry Braverman. Braverman's work on labor processes, his concern with the growth of large corporations, and how machinery would transform and alter work and the role of workers is as relevant today as it was when he was writing. The Braverman tradition includes work in a variety of areas, including (but not limited to): labor process studies, critical organization studies, research on the intersections of gender, race, and class at work, technical and organizational change and its impact on work culture, labor movements and resistance in the workplace, critical perspectives on labor markets and occupational transformation. Papers co-authored with faculty members will not be accepted. Single authored papers by graduate students and papers co-authored by graduate students are welcome. All papers will be evaluated by three Labor Studies Division scholars who serve on the awards committee.

To Submit: E-mail papers and a short letter of submission identifying your graduate program to the Harry Braverman Award Committee Chair Tracy Vargas, Tracy.Vargas@uncp.edu, by the January 31st deadline.

In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online system.

Please note that students may only submit to one division paper competition.

As part of that commitment the division annually awards a prize to the best student paper of the year. The Award consists of a $250 cash prize, a plaque, membership dues, and conference registration. The award will be conferred at the SSSP Annual Meeting in August 2022.

LAW AND SOCIETY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Law and Society Division announces its 2022 Lindesmith Graduate Student Paper Competition. Papers may be empirical or theoretical, and they may be on any aspect of law and society. To be eligible, a paper must have been written during 2021, and at the time of submission, it may not be published, accepted for publication, or under review for publication. Papers that have been presented at a professional meeting or accepted for presentation at a professional meeting are eligible. Papers must be student-authored; they can be single-authored or co-authored by students, but may not be co-authored by a faculty member or other non-student. Papers may be submitted to only ONE division of SSSP per year. Submissions made to multiple divisions will be disqualified. Previous winners are not eligible. Please submit in MS Word. There is a 25-page limit, including all notes, references, and tables. Submissions should use 12-size font, one-inch margins, and double spacing throughout.

Send papers and a cover letter specifying that the paper is to be considered in the SSSP Law and Society Division Lindesmith Graduate Student Paper Competition electronically to: Mr. Michael Branch, mbranch@syr.edu. In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online system. The winner will be announced in Spring 2022. The winner will receive a $75 stipend, a plaque of recognition, and is eligible to present the paper at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting in Los Angeles with SSSP membership and conference registration paid by SSSP.

LAW AND SOCIETY: WILLIAM J. CHAMBLISS LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Deadline: 1/15/22

The Law and Society Division announces the 2022 William J. Chambliss Lifetime Achievement Award. The primary purpose of this award is to recognize career-spanning excellence and achievement in the area of law and society. The committee will consider the applicant's strength of publications and overall contribution to the study of law and society. Please send electronic copies of a nomination letter and the individual's CV to: Mr. Michael Branch, mbranch@syr.edu. The winner will be announced in Spring 2022, receive a $100 award, and be recognized at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting in Los Angeles.

POVERTY, CLASS, AND INEQUALITY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Poverty, Class, and Inequality Division (PCI) would like to reward graduate student work that addresses issues related to poverty, class, and inequality. Papers should be unpublished, original empirical works of professional quality completed during students' graduate or undergraduate studies. Papers must be student authored; they can be authored by one or more students, but may not be co-authored with faculty or nonstudents. Papers should be no more than 30 pages in length, including notes, references, and tables. Self-nominations are acceptable. Students may submit to only one division. The winner will receive a plaque of recognition, one-year membership to SSSP, a waived conference registration fee to attend the 2022 meeting, and an additional cash prize.

Send papers (with author name(s) concealed for review), electronically, to the committee chair Dr. Tracy Peressini (tracy.peressini@uwaterloo.ca). Please specify that you are submitting a paper for the Poverty, Class, and Inequality Division Student Paper Competition and include a brief cover letter (if self-nominating) or nomination letter (if nominating someone else) including the student's contact information. Please send Microsoft Word or PDF files only. In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online system.

