ANNUAL MEETING CATERING STATEMENT

In recognition of rising food and beverage costs and to promote responsible budgeting and transparent communication, the Board of Directors affirms that receptions held during the Annual Meeting are intended to offer light fare and refreshments, not full meals. Morning and afternoon breaks will likewise feature modest offerings (e.g., coffee, tea, and light snacks). This statement is provided to set appropriate expectations and help align catering decisions with budgetary realities.

The Board also approved ending the subsidizing or providing of alcoholic beverages at all receptions. A cash bar will be available.

What, if any, dietary restrictions do you have? We will do our best to accommodate requests, but we cannot guarantee accommodations.

By joining SSSP and registering for meetings, members agree to comply fully with the Annual Meeting Accessibility Statement, Liability Waiver, and the Anti-Harassment Policy in its entirety.

ANNUAL MEETING ACCESSIBILITY STATEMENT

SSSP aims to make the Annual Meeting an accessible and inclusive space. The Accessibility Committee strives to ensure that all facilities at the Annual Meeting are accessible to disabled participants to encourage and assure their full participation in the Annual Meeting. In addition, SSSP upholds an Anti-Harassment Policy to create a safe and welcoming space. We offer various travel awards to support attendance mostly by students, lower-income members, and international scholars from the Global South, as defined by the American Sociological Association, and other oppressed areas outside the U.S.

All SSSP Annual Meeting attendees will be required to follow any COVID-19 related protocols mandated by local authorities at the time of the meeting. SSSP strongly recommends that attendees receive COVID-19 vaccination in advance of participation and use masks while we are together in New York. As you navigate the meeting space, please do your best to help protect all of our colleagues. SSSP may choose to enact stricter protocols should they be warranted by public health on or before the meeting time.

Adhering to such precautions is both a political act and a statement of solidarity. Cultivating a more just and sustainable world requires a commitment to transnational solidarity and thus an awareness that an “injury to one is an injury to all.” Similarly, COVID-19 made it terribly clear that no one is safe until everyone is safe. To this end, we ask all attendees to prioritize relationality and a praxis of care by considering what it means to be accountable to themselves and to others during the conference.

Options for remote presentation will be made available for paid meeting registrants who have a disability or have a medical condition for which medical advice was given against in-person attendance. SSSP is optimistic that all remote presentation requests can be accommodated, but depending on demand and availability of Wi-Fi bandwidth. Remote presenters should be aware that Wi-Fi could potentially fail to support the presentation. Therefore, registrants are asked to only request remote presentation if indeed necessary to increase the chances that sufficient bandwidth will be available to those who need it. A request for remote presentation must be made by July 15, 2026. To request remote presentation, contact Michele Koontz, Administrative Officer & Meeting Manager, at mkoontz3@utk.edu.

The Board recommends that those who have registered for the Annual Meeting and are fearful of travelling be encouraged to submit a written copy of their paper(s) to be distributed and read at the appropriate session at the Annual Meetings. Participants interested in this option should contact the session organizer or presider to request the distribution and reading of their paper.

LIABILITY WAIVER

By registering for the Annual Meeting, I freely and voluntarily agree and acknowledge that I am undertaking participation in the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) events and activities as my own free and intentional act and I am fully aware that possible physical injury, exposure or infection with an infectious disease, including, but not limited to, COVID-19 (or its variants), might occur to me as a result of my actions or those of other attendees or participants including the Event Venue's employees and the SSSP's officers, directors, staff, or agents. I do hereby assume responsibility for my own well-being. I also agree not to allow any other individual to participate in my place. An inherent risk of exposure to COVID-19 or other infectious disease exists in any public place where people are present. COVID-19 is an extremely contagious disease that can lead to severe illness and death. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), senior citizens and individuals with underlying medical conditions are especially vulnerable. I hereby release, for myself, my heirs, and personal representatives, and do forever discharge, indemnify and hold harmless the SSSP, its directors, officers, staff, agents, members, and representatives, from any and all claims, liabilities, actions, damages, costs or expenses of any kind arising out of, in connection with, or relating to my attending or participating in the Annual Meeting including, without limitation, any illness, damages, or injury resulting from my travel to and from, and attendance at, the Annual Meeting, participation in events related to the Annual Meeting, exposure to an infectious disease (including COVID-19) or the manner in which the Annual Meeting or its related events and activities are conducted (collectively, "Claims"). I understand and agree that this Waiver includes any Claims based on the actions, errors, omissions, or negligence of the SSSP, its directors, officers, staff, agents, members, and representatives.

I further agree to abide by all laws, rules, regulations, and standards in effect during the meeting, including any safety requirements imposed by the Event Venue and the SSSP that may be deemed necessary to protect public health and safety (collectively, "Guidance"). I understand that the Guidance may continue to evolve over time. By registering, I attest that I have read this waiver, understand that I am waiving important rights, and agree to abide by its requirements.

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

As a social justice organization, the SSSP is committed to creating a safe and welcoming space at the Annual Meeting for the free exchange of ideas and professional development; an environment free from harassment based on, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender identity or gender expression, national origin, age, disability, health conditions, sexual orientation, religion, language, socioeconomic status, marital status, domestic status, or parental status. This includes the harassment of colleagues, students, guests, SSSP and hotel staff, vendors, exhibitors, and others present at the Annual Meeting. To that end, we ask you to help us to make it very clear that anyone engaging in this kind of behavior is not welcomed at the Annual Meeting.

The Society for the Study of Social Problems is committed to the eradication of discrimination (both intentional and unintentional), harassment, intimidation, and violence directed at individuals and groups based on, but not limited to, race and ethnicity, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, age, class, nationality and immigrant status, ability, and religion. Offensive and prohibited conduct may include, but is not limited to, offensive jokes, slurs, epithets, name calling, physical assaults and threats, unwanted touching and persistent unwanted attention and invasion of personal space, intimidation, ridicule or mockery, and insults and put-downs. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that is engaged in without clear affirmative consent. Discriminatory and harassing actions are prohibited both when they are directed at specific individuals and groups and when they create a hostile environment.

Sexual harassment and sexual assault disproportionately target people subject to structural oppression: women; people of color; trans, and gender non-conforming individuals; and disabled people, although anyone can be a victim.

Whenever and wherever possible, the Society will affirm this commitment to publicly and explicitly combat racism, sexism, homophobia, transphobia, xenophobia, Islamophobia, and antisemitism. As an organization dedicated to social justice, the Society will take very seriously, reports, formal or informal, of harassment or discrimination in the organization and at annual and other Society meetings. To the greatest degree possible, the Society will do what it can to respond appropriately to those who violate our policies and to protect victims and potential victims from being subjected to this type of unwanted and offensive behavior. We will make every effort to ensure that this commitment is manifest in the policies, programs, and practices of the organization, including in the public positions the SSSP takes on issues, both national and international. SSSP expressly prohibits retaliation against individuals who report harassment and will take action against those who retaliate.

This policy addresses harassment that involves SSSP members in general and includes specific guidelines for harassment that occurs at SSSP Annual Meetings, events (virtual or in-person), email and phone communications regarding SSSP business, and on SSSP social media platforms.

When posts on SSSP accounts are flagged within the platform by other SSSP members, the administrative office will take down such posts and send them to the Anti-Harassment Committee for review and follow-up, which may include the resolutions, outcomes, and possible sanctions outlined in the Anti-Harassment Policy, or other responses deemed appropriate by the Committee. To this end, we encourage SSSP members to be mindful when posting to SSSP social media accounts and consider the ways people different from them might interpret their messages.

By joining SSSP and registering for meetings, members of SSSP agree to comply with this policy.
