Call for Nominations

Associate Chair and Chair-Elect

Dear Crime and Juvenile Delinquency members,

This fall we are soliciting nominations for two positions (see below). Please consider nominating yourself or your colleague for one of them. Our leadership structure ensures that the CJDD will thrive for years to come.

(1) CJDD Associate Chair (2023-2025)

The Associate Chair assists the Chair throughout the year (e.g., reviewing the budget, providing feedback on our mission statement, providing newsletter content if requested, helping at the annual meeting, etc.). All in all, this position is not an extensive amount of work. It is an IMPORTANT position though as the Associate Chair and Chair are a team and run the division together during their term.

(2) Chair-Elect (2023-2025) / Chair (2025-2027)

The Chair-Elect shadows the current Chair at annual meetings to learn their future role as Chair.

When the Chair-Elect transitions to Chair, the Chair of our division does the following: prepares and submits the division budget, reviews and/or updates the division mission statement, writes a 'note from the chair' for our newsletters, runs the divisional business meeting at the annual meeting (e.g., plans the sessions for the next annual meeting; requests volunteers for committee work like our graduate student paper award), submits the session information for the next annual meeting, makes calls for elections (if we need to have an election), and attends the Council of Chairs meetings at the annual meeting (there are three meetings and each meeting needs a division rep; this duty could be shared/split with the Associate Chair).

GRADUATE STUDENTS: You are eligible to nominate yourself for these positions! We encourage you to do so. You are the next generation of CJDD social justice scholars.

TO ALL, please email CJDD Chair Robert L. Peralta (rp32@uakron.edu) if you would like to nominate yourself for one of these positions by January 10, 2023. We need at least TWO CJDD members nominated per position so that we may hold an election.

Job Postings

Institution: Wheaton College (MA)

Department: Sociology

Title: Professor of Practice

Description:

The Sociology Department at Wheaton College (MA) seeks applicants to fill a Professor of Practice opening. Wheaton defines the Professor of Practice as a renewable, non-tenure-track position that carries a 3:3 course load OR 2:3 with added service duties. Contract renewals will be based on favorable review of the professor's teaching, advising, and committee service/administrative work. The position does not carry research expectations.

We seek a candidate who specializes in (1) criminology/criminal justice and (2) race/ethnicity and/or transnational/global sociology. This colleague will teach 5 undergraduate courses per year and receive a course equivalency for helping to administer the newly approved program in Criminal Justice, Restorative Justice, and Criminology (CJRJC). At least 2 of those courses would cover crime-related topics (including Introduction to Criminal Justice Studies) that would contribute to CJRJC (preferably in areas rooted in social justice, such as comparative modes of justice; race, crime, and justice; and/or criminalization of immigration). The other 3 courses would contribute to the department's offerings in Sociology, both helping to staff core courses and drawing on the candidate's areas of expertise to complement our current offerings.

Additionally, the successful candidate will work in collaboration with the Coordinator of the CJRJC program to develop this new major and to advise students within that program.

Institution: University of Washington

Department: School of Social Work and Criminal Justice

Title: Associate Professor in Criminal Justice

Link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/108115>

Location: Tacoma, WA

Open Date October 14, 2022

Description:

The School of Social Work and Criminal Justice at the University of Washington Tacoma (SSWCJ at UW Tacoma) invites applications for a tenured senior-level Criminal Justice faculty position. The successful candidate will be appointed as an Associate Professor, commensurate with qualifications. The successful candidate will begin their full-time, 9-month tenured appointment on September 16, 2023. One of three campuses of the University of Washington, UW Tacoma is an urban-serving Carnegie engagement designated university that offers undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees for the diverse population of the South Puget Sound region. The campus is located in both new and historic facilities in downtown Tacoma. UW Tacoma's commitment to equity and inclusion is central to maintaining an atmosphere wherein students, staff, faculty and residents find abundant opportunities for intellectual, personal and professional growth. UW Tacoma faculty engage in research, teaching, and service and generally participate in lower division, upper division, and graduate instruction. For information about UW Tacoma, please see our website at <http://www.tacoma.uw.edu/>.

The School of Social Work and Criminal Justice affirms the tradition of promoting social, economic, and racial justice. We aim to enhance the quality of life for all, with special attention to human diversities, populations at risk, public social services, and the prevention of social problems. As a community of diverse scholars, we advance the social work and criminal justice professions through our preparation of graduates for ethical, culturally responsive, evidence-based anti-racist practice and through scholarship that advances the knowledge base of both professions. The faculty at UW Tacoma value relationships with students and each other. We are committed to fostering the success of our students and faculty, serving the greater Tacoma community through publicly engaged scholarship, and upholding excellence in teaching in the classroom and online.

UW Tacoma began offering an innovative social justice-focused Criminal Justice major in 2010 and now offers in-person and fully online degree completion options, both of which are housed within the School of Social Work and Criminal Justice. Currently, we serve approximately 140 majors and minors with prospects for growth. Our innovative curriculum is grounded in critical perspectives on crime, justice, social control, and inequality with a focus on harm reduction, rehabilitative, restorative, and transformative approaches to crime and justice. Our program seeks to foster students' development as agents of change committed to social, economic, and racial justice.