POVERTY, CLASS, AND INEQUALITY: MICHAEL HARRINGTON AWARD

Deadline: 4/1/22

The Poverty, Class, and Inequality Division (PCI) invites nominations for the 2022 Michael Harrington Award. This award will be granted to an individual, organization, faculty, or student that by their actions advances our understanding of poverty, social class, and/or inequality, and/or proposes effective and practical ways to attend to the needs of the economically marginalized and reduce class inequalities. Self-nominations are acceptable. The award will be presented at the 2022 SSSP meetings. The winner will receive a plaque at our divisional meeting, during which we will honor the work of Michael Harrington. One-page nomination letters should be sent electronically to ssppcidharrington@gmail.com. Supplemental materials may be requested.

RACIAL AND ETHNIC MINORITIES

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Racial and Ethnic Minorities Division invites graduate student papers that cover any aspect within the field of race and ethnic relations to be submitted for consideration for our Graduate Student Paper Award. Authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers process as a condition for consideration. Each paper may only be submitted to one SSSP Division Graduate Student Paper Award for consideration. Papers may be empirical or theoretical. Papers must be single authored by the student. Papers must not exceed 25 pages, including notes, tables, and references, and they must follow the most current edition of the American Sociological Association's Style Guide. Papers should be accompanied by a cover letter specifying their submission as consideration for the graduate student paper competition to the Chair of the 2022 DREM Outstanding Graduate Student Paper Award Committee, Felicia Arriaga (arriagafa@appstate.edu). Nominations must be received no later than January 31, 2022. The winner will be announced in early Summer 2022. The winner will be recognized at the SSSP Awards Ceremony at the upcoming SSSP meetings and will receive a plaque of recognition, a $150 honorarium, complimentary SSSP student membership and conference registration.

RACIAL AND ETHNIC MINORITIES: KIMBERLÉ CRENSHAW OUTSTANDING ARTICLE AWARD

Deadline: 4/15/22

The Racial and Ethnic Minorities Division is pleased to announce its call for nominations for the 2022 Kimberlé Crenshaw Outstanding Article Award. This award recognizes the author(s) of the best research article in the study of race and ethnicity published in the past three years (2018-2021 for this year's award). We are especially interested in articles written from a critical race studies lens. The nomination letter should be no more than 3 pages and should explain the scholarly significance and innovations of the research article. At least one of the authors must be a member of the SSSP in order to qualify for the award, although they will not be required to present a paper at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. The winner will be announced in early Summer 2022. Winner(s) will be recognized at the DREM business meeting and receive a certificate of recognition. To nominate a journal article, please e-mail the following: 1) a copy of the article, 2) a nomination letter, and 3) contact information for the nominee(s) (including e-mail) to the Co-Chair of the division at arriagafa@appstate.edu. Nominations must be received no later than April 15, 2022.

RACIAL AND ETHNIC MINORITIES: EDUARDO BONILLA-SILVA OUTSTANDING BOOK AWARD

Deadline: 4/15/22

The Racial and Ethnic Minorities Division is pleased to announce its call for nominations for the 2022 Eduardo Bonilla-Silva Outstanding Book Award. The award honors the significant theoretical and empirical contributions of Eduardo Bonilla-Silva to the understanding of contemporary race and racism. We are interested in any books that address issues of race or racism. We are especially interested in books that make an attempt to eradicate contemporary racism, either in the U.S. or on a global scale. Books must have been published within 3 years of the meetings (2018-2021) for this year's award. Single or multiple-authored books will be accepted. At least one of the authors must be a member of the SSSP in order to qualify for the award, although they will not be required to present the work at the 2022 Annual Meeting. The winner will be announced in early Summer 2022. Winner(s) will be recognized at our DREM business meeting and receive a certificate of recognition. Nominees should first send a letter with full publication information and a paragraph outlining the reasons for their nomination to the Co-Chair of the division at arriagafa@appstate.edu. All nominating correspondence should include "Eduardo Bonilla-Silva Award Nomination" in the e-mail subject heading. Once your nomination letter has been received, the Award Committee Chair will confirm the mailing addresses to which copies of the book should be sent directly. Nominations must be received no later than April 15, 2022.

SEXUAL BEHAVIOR, POLITICS, AND COMMUNITIES

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Sexual Behavior, Politics, and Communities Division invites papers for its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. To be eligible, a paper must meet the following criteria: 1) the paper must have been written between January 2020 and January 2022; 2) the paper may not have been submitted or accepted for publication (papers that have been presented at a professional meeting or that have been submitted for presentation at a professional meeting are eligible); 3) the paper must be authored by one or more students, and not co-authored with a faculty member or colleague who is not a student; 4) the paper must not exceed 30 pages including notes, references, and tables; 5) the paper must be double-spaced and typed using 12 point font; and 6) the paper may only be submitted to one division's graduate student paper competition. In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online system. Winners are expected to present their winning paper at the 2022 meeting. Students should submit the paper via e-mail, with no identifying information on any part of the paper, and the letter of nomination from a faculty member to: Dr. Lloyd Klein, lklein@lagcc.cuny.edu (Social Science Department, LaGuardia Community College, CUNY).

SEXUAL BEHAVIOR, POLITICS, AND COMMUNITIES: OUTSTANDING ARTICLE AWARD

Deadline: 1/15/22

The Sexual Behavior, Politics, and Communities Division (SBPC) invites papers for its Outstanding Article Award. At conferences held during even numbered years, the award will be given for an outstanding peer-reviewed article published within two years of the annual conference. At conferences held during odd-numbered years, the award will be given for an outstanding peer-reviewed book published within two years of the annual conference.

For the 2022 award, the division will consider peer-reviewed articles published between 2020-2022. Papers may be empirical and/or theoretical, and they may be on any aspect of sexuality, including sexual behavior, sexual identity, sexual politics, sex law, political activism, sexual communities, etc. The winner will receive a $200 cash award in addition to the usual bragging rights. To be eligible, the article must meet the follow criteria: 1) the article must have been published by a peer-reviewed journal between January 1, 2020 and January 1, 2022; 2) the article may be written by students or faculty, sole or co-written; 3) the article may only be submitted to one SSSP division's Outstanding Scholar competition. Winners are expected to attend the SBPC Division business meeting at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. Applicants must submit a brief letter explaining the significance of their article to the fields relevant to SBPC and a copy of their article for consideration by the judging committee to the division associate chair by January 15, 2022. Self-nominations are encouraged. Please send all submissions as an e-mail attachment to the Outstanding Article Award Chair: Dr. Janelle Pham, jpham@oglethorpe.edu (Department of Sociology, Oglethorpe University).

SOCIAL PROBLEMS THEORY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Social Problems Theory Division invites papers for its annual Student Paper Award Competition. To be eligible, papers must (a) be authored or co-authored by students, (b) make an original and innovative contribution to the theoretical understanding of social problems, (c) not have been accepted for publication, and (d) be submitted through the annual meeting Call for Papers process as a condition for consideration, preferably to a Social Problems Theory Division session. Papers co-authored with faculty are not eligible. Self-nominations are welcome. Manuscripts should be limited to fewer than 10,000 words (including references). The winner will receive membership dues, annual meeting registration, a plaque, and $200 honorarium. The winner will also be invited to present their paper at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. Please also note that students may only submit a paper for consideration to one SSSP division. A paper submitted to multiple divisions will not receive consideration for the Social Problems Theory Division Award. Please send the submission as an e-mail attachment to: Paul Joosse, Chair, Social Problems Theory Division, pjoosse@hku.hk.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS THEORY: OUTSTANDING BOOK AWARD

Deadline: 2/15/22

The Social Problems Theory Division requests nominations for its Outstanding Book Award. The Division welcomes books that critique or advance the ongoing scholarly dialogue about social problems theorizing. More information regarding the Division's vision can be accessed through our Mission Statement. Eligible books must have been published between August 1, 2019 and February 15, 2022. Single or multiple-authored books will be accepted. Authors are encouraged to nominate their own work. Nominees must be members of SSSP. Please e-mail Dr. Paul Joosse (pjoosse@hku.hk), to arrange for shipment of three copies of the nominated book and submission of a letter of nomination.

SOCIETY AND MENTAL HEALTH

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Society and Mental Health Division announces the 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Papers should involve an empirical analysis, either qualitative or quantitative, dealing with any aspect of the sociology of mental health. To be eligible, a paper must have been written during 2021 or 2022, and it may not be published or accepted for publication. Papers that have been presented at a professional meeting, submitted for presentation at a professional conference, or are under review for publication are eligible. Papers must be student-authored. They may be single authored by the student or co-authored by more than one student, but may not be co-authored by a faculty member or other nonstudent. Papers must not exceed 28 pages including all notes, references, and tables. Please note that your paper may only be submitted to one division competition. To submit your paper for consideration, send two copies to: Alex Trillo (atrillo@saintpeters.edu). Please include (1) a cover letter indicating that you are submitting your paper for the competition; and (2) a letter from your advisor that certifies your graduate-student status and offers some brief comments about your work. In addition, authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers online system. The winner will be announced at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting and will receive a $100 cash award, a plaque of recognition, conference registration, and student membership.

SOCIETY AND MENTAL HEALTH: JAMES R. GREENLEY AWARD

Deadline: 4/1/22

The Society and Mental Health Division invites nominations for the 2022 James R. Greenley Award for distinguished contributions to the sociology of mental health. With this award, the Division seeks to recognize individuals who have distinguished careers and made a significant impact on the field through their scholarship, teaching, and community involvement. Previous award winners include Bruce Link, Thomas Scheff, Walter Gove, R. Jay Turner, Bruce Dohrenwend, William Avison, Virginia Hiday, Eric Wright, Jo Phelan, Peggy Thoits, Jane McLeod, Allan V. Horowitz, Rogelio Saenz, Verna M. Keith, and Fernando Rivera. Nominations, including a letter of nomination and a copy of the nominee's CV, should be sent via e-mail to Alex Trillo (atrillo@saintpeters.edu) by April 1, 2022. The winner of the 2022 award will be notified in May and the award will be presented at the Society and Mental Health Division's annual Business Meeting.

SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL WELFARE

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Sociology and Social Welfare Division (SSWD) announces its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition for papers that advance our understanding of issues related to sociology and social welfare. While papers may explore and analyze any social welfare policy or institution along any dimension of interest, please note, our division's mission is to develop and promote an understanding of and knowledge about the social institutions, structures and processes that create and perpetuate inequality, exclusion and oppression. Qualitative and quantitative empirical analyses and theoretical papers are welcome.

To be eligible for submission, papers must be:

- 1) written between January 1, 2021 and January 31, 2022 and not yet published or submitted for scholarly review;
- 2) authored by one or more graduate students and not co-authored by any faculty or non-student colleagues;
- 3) 25 pages or less, including references and tables; and received by the deadline of January 31, 2022.

In addition to submitting the above materials, to be considered for the award, students are required to submit their papers to the 2022 SSSP conference, preferably to a Sociology and Social Welfare Division sponsored through the annual meeting Call for Papers by the deadline. The author must make a commitment to present the paper during SSSP Annual Meeting in August 2022. Submission of the same paper to other SSSP award competitions will disqualify the submission.

Send a copy of your paper as an e-mail attachment to: Dr. Caitlin Carey (caitlin.carey@ucsf.edu), Division Chair, Sociology and Social Welfare Division, University of California, San Francisco. The 2022 SSWD competition winner will receive a cash prize of $150 from the Division, one honorary plaque, payment of one-year SSSP membership dues, and 2022 conference registration.

SPORT, LEISURE, AND THE BODY

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Sport, Leisure, and the Body Division announces its 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition. Papers may be empirical and/or theoretical, and may be on any aspect of sport, leisure, and/or the body, broadly construed. The winner will receive a cash award of $150, a plaque of recognition, student membership in SSSP for 2022, and complimentary registration for the 2022 annual meeting. One honorable mention will be awarded $50. To be eligible, a paper must meet the following criteria:

1. the applicant must be a graduate student at the time of the SSSP Annual Meeting on August 5-7, 2022;
2. the applicant must be the first (lead) author on the paper;
3. the paper must not be co-authored with a faculty member or a colleague who is not a student;
4. the paper must not have been submitted to or accepted for publication (papers that have been submitted for presentation at a professional meeting are eligible);
5. the paper must not exceed 30 pages including notes, references, and tables;
6. the paper must be typed using 12-point font in either Times New Roman or Courier;
7. student papers may only be submitted to one of the SSSP division award competitions

All submitting authors are required to submit their papers through the annual meeting Call for Papers process as a condition for consideration for the award. In addition, please submit your paper electronically as a Microsoft Word or PDF file to Luis F. Nuño at lnuno3@calstatela.edu. Paper submission must be dated (via electronic time/date stamp) on or before 1/31/22.

TEACHING SOCIAL PROBLEMS

The Teaching Social Problems Division will not sponsor a 2022 Graduate Student Paper Competition.

YOUTH, AGING, AND THE LIFE COURSE

Extended Deadline: 1/31/22

The Youth, Aging, and the Life Course Division invites graduate students to submit a paper to the Graduate Student Paper Award Competition. Papers should help to advance our understanding of life course scholarship including, but not limited to, age- and aging-related social issues (including public policy) and connections between changing social structures and lived experience across the life course. Qualitative and quantitative empirical analyses and theoretical papers are welcome.

Current graduate students and recent graduates who received their degrees after January 2021 may submit a paper if it was written while a student. The paper must be either unpublished, or published after January 2021. Papers based on theses or dissertations are acceptable. Co-authored papers are also acceptable as long as all of the listed authors are current or recent graduate students (those who received their degrees after January 2021); faculty and non-graduate student co-authors are not allowed. Students may submit to only one SSSP student paper award competition; submission to multiple SSSP award competitions will disqualify the paper. The award recipient is expected to present the winning paper at the 2022 SSSP Annual Meeting. To facilitate scheduling the presentation, the (lead) author must submit the paper through the annual meeting Call for Papers process. Regular submission through the Call for Papers process ensures that the winning paper can be placed on the program. The paper must be submitted to any Youth, Aging, and the Life Course (co)sponsored session by the January 31st deadline, as well as e-mailed separately to the Award Committee Chair as indicated below. The award recipient will be publicly announced at the Awards Ceremony and receive a plaque, a monetary prize of $150, a student membership to SSSP, and complimentary SSSP conference registration for the 2022 meeting. To have a paper considered for this award, please send an electronic copy of the paper and a cover letter that includes a brief overview of the paper, identifies the graduate program and status of all authors, and certifies that the paper meets all of the criteria for the award to Julia Wolf at julia.wolf@utsa.edu by the January 31st deadline. The submission may be no longer than 10,000 words, including title page, references, and notes, and should use 12-point font, one-inch margins, and be double spaced throughout (tables may be single spaced).

YOUTH, AGING, AND THE LIFE COURSE: MAGGIE KUHN AWARD FOR SCHOLAR-ACTIVISTS

Deadline: 1/15/22

The Youth, Aging, and Life Course Division encourages members to submit nominations for the Maggie Kuhn Award for Scholar-Activists.

Maggie Kuhn was the founder of the Gray Panthers, an intergenerational social justice organization. The Maggie Kuhn award, established in 2014, is awarded to a scholar-activist who upholds the ideals of social and economic justice and peace for individuals of all ages, in both their scholarship and service. These ideals include, but are not limited to, honoring age, intergenerational work, and scholarship and/or activism that promotes a humane society by putting the needs of people over profits, responsibility over power, and democracy over institutions. The award recipient will be publicly announced at the YALC 2022 Division Meeting (held at the annual conference) and receive a monetary prize of $150 to be shared with a community organization of their choice. For more information or to nominate a scholar-activist, please e-mail Chris Wellin at cwellin@ilstu.edu.
